ALL PROPOSITIONS CARRIED AT THE SPECIAL ELECTION

Substantial Majorities for Constitutional Convention, Women's Bill, Bond Interest Proposal and Bonus.

CONVENTION CALL WITHIN A YEAR

Total Vote of 304,975 on Constitution Proposal Reflects Lack of Activity in Campaign.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 11.—All four of the propositions voted upon at the special election, Aug. 4, carried by substantial majorities, the official canvass today by Secretary of State Becker disclosed.

This means that a constitutional convention must be held within a year, that women may sit in it and now are eligible to hold any office in the State; that interest on the $60,000,000 road bonds will be paid from the motor vehicle license fund, that the residue of the road fund above that required for bond interest and sinking fund may be applied to road maintenance and that Missourians who had served in the World War will be paid a bonus of $10 a month for the period between April, 1917, and Nov. 11, 1919.

Vote on Four Propositions

The vote on the four propositions was as follows: Constitutional convention—Yes, 177,845; no, 127,130. Women's amendment—Yes, 159,230; no, 145,741. Road bond interest amendment—Yes, 247,274; no, 57,776. Bonus amendment—Yes, 209,738; no, 105,232.

Sixty-one counties registered a negative vote on the constitutional convention, 59 voted against the women's proposition and 17 gave majorities against the bonus. The road bond interest amendment carried in every county.

The total vote of 304,975 on the constitutional convention was a record, a total of 1,322,809 having been cast in Missouri for President at the general election last November, and was small even as special elections go. There was little organized campaigning on any of the propositions, however, and no open fight on any of them, which in large measure accounts for the apathy with which the proceedings were viewed.

Opposition Under Cover.
Many Democratic politicians and some Republican partisans fought the constitutional convention proposition under cover, and city politicians, with few exceptions, pursued the same tactics toward allowing women the same rights as men to hold office. Success of the constitutional convention proposal is due in a measure, no doubt, to activities of the New Constitution Association.

The mandate of the voters that a new Constitution be drafted means that Gov. Hyde must call an election to choose delegates to such a body within not less than three nor more than six months, and that within that time thereafter he must call the convention, to meet here, unless a special session of the Legislature is called, no payments under the bonus act can be made until late in 1922, or early in 1924.

This is true because the Legislature must provide the machinery for issuing the $15,000,000 in bonds authorized and for making the payments, and it will not meet again in regular session before Jan. 1, 1923.

VALUATION PRINCIPLE FOR TARIFF ACCEPTED BY SENATORS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The American valuation principle for assessing tariff duties in modified form was accepted today by the Senate Finance Committee, Chairman Pearce announced. Experts are working out details which are to be presented to the committee for ratification later in the day.

MESSANGER ROBBED OF $6000

President Plans Another Cruise.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Another cruise on the Mayflower is planned by President and Mrs. Harding for the coming week-end. They expect to leave Washington late tomorrow or Saturday and return Monday morning.

Dr. George T. Harding, 76, Father of the President, Weds Nurse, Third Wife

Physician and Employee in His Office Drive From Marion, O., to Monroe, Mich., to Have Ceremony Performed.

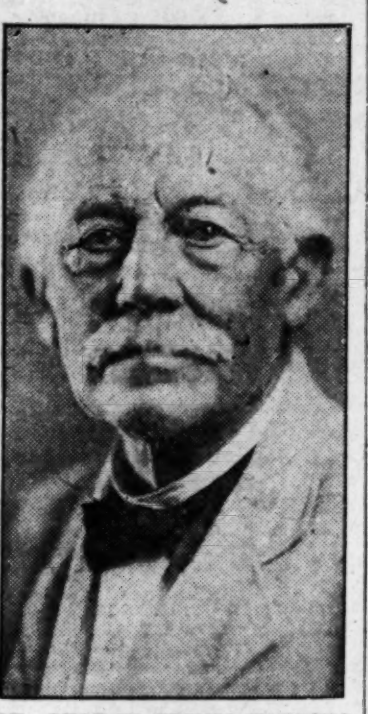

By the Associated Press.
MONROE, Mich., Aug. 11.—Dr. George T. Harding, 76 years old, father of President Harding, was married here today to Miss Alice Severns, 52, by the Rev. Frank T. Knowles, pastor of the Monroe Presbyterian Church. Miss Severns has been a nurse in the office of Dr. Harding at Marion for many years.

The couple drove here from Marion, O., in an automobile, obtained a marriage license and went to the home of the Rev. Mr. Knowles, where the ceremony was performed. Immediately after the ceremony Dr. Harding and his bride left the city. Their destination is not known. They were accompanied here by a younger couple from Marion. Their names have not been revealed.

Upon his arrival at the county courthouse here Dr. Harding obtained a marriage license and asked to be directed to a Baptist parsonage. As there is no resident Baptist minister here, he was directed to the home of the Rev. Mr. Knowles. Dr. Harding made an ineffectual attempt to withhold announcement of his marriage. He refused to talk with newspaper men and when asked by the Rev. Mr. Knowles if he was the father of the President, he declined to answer.

Bride Has Been Nurse in Dr. Harding's Office for Number of Years.

MARION, O., Aug. 11.—Dr. George T. Harding's office here was locked.

DR. GEORGE TRYON HARDING.

Dr. Harding was 75 years old the day his son, Warren G. Harding, was nominated for President by the Republican National Convention in Chicago a year ago. He is very active for a man of his years. Mrs. Harding has been dead about 12 years. Since that time, Dr. Harding has been again married and divorced. Miss Severns has been office nurse for Dr. Harding for a number of years.

JUDGE HOOK DIES AT SUMMER HOME

End Comes in Wisconsin; Was One of Most Widely Known Jurists in Country.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 11.—William C. Hook, Judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, one of the most widely known jurists in the United States, died this morning at his summer home in Sawyer, Wis.

His death was announced in a telegram to a Kansas City paper from his son, Ingraham D. Hook, a Kansas City attorney, who was called to Sawyer last night.

Judge Hook had been in ill health for some time.

Judge Hook Studied Law in Old St. Louis Law School.

Judge Hook was born in Pennsylvania in 1857. His parents located in Kansas when he was a boy, and he was brought up in Leavenworth. He studied law in the St. Louis Law School, now the law department of Washington University. He returned to Kansas to practice law and formed a partnership with Lucien Baker, former United States Senator. He was a Republican, and was active in the 1896 campaign, in which President McKinley was elected for the first time. In 1899 President McKinley appointed him to the United States District Court. Four years later President Roosevelt promoted him to the United States Circuit Court.

Decision in Railroad Cases.
Probably the most discussed action of Judge Hook as a Federal Judge was his decision in the Oklahoma railroad case, in which he sustained a motion for a temporary injunction against the enforcement of the passenger and freight rates prescribed by that State. His written opinion in this case declared that the Oklahoma State Railroad Board did not sufficiently establish, by property valuations and other data, that the rate fixed by the State was not confiscatory.

This decision was one of the chief grounds for opposition to Judge Hook when, in 1912, his name was proposed for appointment to the United States Supreme Court. It was alleged, in protests sent to President Taft, that Judge Hook did not give sufficient consideration to the constitutional rights of the States. The railway commissioners of Kentucky and other States joined with those of Oklahoma in the protest against Judge Hook, and President Taft eventually appointed Mahlon Pitney of New Jersey.

In some other railroad cases Judge Hook gave decisions unfavorable to the railroad interests. He wrote a dissenting opinion, holding that the control of the Southern Pacific by the Union Pacific was unlawful. He is survived by his widow, a son and two daughters. Burial will be at his home in Leavenworth, Kan.

COURT ASKED TO ORDER RETURN OF LARKIN PROPERTY

Shares of Stock of National Ammonia Co. Valued at $670,750 Now in Hands of Ranken School Trustees

WAS DELIVERED TO THEM LAST MARCH

Administrator Named Pending Will Contest Suit Says Action Was Without Court Order.

The Probate Court has been asked to order the return of 2988 shares of common stock of the National Ammonia Co. and 753 shares of the preferred stock from the trustees of the David Ranken Jr. School of Mechanical Trades to the estate of Eli Hillis Larkin, millionaire director of the ammonia company, who left the stock to the Ranken school and whose dual life as "Harry B. Thompson," with a woman known as Mrs. Harriet Belle Thompson, for 44 years until he died on April 16, 1920, was revealed in a deposition filed in the contest of his will last Tuesday.

The common stock was appraised at $175 a share and the preferred at $200. The lot involved thus would be worth $670,750.

Pays Big Dividends.
The common stock paid dividends of nearly $30,000 to the estate between the time of Larkin's death and the first settlement, made last December. The preferred paid several dollars a share, or several thousand dollars.

March 29 last the executors of the estate, the St. Louis Union Trust Co. and Charles Cummings Collins, whose deposition began the revelations of Larkin's life, turned the stock over to the Ranken School in accordance with the will. It represented one-half or more of the estate.

O'Neill Ryan, attorney for the nephew and niece who are contesting the will, declared today that Collins and the trust company collected about $33,000 in commissions for this transaction, which they divided equally. On April 8, 10 days later, the will contest was filed. Several months later, at the request of two beneficiaries, the Probate Court canceled notes for $16,500 held by the estate against Collins, which, it was declared, Larkin himself had intended to cancel.

Caulfield Now Administrator.
Under the law, it was necessary to remove the executors from their functions when the contest was filed and Henry S. Caulfield, now City Counselor, was appointed administrator pendente lite. His attorney, Clarence Case, has asked the Court to order the return of the stock until the affairs of the estate are finally settled, on the ground that it was turned over to the school trustees without a court order. A preliminary hearing was held on this matter a month ago.

Collins was executor of the estate of Mrs. Thompson, who died Feb. 24, 1920, and was a beneficiary to the extent of one-ninth of her estate, which amounted to nearly $50,000. He also collected about $2000 for services as executor, Ryan said.

Title to the house at 4267 Forest Park boulevard, which Larkin built in 1912-13 and where he and Mrs. Thompson lived thereafter, was in the name of Mrs. Thompson when she died. Larkin paid about $22,500 to her estate to get the house, in that transaction he necessarily appeared as "H. B. Thompson," for he desired to continue living there with the neighbors learning that he was in reality Eli Hillis Larkin, millionaire chemist.

The Larkin estate sold the house last autumn to Hector M. E. Paame, Greek Consul in St. Louis, who now lives there.

Listed Under Two Names.
How Larkin so completely segregated his home and business life for 44 years remains as much a mystery as ever. The latest city directory lists Larkin's residence as 3600 North Broadway, which is the office of the National Ammonia Co. It also lists "Harry B. Thompson" at 4267 Forest Park boulevard.

The street guide of the latest Red-Blue Book lists not only Paame's residence at the Forest Park boulevard house, but "H. B. and Hattie Thompson."

John C. Atwood, secretary-treasurer of the National Ammonia Co., said how he tried to learn Larkin's home address and telephone number for business reasons, unsuccessfully.

"There was an empty office on the third floor at 3600 North Broadway," Atwood is quoted as saying, "and Larkin came there daily and attending to his business affairs there alone. He had neither clerk nor secretary."

DEBS RECOMMENDATIONS SOON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Attorney-General Daugherty announced today he hoped to submit to President Harding by the end of the month recommendations concerning a pardon for Eugene V. Debs, imprisoned Socialist leader.

TEXT OF INVITATION TO DISARMAMENT MEETING GIVEN OUT

Communication Goes to France, Italy, Japan, Britain and China for Conference in Washington.

NAVAL ARMAMENT MAY COME UP FIRST

No Limitation Placed on Scope of Discussions; Harding Confers With Borah on Plans.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—President Harding's formal invitation to the great Powers for a conference here beginning Nov. 11 on disarmament and Far Eastern problems was made public today by Secretary Hughes.

The text of the communication to France, Italy, China, Japan and Great Britain to participate in the conference placed no limitation on the scope of the discussions to be held.

It is suggested, however, that the question of naval armaments "may naturally have first place," though it has been best not to exclude questions pertaining to other armament from the subjects to be considered by the conference.

It is quite clear, the invitation said, that "there can be no final assurance of the peace of the world" unless the desire for peace is expressed in "a practical effort to remove causes of misunderstanding." For this reason, it is added, the United States wishes that through interchange of views "it may be possible to find a solution of Pacific and Far Eastern problems."

Purpose of United States.
It is not the purpose of the United States Government, the invitation added, to define the scope of the Pacific and Far East discussions, "but rather to leave this to be the subject of suggestions to be exchanged before the meeting of the conference."

The communication to China does not include an invitation to his suggestion that there should be a conference on the subject of limitation of armament, in connection with which Pacific and Far Eastern questions should also be discussed.

Text of Invitation.
The text of the invitation follows: "The President is deeply gratified at the cordial response to his suggestion that there should be a conference on the subject of limitation of armament, in connection with which Pacific and Far Eastern questions should also be discussed."

"Productive labor is staggering under an economic burden too heavy to be borne unless the present vast public expenditures are greatly reduced. It is idle to look for stability or the assurance of social justice, or the security of peace, while wasteful and unproductive outlays deprive effort of its just reward and defeat the reasonable expectation of progress by the use of the surplus."

"Superintendent Baker tells me that all members of the board were present excepting one; that the motion was regularly made and was carried by unanimous vote."

"The State, therefore, is no more prepared to institute a suit at this moment than it was on last Thursday, when we agreed that suit without further evidence was impossible. If the investigation develops further evidence, I do not need to assure you that this department will take every possible action for the State's protection and the meeting out of justice. I shall further advise you as soon as any further evidence is obtained. Likewise, of course, I know that you will transmit to me any new evidence which comes into your possession."

ODEON MANAGEMENT NOTIFIED TO MAKE REPAIRS TO THEATER

Director of Public Safety Also Announces Standard Must Not Reopen as Theater.

The management of the Odeon, Grand and Finney avenues, was notified by Director of Public Safety McKelvey today that before the beginning of the fall theatrical and music season the wooden roof trusses over the stage must be repaired and the columns supporting the center trusses must be reinforced.

The director also gave notice that the Standard Theater at Seventh and Walnut streets must not be used as a place of amusement. In reply to this notice, he was informed by an attorney for the Butler estate that there was no intention of reopening the Standard Theater, whose bookings and good will were sold to a syndicate several months ago. The syndicate will use another theater.

PRIEST MISSING FOR WEEK MURDERED AND HIS BODY BURIED

NO BASIS FOUND BY BARRETT FOR SUIT OVER LAND DEAL

Legislative Committee Criticized Purchase for Lincoln University, in Which Agent Got $9000.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 11.—Attorney-General Barrett today informed Gov. Hyde by letter that he has no evidence upon which to base "appropriate suits" ordered by Hyde to recover $27,000 paid by the Board of Curators of Lincoln University here, for 18 acres of land to add to the grounds of the institution. A legislative investigating committee severely criticized the transaction, in which Howard Cook, Jefferson City banker, obtained $9000 of the purchase price for acting as agent for W. M. Ruwart, Jefferson City business man, former owner of the tract.

In part, Barrett wrote: "You will recall that I came to you Thursday to confer about this matter, and that at the conclusion of our conference, you and I, as lawyers, agreed that the facts obtained to date were insufficient to enable the State either to set aside the purchase or to recover from those who negotiated the State's end of the sale. We agreed that the first need was to pursue a further investigation with the view of obtaining sufficient evidence to warrant some action, and we agreed further to start such investigation, meanwhile to postpone our further conference until your return from the State fair, which you thought would be Thursday of this week."

Approval by Board.
"Acting on this agreement, I on that date employed a special investigator, as you know, and the investigation in process. The evidence so far at hand is exactly as when we last talked, except that it now appears that the legislative committee was misled in its belief that the purchase was void because never authorized by vote of the board."

"The State, therefore, is no more prepared to institute a suit at this moment than it was on last Thursday, when we agreed that suit without further evidence was impossible. If the investigation develops further evidence, I do not need to assure you that this department will take every possible action for the State's protection and the meeting out of justice. I shall further advise you as soon as any further evidence is obtained. Likewise, of course, I know that you will transmit to me any new evidence which comes into your possession."

2 CITIES WITHOUT STREET CARS

By the Associated Press.

BAY CITY, Mich., Aug. 11.—Saginaw and Bay City were without street car service this morning, operation of the Saginaw-Bay City Railway Co.'s lines having ceased at midnight after the company went into bankruptcy.

A shortage of jitney buses and a drizzling rain complicated the transport situation.

Too Many Baths Ruining Health of American People, Doctor Declares

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—By the Associated Press.
Too many baths, too much personal cleanliness, is breaking down the health of the American public, said Dr. J. Cameron Pickett, San Francisco physician, in an address before the annual convention of the National Association of Chiropractors here.

Dr. Pickett's subject was skin lesions and he declared that the rapid increase in the prevalence of these convinced him that America had carried the subject of bathing too far.

DE VALERA'S REPLY TO BRITISH PEACE OFFER DELIVERED

Answer Handed to Leader in Commons, but Will Not Be Divulged Until After Conference.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The reply of Eamon de Valera, the Irish Republican leader, to the British Government's Irish peace proposal, was handed to Austen Chamberlain, Government leader in the House of Commons, at noon today.

The tenor of the reply was withheld. The official explanation was that it would be subject first to conference by the Cabinet and that it was unlikely to be divulged for some days.

Robert C. Barton, member of the Dail Eireann, gave the reply to Chamberlain in the absence of Premier Lloyd George in France. The reply was immediately forwarded to Lloyd George in Paris.

Asked as to whether he could inform the house what De Valera's reply was, the Government leader said it was addressed to the Prime Minister and obviously must be considered by the latter first.

Chamberlain said he hoped that a statement with regard to Ireland might be made by Lloyd George Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. A dispatch to Reuters from Paris tonight says Premier Lloyd George will return to London Friday owing to the developments in the Irish situation. It is rumored in French sources, adds the message, that Eamon de Valera's reply means a grave crisis.

FINDER TELLS STRANGE STORY AND LOS ANGELES POLICE HOLD HIM

Father Patrick E. Heslin of Colma, Cal., Disappeared Night of Aug. 2, and Grave in Sand Is Discovered at Base of Cliff Near San Francisco.

BODY IS EXHUMED LATE AT NIGHT

Archbishop Had Received Anonymous Notes Demanding Ransom for Priest and Making Threat of Death.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—The body of Father Patrick E. Heslin, missing Colma priest, who disappeared from his parish of Holy Angels Catholic Church, the night of Aug. 2, was found buried at the bottom of a cliff near Salda Beach on the Pacific Ocean, about 20 miles south of San Francisco.

Father Heslin had been murdered and there was a bullet hole through his heart and through the head, latter shot having torn away part of the skull. The body was exhumed at 11 o'clock last night by a party consisting of Chief of Police O'Brien of San Francisco, Constable S. A. Landini of Colma, newspaper men and William A. Hightower, discoverer of the grave.

The party left San Francisco late last night, acting on a tip given by Hightower that he had discovered the grave and the body was exhumed by the light of a lantern.

A search today of the room occupied by Hightower, who is a hatter, revealed a rifle, pieces of bloody clothing and clippings from local newspapers showing the amount of the reward offered for the priest's return. The police said they would confront Hightower at once with their findings.

Discoverer of Grave Held.
Hightower, after his clew had proven successful, was held by the police pending further investigation. The body was buried in a cramped position, in a trench beneath an overhanging cliff. It lay parallel to the cliff and it was covered with two feet of loose sand. Hightower, according to the police, said he had seen a man, who appeared to be a foreigner on Friday night, and who, on becoming intoxicated, had made broken revelations to her. Police are searching for Dolly Mason. The foreigner, Dolly Mason told Hightower, had shown her a pistol and when she pretended to shrink from it in fear, he said:

"You do right to be afraid of this gun. It has taken human life."

Dolly Mason then asked where the man was buried. Hightower said: "He isn't alone," the foreigner is said to have replied. "I've a man watching him all the time—a man who sits and cooks flapjacks."

At times the foreigner, Dolly Mason told Hightower, expressed hatred for the Catholic Church.

Hightower, acting on the information given him by the woman, he said, conducted a personal investigation and had little difficulty in locating a signboard picturing a man trying flapjacks.

Tells of Burrowing Into Sand.
He said he then started a search, finding a bit of black rag and later a 45-caliber revolver cartridge. Hightower said he then burrowed into the sand by the face of the cliff and found a blood-stained piece of gunny sack. "That was enough for one day," Hightower told the police. "I wanted to get away from there. I didn't want to look any further."

Hightower said he pondered over the matter for several days.

REDUCTION OF $550,000,000 IN TOTAL UNDER TAX BILL AGREED ON Rewriting to Begin After Decision Is Reached on Remainder of Important Changes in Revenue Measure—Consideration by House to Begin Monday.

PLAN TO RAISE $3,110,000,000

Repeal of Levies on Transportation, Ice Cream and Clothing Voted—Exemption for Dependents Increased From $200 to $400.

Collection of Back Tax to Be Speeded Up to Meet Cutting Down of New

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The House today agreed to a bill providing for a reduction of $550,000,000 in the total under the new revenue measure. The bill also provides for a collection of back taxes to be speeded up in line with the policy of cutting down new taxes. Secretary Mellon said today.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Practically all of the important changes proposed to be made in the tax law have been agreed upon tentatively by the majority members of the House Ways and Means Committee. Some minor revisions are in contemplation and when final agreement is reached on all the changes, the physical rewriting of the law will be taken up. When they assembled today, the committee believed their labors could be completed by late Saturday and the bill made ready for consideration by the Republican conference next Monday.

The net reduction in the yearly tax total as a result of the committee's work yesterday was estimated at $550,000,000, with a total internal revenue income for the Government of $2,110,000,000.

Estimated Losses. Losses in revenue were roughly estimated as follows:

Repeal of the excess profits tax, and higher income surtax brackets, $450,000,000.

Elimination of the freight and passenger and Pullman transportation taxes, $250,000,000.

Removal of the wearing apparel, fountain and ice cream and stamp levies on toilet preparations, $100,000,000.

Increased revenue figured includes $250,000,000 from the 5 per cent increase in the income taxes of corporations and $450,000,000 from manufacturers' and retailers' excise taxes, toilet articles, proprietary medicines, bottled beverages and grape juice, $750,000,000.

New Figures on Revenue. Treasury experts have prepared, for presentation today to the committee, revised estimates on Government income and expenditures in accord with those figures agreed upon at the conference Tuesday night between President Harding, Secretary Mellon and Republican leaders of the House. These included reductions of $550,000,000 in the estimated expenditures for this year.

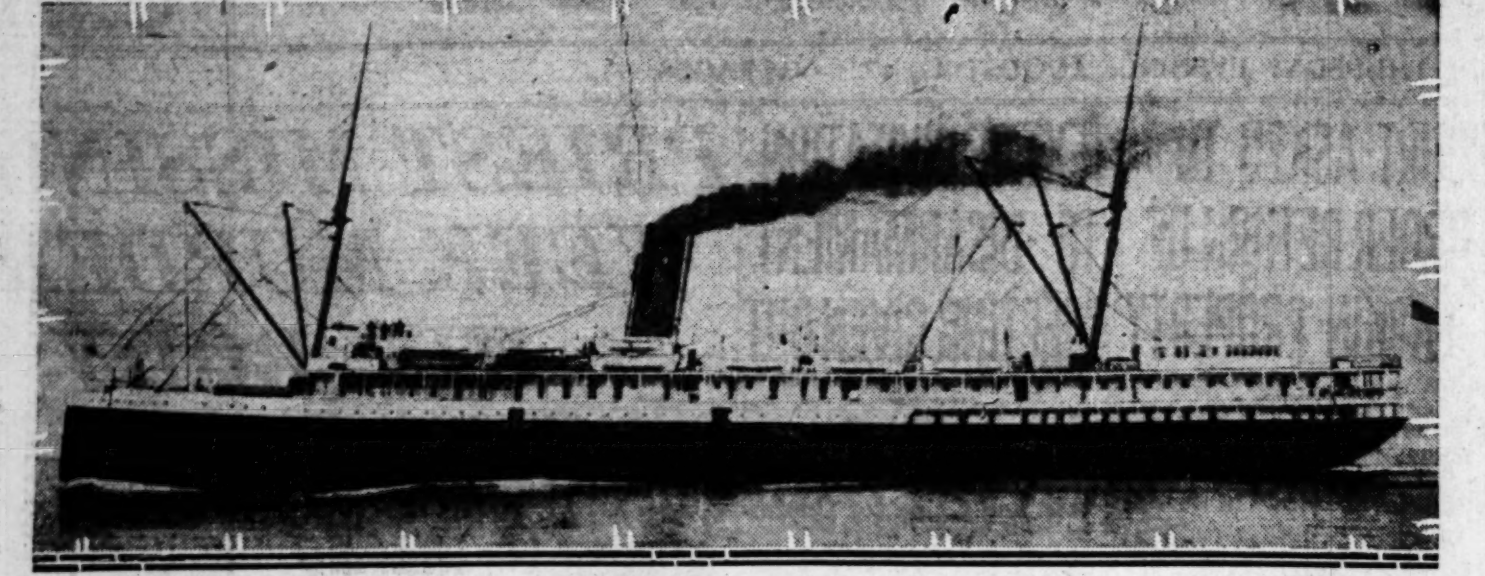

Republican leaders explained that it was not proposed to reduce actual appropriations made by Congress for this fiscal year, but to accomplish most of the proposed reductions on unexpended balances held by the various departments.

Representative Garner of Texas, the ranking Democrat on the Ways and Means Committee, issued a statement yesterday attacking the tax revision proposals as agreed upon at the White House meeting Tuesday night.

Assails Republican Plans. "Most of the taxes the Republicans propose to repeal are the rich man's taxes," he said. "I favor repeal of all the miscellaneous war taxes, but probably would continue the excess profits tax for this calendar year and possibly for next year, to take care of the war aftermath emergencies which are not a permanent charge against the Government."

"My idea of a permanent peace tax policy would be: Material increases in the inheritance taxes, continuation of the income taxes, with probably increases in the income tax on corporations and increased tobacco taxes.

Steamer Alaska Which Sank, With Life Loss, Off California Coast, After Hitting Reef

The steamer Alaska, which sank Saturday night off the California coast, after striking a reef, was one of the best-known vessels in the coastwise service between San Francisco and northern ports. The number of known dead and missing in the wreck, at last accounts, was 48.

GEN. WOOD SELECTED FOR PHILIPPINES POST

Understood to Have Expressed Willingness to Accept Offer of Governorship.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Major-General Leonard Wood was authoritatively stated today to have been selected by President Harding for Governor-General of the Philippines, and to have expressed his willingness to accept the post.

A bill designed to remove all doubt of eligibility of Gen. Wood for the governorship was introduced by Chairman Wadsworth of the Senate Military Committee, and understood to have been suggested by the administration. It provides that active army officers shall be eligible for "civil offices of the Government in administering its territorial possessions."

SHIP BOARD STEAMER SINKS

MADRID, Aug. 11.—The United States Shipping Board steamer Black Arrow sank early this morning off Cape Vilano, on the west coast of Spain. The steamer was on its way from Havana to Santander.

The crew and passengers were saved, but it was thought the ship and cargo were a total loss.

MISSING PRIEST'S BODY, WITH BULLET WOUND IN HEART, FOUND BURIED

Continued From Page One. The matter for three days and last night, after a further visit to his "find," resolved to go to the residence of Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of San Francisco and tell his story.

The archbishop was in conference at the time and Hightower told his story to a newspaper reporter, who immediately took the man to his newspaper office, where police officials were called. The man's story was then investigated.

Hightower, leading the way to the grave of Father Heslin, Chief of Police O'Brien and Constable Landini found in the pockets of the dead priest a watch. The watch had stopped at eight minutes before 10 o'clock. Other articles found on the body included a red morocco case containing the sacrament.

On Aug. 3 Archbishop Hanna received an anonymous letter demanding $5000 in small bills for the safe return of Father Heslin, and yesterday the Archbishop received another letter demanding $15,000 ransom. The first letter said the priest was being held in a bootlegging cellar in Colma and would be killed if the ransom was not forthcoming, or if any attempt was made to rescue him. The note said that if an attempt was made to enter the cellar a can of gasoline would be upset where it would come in contact with a lighted candle and that the priest was chained in the cellar.

Father Heslin was last seen alive about 9 o'clock Tuesday evening. Aug. 2, when a stranger drove up to the parochial residence at Colma in an automobile. Under pretense that he wanted the priest to deliver the last sacrament to a dying relative, he succeeded in getting Father Heslin to accompany him.

ent emergencies growing out of the war could be taken care of through the salvage of war materials and income taxes, with probably increases in the income tax on corporations and increased tobacco taxes.

"The Republicans have said they were preparing a permanent peace taxation policy. Their program, as outlined, includes many special war taxes, a policy which I believe not only is unsound economically, but absolutely indefensible."

Discovery of Drifting Currents May Explain Pacific Coast Wrecks

Winds Driving Parallel to Shore Set Up Movement Inland Contrary to Wind Direction.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—A baffling phenomenon of the ocean tendencies, just discovered, probably accounts for the loss Saturday of the steamer Alaska and 47 lives on the California coast, it has just been announced here by Col. E. Lester Jones, director of the Coast Geodetic Survey. Winds driving parallel to the Pacific Coast, he said, set up new currents which, unsuspected by navigators, drift inland, instead of exactly in wind direction.

The tendency and some of the principles governing it have been developed by observations from lightships along the Pacific Coast. Col. Jones said, and probably can be worked out further by research for the protection of navigation. The influence has probably been a factor, he declared, in the loss of a number of ships along the Pacific margin in the last 20 years.

These water drifts toward the mainland, Col. Jones pointed out, affect a vessel navigating north or south along the coast, and move it gradually nearer and nearer land, with its officers have charted their course out into safe deep waters.

If a fog or bad weather intervenes to hinder the usual observations, the vessel may be piled upon a reef, and even her wireless calls for help will be confusing, because the location her captain gives will be miles away from the actual location.

If the observation studies of the current can be continued, Col. Jones said, the loss of the Alaska might have been avoided.

TEXT OF INVITATION TO DISARMAMENT MEETING GIVEN OUT

Continued From Page One. which Pacific and Far Eastern questions will also be discussed, to be held in Washington on the eleventh day of November, 1921.

Subjects relating to the disarmament negotiations were talked over for an hour today by President Harding and Senator Borah, author of the resolution requesting the executive to call a disarmament conference. The meeting was arranged at the President's request.

The question of negotiations for a treaty of commerce and amity with Germany also entered into the discussion. Afterward Senator Borah said that, in his opinion, events were moving toward the conclusion of such a treaty.

W. E. JOHNSON CALLED TO INDIA BY TEMPERANCE WORKERS

By the Associated Press. COPENHAGEN, Aug. 11.—William E. ("Pussyfoot") Johnson has sailed from England for India. The trip of the American prohibition leader is in response to numerous invitations from various temperance organizations in India, including those among the missionary organizations and natives.

Johnson's itinerary includes Bombay, Poona, Baroda, Lahore, Amritsar, Delhi, Gwalpore, Lucknow, Allahabad, Benares and Calcutta and has been mapped out by the temperance forces in India. From India Johnson will go to Ceylon for a brief visit, in response to invitations from temperance organizations there, and then return to England.

Among those arranging Johnson's itinerary are said to be some of the most prominent persons in the social and civic life of India. The various native religions of India are what may be termed prohibition religions. While native liquors are made and sold, and drinking has increased to a great extent even among many of the people whose religious tenets are opposed to the use of intoxicants, the temperance forces of India say they must combat the operations of the drink traffic which is largely in the hands of foreigners.

Robbers Miss $70,000 in Securities. BRULE, Wis., Aug. 11.—Bandits blew the safe of the Brule State Bank and escaped in an automobile with $1480 in silver, passing by $70,000 in securities. A posse of farmers followed them 24 miles, then lost the trail.

4 MISSOURI TOURISTS IN AUTO KILLED BY TRAIN

Rock Island Passenger Comes From Behind Sidetracked Freight Near Turney, Mo.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. KANSAS CITY, Aug. 11.—Four persons were killed and two injured when a Rock Island passenger train, bound for Kansas City, struck an automobile at a railroad crossing a quarter of a mile northwest of the depot at Turney, Mo., yesterday afternoon. The occupants of the motor car were Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Shaffer and daughter, Gwendolyn, and Mr. and Mrs. George Youtzey, and son, Lonigan, all of Blake, Mo., a village six miles from Gallatin. When struck by the train, they were on a motor trip to Colorado.

Dr. Vincent James, surgeon of the Rock Island railroad, brought the injured children here.

The dead: Paul M. Shaffer, Mrs. Paul M. Shaffer, Mrs. George Youtzey. The injured: Gwendolyn Shaffer, 4 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shaffer; severe bruises, condition not dangerous.

Lonigan Youtzey, 9 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Youtzey, fracture of thigh bone and probable internal injuries; condition dangerous.

The touring car approached the Rock Island crossing a freight train was standing on a siding three car lengths north of the crossing, waiting for the southbound passenger train to pass, according to Dr. James. The driver, unable to see the oncoming train, is said to have just topped the crossing when the passenger approached. The crash followed. After the train stopped, Mrs. Youtzey was found on the cowcatcher of the locomotive clasping her little boy in her arms. She was dead. Shaffer was also on the cowcatcher. Youtzey and Shaffer were killed instantly. Mrs. Shaffer died half an hour later.

The train, which was coming from Des Moines Ia., arrived here at 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after a delay of an hour and a half.

Turney is 47 miles northeast of Kansas City.

"KHIRON" SIGNS "LEE JOHNSON"

Spirit Medium Gives Hint Name in Bond on Fraud Charge.

"Khiron the Great," a clairvoyant and spirit medium, of 6221A Easton avenue, who was arrested by a Deputy United States Marshal Tuesday afternoon, charged with using the mails to defraud, was told yesterday when he appeared before United States Commissioner Mitchell to arrange for bond, that he would have to sign his true name. "You don't look like a Hindu or Yogi to me," said Mitchell, "and I want your true name on this bond."

"All right," the medium replied, and proceeded to sign "Lee Johnson." Circulators alleged to have been sent out by the medium promised that for $1 he could make anyone happy, could marry anyone to whoever they chose, and could locate oil and mineral strata.

BRIAND TALKS WITH LLOYD GEORGE AND SUMMONS CABINET

Announcement of Meeting Tomorrow Follows Conference With British Premier on Silesian Question.

NO COUNCIL MEETING TOMORROW MORNING

Delegates to Allied Council Session Luncheon Guests of Millerand—Boundary Experts Continue Work.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Aug. 11.—The French Cabinet has been summoned to meet tomorrow morning, it was announced today. Announcement also was made that no meeting of the Supreme Council would be held tomorrow forenoon.

Premier Briand's call for the Cabinet meeting was issued immediately after a conference with Premier Lloyd George late this afternoon on the Silesian question.

Experts directed by the Council to fix the boundary between Poland and Germany in Upper Silesia, continued working on their report today.

The delegates to the meeting of the Council were guests of President Millerand at a luncheon at the presidential mansion, Chateau Rambouillet, today.

Council Yesterday Declared Neutrality in Asia Minor. Besides deciding that the allies would maintain an attitude of strict neutrality in Asia Minor, where the Greeks and Turkish Nationalists are engaged in hostilities, the council yesterday went on record as being opposed to interfering with the liberty of private firms in dealing with the belligerents.

The council agreed that a committee should be appointed to study the best means of bringing about co-operation in sending relief to famine-stricken districts of Russia, and it was stipulated that the committee should submit a report before the present meeting is over.

There appeared to be a general agreement that the forwarding of supplies to the suffering provinces of Russia need not necessarily involve recognition in any form of the Soviet Government, the question being described by Prime Minister Lloyd George as a "humanitarian, not a political matter."

Part Taken by Harvey. The American Ambassador, George Harvey, took part twice in yesterday's session of the Council, once in replying to Premier Lloyd George that he agreed that America's traditional policy gave traders the right to sell arms to either belligerent in the Near East, and again in reply to inquiries of the Premier regarding Secretary Hoover's Russian relief plans.

M. Briand, the French Premier, began the discussion of the Russian famine by saying that the Russian people, who had fought with the allies in the beginning of the war, might justly look to them now for help.

I propose that all the allies join with the United States and the other nations who are interesting themselves in the administration of relief through Red Cross societies and other private sources," said Briand.

"I heartily agree to this," exclaimed Mr. Lloyd George, "but I wish to point out," he added, "that such efforts could not reach many of the sufferers. The Red Cross cannot perform the miracle of the five loaves and the two fishes. Relief must be organized immediately on a great scale, not only for the sake of the world, because typhus, cholera, and other plagues incident to famine would cause more losses than the last war."

"I have no admiration for the so-called Government," Lloyd George continued, "but relief is impossible without its co-operation, inasmuch as it controls transportation and all the official machinery. I think for this purpose, and for this purpose only, the allies should make some arrangement with the soviet Government."

Reports of Grain in Russia. Lloyd George said he had been informed that some of the Russian provinces had surplus grain, but the peasants would not release it except in exchange for goods, which they required. He suggested that the Supreme Council consider at once whether steps could not be taken to obtain grain in this manner for the famine areas. The question was not a political, but a humanitarian one," he added.

Viscount Ishii of Japan, Signor Bonomi, the Italian Premier, and M. Jaeger, who was present for the first time in behalf of Belgium, agreed that a committee should be appointed at once to report to the present assembly the best means of allied co-operation.

Lord Curzon, who, as Viceroy of India, directed the feeding of 76,000,000 famine-stricken people, said: "I deem three things essential: First, assistance of the soviet Government; second, formation of some international relief authority; third, enlistment of men of experience."

The French point of view as indicated by Premier Briand, while favoring international co-operation, proposed that "the allies join great humanitarian societies, such as the Hoover Committee," without, how-

CROQUET FANS AT PIASA HAVE A SERIOUS PROBLEM

Youth Contends He Is Entitled to Play With the Hopeless Addicts.

When Harold Ropiquet of East St. Louis, 18 years old and large for his age, undertook to play croquet at Piassa Chautauqua Tuesday he unintentionally raised an issue which is still reverberating at the resort. The question raised, and which is still being debated with considerable fervor, is whether an 18-year-old person who pays the adult price of admission is a child and must play croquet on the children's grounds or is sufficiently adult to play on the grownups' grounds.

Croquet addicts at Chautauqua are classified as old ones for whom there is no hope and young ones who may get over it. They are strictly segregated. The aged incurables clout the balls all day and late into the night under the glare of electric light placed for their nocturnal indulgence. The youngsters, which away on their grounds whenever they feel like it.

Young Ropiquet, when the older players were temporarily exhausted, stroled out on the adult grounds and began warming up. The floor committee ordered him off and told him to go to the children's playground. Ropiquet protested that he was not a child. His father, R. W. Ropiquet, a St. Louis attorney, happened along and took his part. The old guard stood by the Floor Committee. It looked for a while like there would be a pitched battle.

Young Ropiquet rather took the wind out of the argument by mentioning that he had paid a man's price of admission. One of the older players proposed to make a refund out of his own pocket, but the young man declined. He refrained, however, from pressing the point of eligibility and withdrew.

WELL EQUIPPED DISTILLING PLANT FOUND IN RAIL

Police Visit House on Caroline Street and Find 200 Gallon Device With Fire Burning Under It.

One of the most completely equipped distilling plants that the police have uncovered at their raids was found at noon today in a house, presumably vacant, at 3013 Caroline street, which was entered by Capt. Kirk of the Southern station and a squad of policemen soon after they had received an anonymous message stating that whisky was being manufactured somewhere in the block. The police men visited another house before going to 3013 Caroline and no one was in the building at 3013 when the police were forced, but a large gas stove was running.

The still, the capacity of which was estimated at 200 gallons of alcohol, occupied much of the first floor, and a coke fire was burning beneath it.

Virtually all of the basement had been transformed into a vat, and with mash, from which pipes led to the first floor. Pumps had been installed above, so the mash could be pumped directly into the vat. Hose had been attached wherever necessary to supply water, and men could have operated the vat.

In the rear of the house, a sedan containing 15 barrels of corn of rain mash was found. The car bore the license number 21170. No whisky was found except the which was dribbling from the vat in the cellar where it stood. The vat in the cellar was 12 feet long, 12 feet wide and 12 feet deep. It contained a huge quantity of the rain mash. The house is a one-story frame structure.

ORDER OF POLICE BOARD TO HAN PAROLE SYSTEM

Judge Calvin N. Miller of Work Done in Present Bureau Abolished Sept.

WOMEN AND CHILD PRINCIPALLY AFFECTED

Says Volunteer Would Not Have Chance to Take Place in Licemen and Police.

Judge Calvin N. Miller, Court of Criminal Correction No. 1, who regularly cases in which men are charged with vagrancy and with abandonment of wives and children, said today the handling of the cases seriously affected by the Police Board in abolishing the parole investigation bureau of the Police Department. The board is to take effect Sept.

"The present Police Board is a fine record," Judge said, "and I do not think have taken this action if it derided thoroughly the need of the parole investigation bureau, from the human side."

Nature of the Work. "Fully one-half of the the parole investigation bureau work which appears to be indispensable, is done in the cases of parole on wife and child abandonment charges, in this Court paroles men whom otherwise send to the work order that they may work to contribute to the support of their families. This plan works, has the parole investigation to carry it out. Without this it will not work. Volunteers will not have the experience or the persistence to enable them to take the place of the police women who have become with this duty."

"In the month of July the board, about $150 from men, under the court's order, turned the money over to the board. It meant bread and butter for men who otherwise would have been in the streets. A present the board is looking after this court's orders, visiting once a week or oftener."

Thinks Plan Should Continue. "It may be true that the Department has the right to furnish this service. In ways, it would be better to have the bureau directly under the control. But the practical side of the matter is that the Legislature has provided a parole bureau, and until this departmental arrangement should change, it is the duty of the board to maintain it."

President Miller of the board, in announcing the decision, said that the two men and two policewomen bureau were needed for regular duty, and that the courts have arranged, while the parole bureau is in the process of replacement, he would find no legal authority maintenance of the bureau.

ORDER OF POLICE BOARD TO HAMPER PAROLE SYSTEM

Judge Calvin N. Miller Tells of Work Done by the Present Bureau to Be Abolished Sept. 15.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN PRINCIPALLY AFFECTED

Says Volunteer Workers Would Not Have Experience to Take Places of Policemen and Policewomen.

Judge Calvin N. Miller of the Court of Criminal Correction, Division No. 1, who regularly tries all cases in which men are charged with vagrancy and with abandonment of wives and children, said today that the handling of these cases would be seriously affected by the action of the Police Board in abolishing the parole investigation bureau of the Police Department. The board's action is to take effect Sept. 15.

The present Police Board is making a fine record," Judge Miller said, "and I do not think it would have taken this action if it had understood thoroughly the need for the work of the parole investigation bureau, from the human side.

Nature of the Work. Fully one-half of the work of the parole investigation bureau, and a work which appears to me to be indispensable, is done in the cases of parolees on wife and child abandonment charges, in this court. The Court parols men whom it would otherwise send to the workhouse, in order that they may work and contribute to the support of their families. This plan works, because it has the parole investigating bureau to carry it out. Without the bureau it will not work. Volunteer workers would not have the experience or the persistence to enable them to take the places of the policemen and women who have become familiar with this duty.

In the month of July the bureau collected about $1350 from these men, under the court's orders, and turned the money over to the wives. It meant bread and butter for many who otherwise would have gone hungry or would have been dependent on charity. At present the bureau is looking after 104 families under this court's orders, visiting them once a week or oftener.

Think Plan Should Continue. "It may be true that the Police Department should not be expected to furnish this service. In some ways it would be better to have the bureau directly under the Court's control. But the present situation is that, until the Legislature shall provide a parole bureau, the only way to get this necessary work done is to retain the police bureau that we have. The next Legislature should be asked to create a parole bureau under the control of the courts, and until this is done, the present arrangement should continue."

President Miller of the Police Board, in announcing the Board's action Tuesday, said the two policemen and two policewomen in the bureau were needed for regular police duty, and that the creation of the bureau, a year ago, was a temporary arrangement, which the courts had not taken the promised measures to replace. He said he could find no legal authority for maintenance of the bureau.

ST. LOUIS MAN WOUNDED BY RAILROAD AGENT IS DEAD

James Mercer, Shot in Lung After Altercation in Railway Yards, Expires of Hurt.

James Mercer, 28 years old, of 4010A St. Louis avenue, St. Louis, died at 11:30 o'clock last night at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, from a bullet wound in the back inflicted Tuesday afternoon when he was shot by O. W. Lowe, of 2224 Bond avenue, East St. Louis, a special agent employed by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co., while in the railroad yards in East St. Louis. Mercer resided with his sister and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Rattan at the St. Louis avenue address.

He had been to Louisville, Ky., and was returning to his home, in company with another man, whose identity has not been ascertained. As they alighted from a freight train Lowe accosted them. He says he placed them under arrest for trespass, they resisted, and he struck at Mercer's companion with a "blackjack."

He said Mercer took the blackjack from him and felled him by striking him on the head. Mercer ran, he said, and he shot at him, the bullet striking Mercer in the back, and penetrating his lung.

Mixed Throng at Auction in Van Blarcom Mansion

Onlookers Outnumber Bidders at Sale of Jewelry and Furnishings in Westmoreland Place Residence Recently Bought by J. C. Moon.

Members of wealthy families, most of whom concealed their identity under initials, rubbed elbows with dealers and bid against them for jewelry and furnishings at the auction sale yesterday and today of the contents of the former home at 1 Westmoreland place, of Mrs. Mary G. Van Blarcom, who died March 11.

The mansion was filled, but onlookers greatly outnumbered the bidders and the latter complained of the difficulty of getting into the rooms where the auctioneer was working. Automobiles were parked all around the house. Some were the machines of wealthy families but a good many were nondescript vehicles which are not usually parked in Westmoreland place.

It was a democratic, not to say motley, gathering inside and out. Not that anybody paid much attention to that. They were all too intent on seeing and some were interested in bidding.

Former Butler on the Scene. John Lewis, for 29 years the Van Blarcom butler, now the caretaker pending occupancy by the new owner, J. C. Moon, who recently bought the place for $100,000, surveyed the proceedings with sorrowful disapproval. Somebody asked him what he thought about it.

"Oh, lordy," he groaned, "this ain't nothing like it used to be." Lewis was given $100 a month for life in Mrs. Van Blarcom's will, but he will be the Moon butler when that family takes possession.

Dowagers are dealers, and the dowagers did not receive the consideration they thought was their due. There was a brocade bedspread, for instance, for which the bidding was spirited. It went up to $47. "Going, going, gone!" cried the auctioneer, and his "gone" was echoed with "Forty-eight," from a stout woman who had been running it up. But she was too late. The auctioneer's "gone" went to $47. "Ha, ha!" he gloated, "I beat you to it." The woman gave him a withering look. "You're no gentleman," she said.

Mops Brow With Drapery. Window drapery that sold at auction for $25 meant nothing to a woman whose perspiration was induced by the crowded condition and the lack of ventilation. Just after it had been sold and the new owner was admiring it, the perspiring woman picked up one end of it and mopped her brow with it. The new owner raised an outcry and demanded that the auctioneer stop that woman from wiping her face with the drapery.

At another juncture proceedings were interrupted while the auctioneer drove away some spectators who were standing on a bed to get a better view.

The auction opened at 10:30 a. m. and continued until 5 o'clock. It was resumed today. The sales yesterday included the jewels and all the furnishings except those in the drawing room, music room and dining room, the silver and china and the rugs and paintings. The sales aggregated $12,388.20.

Most interest centered in the jewels. These went at what were considered bargain prices. The highest bids on several pieces were so much below what they were appraised at that they were rejected. The highest price was brought by a festooned gold necklace of 21 diamonds. It was bought for $1550 by "Mrs. L."

Bids for Jewels Rejected. Bids of $1650 for a diamond corsage pin, $1250 for a pair of diamond shawl pins and $185 for a diamond and pearl turquoise brooch were rejected.

Table linen and point lace and Florentine table cover and napkins were bought by "Mrs. H. J." for $50. A mahogany bedroom set of six pieces, inlaid with brass and pearl, was bought by Moon for $400. He bought a number of other articles.

An inlaid mosaic mirror was bought by Mrs. Rice for $185. Two of the oil paintings which were listed to be sold today have been withdrawn. They are an equine study by Meisner and a landscape by Jules Dupre appraised at $600.

A 12-piece drawing room set of white mahogany, Aubusson French tapestry upholstered furniture was bought today by Moon for $1200. It was appraised at $2000. A cabinet with onyx top, for which there was spirited bidding, was sold for $250. Mrs. Van Blarcom was the widow of Jacob C. Van Blarcom, president of the National Bank of Commerce, who died in 1908. Upon her death the estate, inventoried at $270,650, was left in trust to her only son, Frederick Van Blarcom, who is an invalid. At his death the estate will go to Washington University.

KENNEDY MURDER MYSTERY GOING TO GRAND JURY TODAY

Evidence, Involving Mrs. Obenchain and Burch, in Connection With Case, May Not All Be Presented.

WIRE FOR HER FORMER HUSBAND

Los Angeles Clerk Tells of Sale of Shells; Black Leather Bag Sent to Woman Examined.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—Investigation of the mysterious slaying last Friday night of J. Belton Kennedy, broker, at his summer cottage in Beverly Glen, near here, is scheduled to be begun by a County grand jury here this afternoon.

It is understood that indictments will be requested of the grand jury as soon as the authorities think sufficient evidence has been placed before the jurors to warrant the request.

The evidence in the case, involving Madeleine Obenchain, divorced wife of a Chicago attorney, who was Kennedy's companion the night of the slaying, and Arthur C. Burch, her former college mate and acquaintance of Kennedy, both held in jail, in connection with the investigation, may not all be presented, it is indicated.

Automobile Liverrman. The witnesses named include: Mrs. M. Louise Wilson, a manicurist, said to have been a confidante of Mrs. Obenchain.

John D. Kennedy, father of the slain man, who testified at the inquest Mrs. Obenchain had begged his son to marry her.

T. M. Haley, manager of a hotel where Burch occupied a room for two weeks prior to the slaying, the window of which was nearly opposite Kennedy's office.

Dick Parsons, proprietor of garage from which the District Attorney alleges Burch rented a car Friday night.

Parsons, who supplied Burch with a car several times before Kennedy's death, told the officers yesterday that Burch had a woman companion on some of his trips. Mrs. Obenchain was asked whether she was Burch's companion on any of the rides, but declined to discuss the matter.

Search for the shotgun used in the slaying, conducted for several days, has been unavailing, although search has covered territory from the mountain glen to the ocean and a considerable distance under the water near the mouth of Santa Monica canyon.

A feature of late developments is the purported visit to the District Attorney's office yesterday of a young hardware clerk of this city, who is understood to have sold shotgun shells to a stranger in his store about 10 days ago.

Assistant District Attorney Keyes, with whom the man was closeted, declined to say who the clerk was or what information he had contributed to the investigation.

All questions asked about the hardware clerk with: "I cannot say anything about that."

Large Black Leather Bag

A large black leather bag sent from San Francisco yesterday to Mrs. Obenchain, in care of the hotel at which she is staying, has been detained by the authorities, yielding nothing of value to the investigation, it is said.

Burch was taken to the District Attorney for a brief conference with Mrs. Obenchain's mother and sister yesterday. The funeral of Kennedy was held yesterday from the chapel of an undertaking firm here.

Friends and relatives of both prisoners have rallied to their support. Mrs. Obenchain's mother and sister have visited her frequently and have procured attorneys for her. Burch's parents have telegraphed assurances of support and also have arranged for counsel. His parents, who live in Evanston, Ill., are reported to have started west.

PRIZES AWARDED FOR POSTERS

Centennial Association Selects Designs by Harry F. Taylor and Edward W. J. Klein.

The St. Louis Missouri Centennial Association today announced the award of prizes for posters which will be used in advertising the Centennial celebration in St. Louis in October. First prize of $150 was won by Harry F. Taylor of 6274 Cates avenue, who designed the poster which has been on display in the Famous-Barr store, depicting a Colonial figure dreaming of the progress of 100 years. Edward W. J. Klein of 3526A McKean avenue won second prize for his sketch of St. Louis on an airplane. This has been displayed at the Noonan-Kocian store.

The award of money prizes was made possible by donations from D. R. Francis, former Ambassador to Russia; the Chamber of Commerce and the St. Louis Convention, Publicity and Tourist Bureau.

ST. LOUISAN TO BE HANGED TOMORROW TAKEN TO UNION

Sheriff of Franklin County and a Deputy Leave for Scene of Execution With Charles Jacoy.

DEFINITE HOUR OF EXECUTION NOT SET

Prisoner Maintains Innocence of Murder at Berger, Mo., and Says Conviction Was by "Kangaroo Court."

Charles Jacoy, 23 years old, who is to be hanged at Union, Mo., 60 miles west of St. Louis, tomorrow, for complicity in the murder of Benjamin Schobe, a Berger (Mo.) garage man, on the highway near Berger, on Nov. 20, 1920, was taken from the city jail to Union this morning by Sheriff Louis H. Gehlert of Franklin County and a deputy. The party went on a Rock Island train.

Jacoy insisted to a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday that he was innocent of the crime. He said his conviction was in a "kangaroo court in the country," where, he declared, the only evidence against him was that his clothes were similar to those of a man supposed to have been implicated. He said he was on his way from St. Louis to Kansas City when arrested in Hermann, Mo.

Jacoy's mother spent most of the day yesterday in the jail with her son. A Catholic priest accompanied him to Union today. Jacoy and John W. Carroll, 24, of Fairchance, Pa., who also was sentenced to die for murder, have been kept in the same cell of the St. Louis jail since their conviction last winter, because it was considered safer than the Union jail. Gov. Hyde granted Carroll a 30-day reprieve, until Sept. 12, at the request of the St. Louis American Legion and others desiring an inquiry as to his sanity.

Sheriff Gehlert, who will be in charge of the execution, said that Jacoy would be hanged between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. tomorrow, the legal hours, but that the exact time was undecided. A scaffold has been erected within an inclosure in the back yard of the Franklin County Jail. Sheriff Gehlert and his assistants, L. V. Stuberger of Union and Dr. Duckworth of St. Clair and 12 men of the county will be admitted to the inclosure.

At the time of the murder Jacoy was a grocery clerk in St. Louis and resided at 1133 St. Ange avenue.

GIRL IS SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL FROM MOTOR CYCLE

A girl known only as "Marie," a condition at St. Luke's Hospital with a fractured skull and internal injuries as the result of being thrown from a motorcycle driven by Millage Hawthorne, 21, of 3840 Lindell boulevard, a bookkeeper, when the machine skidded and veered around the corner of the Ferguson road on the Olive street road at 1 a. m. today. Hawthorne was only slightly injured.

He told the police he had met the girl last night at Tenth and Olive streets, had invited her for a ride. They were returning from the county, he said, when he swerved to avoid an automobile and his motorcycle turned over.

Joseph J. John of the Alamo Hotel took the two to the hospital. The girl was unconscious. Hawthorne, after being treated for a scalp wound and bruises, went to his home. He said the girl told him her name was an railroad gave him no further information. She is described as about 5 feet 10 inches tall, with dark hair and blue eyes, and wore a brown waist and black skirt.

RAILROADS EARNED $51,778,000 IN JUNE, REPORT TO I. C. C. SAYS

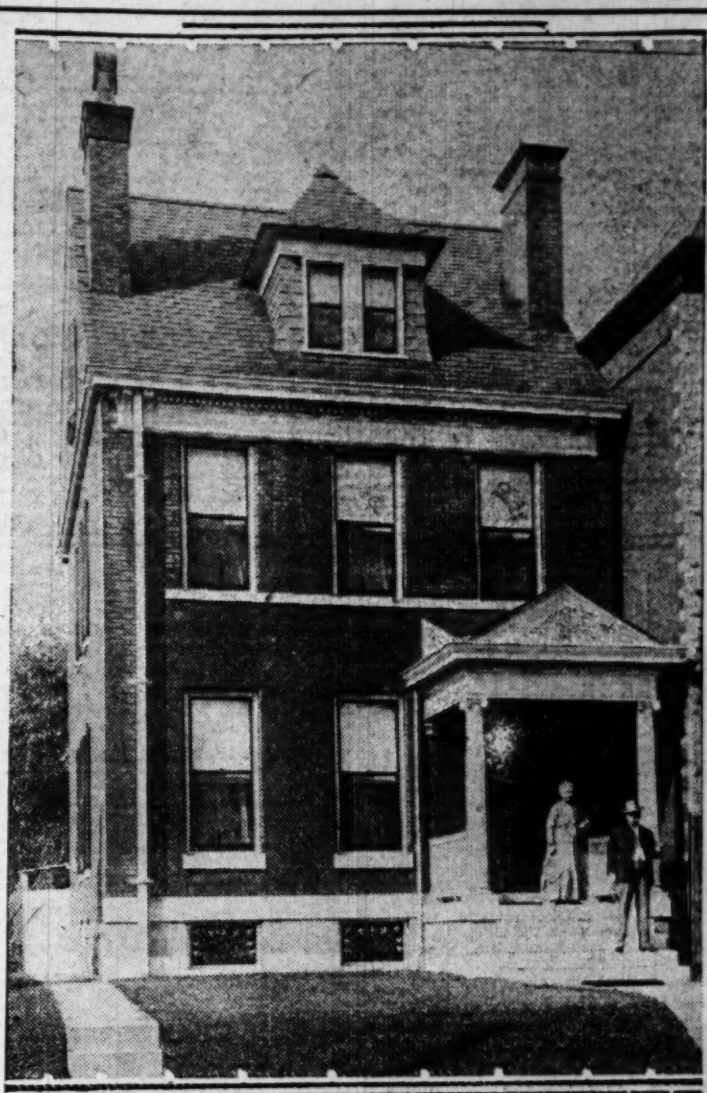

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Railroads of the country earned $51,778,000 net in June, which was a gain of $14,697,346 over net earnings for May, according to reports filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission by the carriers and made public yesterday by the American Railway Association.

The earnings for June, the association said, represented a 3.1 per cent annual real increase from May, as compared with a 2.4 per cent return for May, based upon the tentative values of railroads fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Earnings for June, however, were $47,296,000, or 47.7 per cent below the amount contemplated by the transportation act. The June earnings were the largest since November, when they amounted to $54,343,793.

Roads reporting deficits for the month numbered 73 against 82 in May. Of these, 24 were in the eastern, 18 in the southern and 29 in the western district. The figures were based upon reports from 202 roads.

The carriers reduced their operating expenses to $2.34 per cent of their operating revenues, against $2.43 per cent in May.

This photograph, made at least nine years ago, when Eli Hillis Larkin was 71 years old and Mrs. Harriet Belle Thompson was 53, shows them standing in front of their home at 4030 Olive street, where they lived for years until moving to 4947 Forest Park boulevard in 1913. The house at 4030 Olive street still stands.

nor stenographer. I am not naturally curious about people's private affairs, but I wanted to know for business reasons where he lived and his telephone number, so that I could reach him if necessary. I never found out and it was not until long afterward that I learned why."

A newspaper item printed at the time of the filing of Mrs. Thompson's will declared her to be "a childless widow."

Once Lived on Olive Street. For years before moving to the Forest Park boulevard home Larkin and Mrs. Thompson lived at 4030 Olive street, a dwelling which still stands. Before that they lived in the vicinity of Vandeventer avenue and Olive street, also a block or two farther east, and previously near Ewing avenue and Olive street. As has been told, they met 45 years ago, when Mrs. Thompson was 15 years old, supposedly the orphan of a Louisiana planter named Floyd.

In his 266-page deposition, said that after Mrs. Thompson died between $2000 and $3000 was found in various parts of the house, in old purses, under dresses and in pockets of cast-off dresses. Collins thought it was probably surplus from money he had given to her, for Larkin on former Christmases for charity. The expenses of the home were about $5000 or $6000 a year. Mrs. Thompson even had expressed fear that she might be left without means if Larkin died and for that reason he arranged a trust fund for her with Collins and provided for her in a former will.

Larkin addressed Mrs. Thompson as "Belle," and she called him "Wad-die." They were buried side by side in Larkin's lot in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHER DEAD

Body of Miss Mary Moran to Reach Here Tomorrow Night.

The body of Miss Mary Moran, for more than 25 years a teacher in St. Louis public schools, who died Sunday night in Oakland, Cal., where she was spending her vacation with a niece, will arrive here tomorrow night for burial.

Miss Moran, who lived at 5007 Waterman avenue, was educated at Loretto Academy, Florissant. Her last assignment was as assistant at the Clarence Avenue School Kindergarten. She is survived by four brothers.

DETECTIVES TOLD TO GET RESULTS OR GO ON BEATS

President Miller of Police Board Gives Men Warning at Secret Session Held Yesterday.

TELLS THEM TO HUNT FOR REAL CRIMINALS

Notice Given That Any Advance Tips of Forthcoming Raids Will Mean Dismissal for Offenders.

President Miller of the Police Board lectured the 100 members of the Detective Bureau in a secret session at police headquarters at 9:30 o'clock last night, and is said to have concluded his talk as follows:

"We transferred 25 men out of this bureau recently in order to bring the department up to a standard of efficiency. I have in my office 75 applications from policemen who want to be detectives, men who are ambitious to distinguish themselves. If there is not more real detecting accomplished we will transfer 50 more men out of the bureau to beat and bring some more new blood in here. We want results and we are going to get them."

Talk Lasts for Half Hour. None but detectives or special policemen who work in the Detective Bureau were permitted to hear the lecture, which lasted nearly 30 minutes.

President Miller is said to have told the men:

"There have been a number of safe robberies in the city in the past few weeks, and not a safe robbery in jail. There have been a lot of drug addicts and the like brought in and turned loose. What we want is the real criminals, not the tramps."

He explained to the men that the word "detective" meant a man who was able to go out and detect the sources of crime and bring the criminals to justice. The title "Secret Service Bureau," he said, was to be what the title implied. He wanted the work of the bureau kept "secret" in order that results might be obtained and warned the men to keep their investigations and their clues to themselves and not to spread them broadcast to the public.

Mentions "Tips" on Raids. He also is said to have stated he had information that certain places where crooks congregated had been "tipped" in advance of police raids. If a specific case of this kind could be found he said, persons responsible for giving the advance information would be dismissed from the department.

TWO MORE ARRESTED IN CLOTHING SWINDLE

Men Accused of Participation in Scheme to Defraud Merchants Held in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Postoffice inspectors who arrested four men Tuesday for alleged conspiracy to misuse the mails in operating a syndicate to defraud wholesale dealers in women's clothing by using the names of reputable firms having good credit ratings, have arrested two other men, William J. Zuckerman and Jacob Levinstein, who operated as jobbers for the alleged syndicate in St. Louis and Chicago. Zuckerman was held in $25,000 bail and Levinstein was released on his own recognizance.

Zuckerman is alleged to have operated in St. Louis as the Pittwell Garment Co., the name of a reputable concern that liquidated its business last December, but whose ratings were still in the lists of New York merchants. It is charged that he obtained extensive credits by use of this firm's name.

The other men under arrest are Herman Shaw, who conducted the defunct Shaw Garment Co. in St. Louis; Harry Lovett, who is said to have operated in St. Louis as Jacob Zuckerman, a reputable merchant of that city; and Morris Cohen and Samuel Stein, who were partners in the New York store of the syndicate.

It is charged that the men in custody obtained at least $500,000 worth of merchandise on credit, which they disposed of at ridiculously low prices for cash.

Last Confederate Congressman Dies.

OCALA, Fla., Aug. 11.—Col. John Marshall Martin, believed to be the last surviving member of the Congress of the Confederate States of America, died at his home here last night after an illness of several months.

NEW IDENTIFICATION IN JEFFERSON CITY MAIL ROBBERY

Messenger, Who Was Kidnaped, Tells of Seeing St. Louisan Near Scene Day of Holding.

David Schwartz, 33 years old, of 933 Hickory street, who was arrested April 14, last, in connection with the sale in St. Louis of bonds stolen from the mails in Jefferson City March 1, was identified yesterday by George Williams, mail messenger, from whom the pouch containing the bonds was stolen, as a man he had seen in a restaurant in Jefferson City several blocks from the scene of the robbery an hour before it occurred.

Williams' statement was made when he saw Schwartz at a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Mitchell on warrants for the return of Schwartz, who is charged with having sold the bonds, and Ben Grabinsky and Charles Marks, partners in the jewelry business at 509 Pine street, who were charged with having them in their possession. Federal officials said the identification of Schwartz by Williams probably would result in new charges being made against all of the men arrested in the case, alleging a conspiracy to rob the mails.

John Blair recently was arrested in Iowa and is being held at Kansas City. Allen Morris, who was arrested shortly after the commission of the robbery and had admitted participation in it, was found murdered near Madison, Ill., May 13 last. The hearing was put over to Aug. 12. The Government introduced all its evidence.

SMALL ASSAILS ENEMIES FOR HIS "FALSE ARREST"

Illinois Governor Says He Was Paraded Through Mob Assembled to Jeer and Insult Him.

"NEXT MOVE MUST REVEAL THE TRUTH."

"My Innocence Is Known to Me," He Says; Accused "Through Machinations of a Gang," He Declares.

By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 11.—Gov. Small has made another assault upon his political enemies in Sangamon County.

Gov. Small, accompanied by his son-in-law and daughter, Col. and Mrs. A. E. Ingles, left Springfield today for Kankakee. The Governor expects to go to Chicago tomorrow. "I want to inspect some more roads," he said. The Governor also indicated that no legal steps would be taken by his counsel before his return to the capitol.

State Treasurer Edward E. Miller's semiannual report on interest earnings is an interesting feature in the present Illinois situation in view of the Governor's arrest on a charge of defrauding the Treasury while he was at its head.

Miller's statement of earnings dates back to Jan. 5, four days after he was sworn in as successor to Fred E. Sterling, who on Jan. 5 became Lieutenant-Governor of Illinois. Monthly earnings on State money put out at interest by Miller were detailed in the statement following: January, $28,099.06; February, $49,514.68; March, $56,152.76; April, $51,774.33; May, $68,636.04; June, $65,335.23; July, $83,558.12. He said he had turned in $385,071.21 interest money to the Treasury for the first six months of his term.

Gov. Small has been making more appointments. Distribution of patronage, long held up by the insurrections of a rebellious Legislature, the investigation of a Sangamon County grand jury and warrants for the Governor's arrest, are some of the most urgent matters on the executive's hands.

Certified copies of Gov. Small's bond have been obtained by the Governor's attorneys.

Gov. Small's Statement.

Gov. Small's statement attacking his enemies in part says:

"The Governor of Illinois has been falsely indicted and falsely arrested through the machinations of a gang holding in utter disregard the Constitution and laws of this State."

"Contrary to the accepted principles of our Government and at the behest of corrupt conspirators the authority of the people has been prostituted to the purpose of a lawless ring. This ring, comprised of the most vicious elements in Sangamon County, is aided and abetted by commercialized newspapers such as the Chicago Tribune and Chicago Daily News, Attorney-General Edward J. Brundage and United States Senator Medill McCormick."

"I desire to say I have never evaded arrest upon the framed-up charges in my indictment."

"I have gone about the State freely in performance of my duties subject to the apprehension of any Sheriff. No molestation has been attempted except in gang-ridden Sangamon County. Here the ruffianism of corrupt politics has threatened the orderly processes of government."

"Notwithstanding pretensions of decency, my enemies maliciously staged a spectacular arrest under circumstances intended to humiliate me and disgrace the people of our State."

"Paraded Through a Mob."

"Even though the Sheriff stated he had no thought that I would evade arrest, nevertheless the capitol of the State was besieged and surrounded by an army of deputies drawn from the slums of the city of Springfield, and when I was finally arrested in the executive mansion the Sheriff peremptorily refused to examine or accept a bond with ample surety which I presented and I forcibly took me from the executive mansion and paraded me through a mob which had been assembled to jeer and insult the Governor. The bond which the Sheriff rejected finally was accepted without chance with the single objection that lawful surety had been furnished."

"In view of the great issue of public policy involved in this discreditable and unprecedented proceeding, the facts in this controversy must be brought to light without delay. My innocence is known to me. I assert it with all the positiveness of an unblemished record and a clear and honest conscience."

"Proceedings thus far have been founded on untruth. The next proceeding must reveal the truth."

Man Who Hit Police Car Fined.

Ignace Dohrman, 39 years old, of Wheaton Station, St. Louis County, was fined $25 for careless driving and $25 for speeding in Police Court today. Lieut. Vasey of the Night Riders' squad testified Dohrman was speeding and struck the Night Riders' automobile at 10:30 p. m. June 15 at Lawton and Ewing avenues. Dohrman did not stop, but was overtaken and arrested at Grand avenue and Pine street. Dohrman denied he was speeding and said he did not stop because he was excited.

OPEN SHOP ISSUE DISCUSSED

Building Trades to Prepare Statement on C. O. Referendum.

The question of voting in the referendum being conducted by the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, among its members on the open and closed shops, to determine the preference of the majority of members, was discussed last night at the regular weekly meeting of the Building Trades Council. The council holds a membership in the Chamber of Commerce.

After some discussion it was decided to state the council's position on the question at issue, and President Lammett and Secretary Cassidy were appointed to prepare this statement and report back at the next meeting. This statement will be submitted to the Chamber of Commerce.

Over One Thousand Desirable Garments to Choose From in This Dollar Sale

The Plan

First buy one garment at the present marked price (which in many cases is already reduced) then select any other garment of equal value for Only One Dollar extra. You must purchase two garments in order to secure the second for only one dollar; but—You Don't Have to Buy the Two Garments for Yourself. You may be accompanied by a relative or friend who needs some garment. Then each of you select one of equal value—pay the marked price of one—get the extra garment for one dollar—and divide the total cost between yourselves.

150 Cotton Dresses
175 Silk Dresses
110 Cloth Suits
125 Cloth Coats
115 Skirts
250 Cotton Waists

How It Works

Suppose you select a Dress marked $10.00—then select any other $10 garment, whether it be another Dress, or a Skirt or Waist, and pay only One Dollar for the second garment. Thus you buy two $10.00 garments for $11. The same holds with all other garments involved in the sale. One dollar extra buys another garment of equal value—and the beauty of the plan is that you don't have to buy both for yourself. Please remember that this sale is effective only on our Spring and Summer stock.

DAVISON TO UNDERGO OPERATION ON GROWTH BEHIND HIS EAR

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Henry P. Davison, member of J. P. Morgan & Co., who for six months has been confined to his home, Peacock Point, Glen Cove, suffering from severe headaches as a result of a small growth behind one ear, will undergo an operation in the Roosevelt Hospital today or tomorrow, the Post-Dispatch was informed last night.

Accompanied by Dr. Lewellyn C. Baltimore, professor of clinical medicine in Johns Hopkins University, Mrs. Davison, F. Davison and his daughter, Alice, the financier arrived in New York last night. His 50-foot power boat, the Skipper, which brought him to New York, left the Davison home in Glen Cove at 10 o'clock.

Immediately after the yacht had arrived at the New York Yacht Club station No. 2, foot of Twenty-third street, Davison, with Mrs. Davison, and Dr. Barker stepped into a motor car and drove to the Roosevelt Hospital. Trubee Davison, who will take his examinations for a law degree at Columbia today, and Miss Alice Davison returned on the yacht to their home in Glen Cove.

It was learned last night from a source close to the Davison family that Davison had been suffering from nervousness more than anything. This, of course, was brought on by the growth, which is thought by the financiers to be more serious than the doctors have believed it to be.

Thomas W. Lamont pointed out yesterday that Davison's trouble had been giving him considerable annoyance lately and his physicians have decided an operation will give relief. His hearing has been considerably impaired. The auditory nerves have been affected.

Five Members of Family Drowned.

OTTAWA, Ontario, Aug. 11.—In an unsuccessful attempt to save his 8-year-old daughter, Laura, Thomas Toohy, 53 years old, and three other members of his family, Kathleen, 25; Bernard, 27, and Dorothy, 11, were drowned Tuesday in Otter Lake.

MOTHER OF 8 FREED IN KILLING

TULSA, Ok., Aug. 11.—A trail little woman, mother of eight children, sat in the office of County Attorney W. F. Seaver Tuesday and told a story of brutality that gained her release after she had shot and killed her husband, who is alleged to have returned home in a drunken condition and assaulted his family.

The woman, Mrs. Michael Turman, 47 years old, Monday night shot and killed her husband, Michael Turman, 55, in their home in this city, after he had knocked her down and attempted to abuse their 14-year-old daughter. Turman had returned home after a trip to Bristol, where he had been visiting a son. According to his wife, he was intoxicated, and in response to her greeting he kicked her and knocked her down. Then he turned on Mrs. Turman, the daughter. The official she fired the revolver with the intention of frightening her husband away from the house.

drawer and fired. Turman fell on the floor dead. Mrs. Turman then broke away and ran to a dresser, where she took a revolver from a

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE NEGOTIATIONS IN FORMAL STAGE
State Department Drafts Notes of Invitation to Five Powers to Be Asked to Participate.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Diplomatic negotiations preliminary to the disarmament conference reached a formal stage for the first time yesterday when the State Department drafted notes of invitations to the five Powers that are to be asked to participate.

Although officials declined to discuss details of the move, it is understood that the communications were brief and set forth in general terms the purposes for which the Powers are requested to send delegates to meet in Washington on Nov.
11. The text may be made public later.
While the notes were in process of formulation the department is understood to have consulted with diplomatic representatives of the participating nations relative to the number of principal delegates each is to send to the conference.
Late yesterday Secretary Hughes conferred at length with President Harding, and it was indicated afterward that the draft of the invitations was virtually complete. They may go forward within a few hours.

MRS. J. L. TORREY RENOUNCES WILL OF HER HUSBAND

Action of Widow of Former St. Louisan Follows Suit by His Relatives in Federal Court.

NOT TO RELINQUISH
HER DOWER RIGHTS

Estate Estimated at $200-000 Was to Have Been Shared Equally by Her and Torrey's Secretary.

By the Associated Press.
WEST PLAINS, Mo., Aug. 11.—
Announcement is made here that Mrs. Sarah Frances Kelley Torrey, widow of Col. Jay Lynn Torrey, Republican politician, has filed with the Probate Court of Howell County a renunciation of the will of her husband, who died here last December, leaving his entire estate to the widow and Wallace B. Hodge of West Plains, his private secretary.
The filing of the renunciation, attorneys for Mrs. Torrey said, was made in connection with a suit recently brought by nephews and nieces of Col. Torrey to set aside the will, and which is scheduled to come up for hearing at the October term of Federal Court at Springfield, Mo.
It was stated that while she renounces the will Mrs. Torrey does not relinquish her dower rights, which, under the Missouri statutes, would give her a half interest in the large estate willed to her by her husband. It also became known that Mrs. Torrey had filed in Federal Court an answer to the petition of the other claimants in which she upheld the claims of Hodge to the remaining half of the estate.
Col. Torrey, who was for many years a resident of St. Louis, was married to Mrs. Torrey six weeks before his death. According to friends they had been betrothed 11 years.
The nieces and nephews who brought the suit to set aside the will include Dr. Harry N. Torrey, Mrs.
Bernice Torrey Grimes and Georgia and Aurelia Rice, all of Detroit, and J. N. Rice of Washington.

Col. Torrey Died Last December, a Few Weeks After His Marriage.
Col. Jay L. Torrey, Rough Rider, politician and founder of Fruitville, Mo., who died last December on his ranch at Fruitville, near West Plains, at the age of 67, was married
Oct. 27 last to Mrs. Sarah Frances Kelley of West Plains. His estate was valued at about $200,000.
Although his early life was spent in St. Louis and he practiced law here for many years, and his later years were identified with the development of the fruit industry in the Ozarks, he was recognized as a national character, and was seriously considered as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the vice presidency at the Philadelphia convention, which nominated President McKinley. He was a second cousin of former President Taft and was Colonel of the Second United States
Volunteer Cavalry in the Spanish War.
The contesting heirs allege that the will made by Col. Torrey while he lay ill at the home of his bride in West Plains, Nov. 15, 1920, 19 days before his death, in which he bequeathed his entire estate to his bride and confidential secretary, was not the last will and testament of the ranchman.

HELD FOR DEATH OF NEGRO BY PISTOL IN HIS SUIT CASE

Salesman Arrested as Result of Wounding of Baggage Handler
When He Dropped Bag.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—William A. White of Philadelphia, traveling salesman, was arrested yesterday in Huntsville, Ala., at the request of the local police. The arrest was the outgrowth of the death of Van Buren Hill, negro baggage handler, at the Union Station here.
Hill, when unloading baggage, dropped a suit case, causing a pistol inside to be fired. The ball struck the negro in the stomach, inflicting a wound from which he died two days later.
Ownership of the suit case was traced to White, the police stated, and a coroner's jury rendered a verdict holding White responsible for Hill's death. The verdict was based on a violation of the interstate commerce law.

64,000 ILLITERATE IN MARYLAND

Total of 13,575 Native Whites Included in Number.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—More than 64,000 persons of 10 years of age and over in Maryland are unable to write, the Census Bureau announced today, but the percentage of illiteracy in that State decreased from 7.2 in 1910 to 5.6 in 1920.
A total of 13,575 native-born whites were included among those unable to write.

ST. LOUIS DELEGATION LEAVES TOMORROW FOR CENTENNIAL

Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd Will Officially Welcome Visitors Upon Arrival at Sedalia.

St. Louis business men and their wives will go to Sedalia on a special train tomorrow for St. Louis day at the Centennial celebration at the State Fair. Only tickets sold at Chamber of Commerce headquarters will be accepted on the train. More than 300 reservations have been made for the trip.
Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd will officially welcome the St. Louis delegation to the fair. The special will leave St. Louis at 7 a. m., reaching Sedalia at noon. Returning, the departure will be made at 7:30 p. m., with arrival at Union Station at midnight. Stops will be made going and returning at Tower Grove, Webster Groves and Kirkwood. Going, the train will arrive at stations as follows: Tower Grove, 7:09 a. m.; Webster Groves, 7:18 a. m.; Kirkwood, 7:25 a. m.

Twenty-three civic organizations have notified the Chamber of Commerce that they will have delegations at the train. The St. Louisans will parade through the Fairgrounds.
Speeches of welcome will be made by Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd and replied to by Senator Spencer, Mayor Kiel and President Carter of the Chamber of Commerce, who will head the St. Louis delegation. Lunch will be served immediately following the reception ceremonies in an open-air dining pavilion on the Fairgrounds.

Meat Packers' Institute Election.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Thomas E.
Wilson was re-elected president of the Institute of American Meat Packers at the conclusion of the institute's annual meeting yesterday.
John T. Agar was re-elected treasurer and W. W. Woodard director of the institute's Bureau of Public Relations, was elected secretary.

6.05-INCH RAIN AT TOPEKA

By the Associated Press.
TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 11.—Following a torrential rain here last night, during which 6.05 inches were registered, police were sent out to warn residents in low-lying sections of the city to move out. Water was reported to be entering the basements of many houses and to be standing four feet in the streets at some points.
The waters subsided later and there was no loss of life reported.

WILSON FOUNDATION CHAIRMAN ARE NAMED

Franklin D. Roosevelt Announces Appointment of 13 Members to Perpetuate Ideals.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, national chairman of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, has announced the appointment of 13 state chairmen who will direct in their respective states the work of the organization which is to perpetuate the ideals of the former President of the United States. Among the appointments are Senator Carter Glass, Newton D. Baker, Edwin T. Meredith and Roland Morris.

The complete list includes: Frank Glass, formerly United States Senator for Alabama; Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale for Connecticut; Robert W. Woolley of the Interstate Commerce Commission, for the District of Columbia; James M. Hawley, formerly Governor of Idaho, for Idaho; Edwin T. Meredith, formerly Secretary of Agriculture, for Iowa; Josephus Daniels, formerly Secretary of the Navy, for North Carolina; Roland Morris, formerly Ambassador to Japan, for Pennsylvania; Newton D. Baker, formerly Secretary of War, for Ohio; R. Goodwin Rhett, formerly president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, for South Carolina; Edwin S. Johnson, formerly United States Senator for South Dakota; John Spargo, author and lecturer, for Vermont; United States Senator Carter Glass, for Virginia; Mrs. E. D. Christian of the Democratic National Committee, for Washington.

It will be the duty of these state leaders, Roosevelt said, to form non-partisan organizations which will make possible the permanent endowment of the foundation and the grant of an award of awards comparable to the Nobel prizes, to the individual or group that has rendered within a specific period "meritorious services to democracy, public welfare, liberal thought or peace through justice." The endowment is to be raised by public subscription in October.

WILL DEPART MONDAY FOR TRIP TO CUBA, MO.

Miss Deborah Catlin

Social Items

Mrs. William S. Saportas of Fort Bliss, Tex., will arrive about Sept. 1 to be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Edwin C. Link of 5660 Cabanne avenue. Capt. Saportas, her husband, will join her later for a short visit, after which they will depart for Fort Riley, Kan., where Capt. Saportas will be stationed.

Miss Janice Feldman of 56 Kingsbury place is expected home Friday from Columbus, O., where she has been visiting Miss Kathleen Hartman.

Miss Deborah Catlin of Webster Groves will depart Monday for Cuba, Mo., for a visit of about two weeks. She will be accompanied by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Clinton.

Miss Florence Markham of Clayton departed Monday for Rogers, Ark., where she will visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bielock of 5397 Waterman avenue will depart in about 10 days for Chicago. They will make the Lake Superior boat trip before returning home. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ferguson, will return home in a few days from Detroit, where they have been visiting friends for the past three weeks.

Miss Corinne Erlich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Erlich of 5233 Pershing avenue, will become the bride of Monroe Levey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Levey of New York, next Thursday at 6:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The ceremony, which will be performed at the Buckingham Hotel, will be followed by a wedding supper. The couple will spend their honeymoon in Canada and will make their home in New York. Among the hostesses who have entertained in Miss Erlich's honor this week are Miss Myrtle Jacobs, 4230 West Pine boulevard, and Miss Ruth Levy, 5111 Waterman avenue.

The marriage of Miss Therese Kolb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kolb of 5839 Etzel avenue, and Robert A. Kreier of New York was solemnized at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Rose's Church, the Rev. Father J. J. McGlynn officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Wilson, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, were the only attendants. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Kreier departed for an extended trip to the Pacific coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gale Bastow of 5323 Pershing avenue are guests of Mrs. Wallace D. Simmons at her summer home in Oconomowoc, Wis.

Mrs. George L. Heil and family of 3112 Allen avenue departed yesterday for Macatawa Park, Mich., to remain until the first of next month.

The engagement of Miss Alma Schorr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schorr of 7108 Westmoreland drive, and Charles Betz Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Betz of 3721 South King's highway boulevard, was announced today at a luncheon with which Miss Schorr entertained at her home. The wedding will take place in the early fall.

Miss Lillian Gerell of Webster Groves will entertain informally at her home this evening in honor of Miss Jane Searcy of Columbia, Mo.

Miss Adelaide Hughes of 6903 Washington boulevard, accompanied by Miss Helen Gibson, who has been visiting her for about two weeks, will depart Saturday for Springfield, Ill., to be the guest of Miss Gibson at her home, "Oak Knolls." Among the affairs which have been given in honor of Miss Gibson were a luncheon Tuesday with which Mrs. Walter C. Hughes of 6140 Westminster place entertained at the Kirkwood Country Club and a luncheon-bridge Monday, at which Miss Ruth Pfaff of University City was hostess.

Mrs. Walter Pirie and her daughter, Miss Evelyn Pirie of 2724 Tamm avenue, have returned from a month's trip through Northern Minnesota.

Mrs. Alonso Fraser of the Westmoreland Apartments and her granddaughter, Mary Jane Wilder, will depart Sunday for Petoskey, Mich., to remain until Oct. 1.

Miss Margaret Swann of 4358 West Pine boulevard has returned from Tyler, Tex., where she has been visiting for some time.

The various outing farms and settlements for needy children which are located in or near the city have been well supported this summer by the girls who have remained in town during the vacation months. Among the young women assisting this week at the Catholic Outing Farm in entertaining the children from St. Joseph's settlement are Misses Lucy James, Ruth Warren, Eleanor Cusick, Shallos, Caroline Sterling and Miriam and Katherine McMahon. There will be a watermelon supper for the children Thursday afternoon, and Friday Miss Katherine McMahon will entertain them with an ice-cream party. The new swimming pool has proved an added attraction at the home of late.

At the Frank Wyman Farm, the volunteer workers are Misses Josephine Brown, Virginia Goff, Estelle Robnett, Florence Powers, Jean Houghtlin, Alma Hall, Marie Benedict, Helen Kelly, Mary Schulte and Lucille Carley. The children are entertained in groups of about 200 for two weeks and the workers remain the same length of time.

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, 3216 Castleman avenue, will return home Saturday from South Haven, Mich., where they have been for the past month.

Miss Olga Quency of 3453 Hawthorne boulevard will arrive home Saturday from Kenilworth, Ill.

British Steamer Missing.
By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The British steamer Canastota, from New York via Sydney, N. S. W., for Wellington, N. Z., was today posted at Lloyds as missing.

The Canastota sailed from New York May 4 with a general cargo and was last reported leaving Sydney June 13 for Wellington. She was built at Glasgow in 1907, is 4904 tons gross register and carries a crew of 41 men.

Bridge and Culvert Contracts Let.
Contracts were let by the Road and Bridge Committee of the St. Clair County Board of Supervisors at Belleville yesterday for 16 bridges and culverts. The estimated cost of the improvements was $17,000 but under the bids accepted the cost will be $15,166.80. The county's portion of the cost is $10,429 and that of townships $4,737.90. The work will be done in Millstadt, Prairie du Long, Smithton, O'Fallon, Lebanon and Mascoutah townships.

Retail Secretaries Meet Here.
The sixth convention of the National Association of Retail Secretaries began today at the Hotel Statler with a welcome address by M. L.

Wilkinson, president of the Scruggs-Vandervoort-Barnes Dry Goods Co. The delegates will be entertained at the Fashion Pageant in Forest Park tonight and tomorrow evening a dinner will be given at the Century Club. K. F. Niemoeller, business manager of the Associated Retailers of St. Louis, is the host of the convention.

7 A.M. Put to soak
9 A.M. Rinse

"Now I just put the clothes to soak before breakfast and rinse them out when the dishes are done —"

THIS is what one experienced housewife writes about doing her regular weekly wash with the marvelous new soap product, Rinso. Until recently she always made an all-day job of washing, rubbing her clothes for hours to get the dirt out. Now that she soaks them clean she says Rinso actually saves about five hours of work each washday.

Hundreds of thousands of women are finding that Rinso takes all the hardest work out of washday. Some of them put the clothes to soak the night before and rinse them out in the morning. Others find it easier to soak for a few hours during the day. All of them say they don't have to rub any but the most soiled spots and those only lightly. Rinso loosens every particle of dirt from even the heaviest pieces without injuring a single fabric.

Don't rub your youth away. Get a package of Rinso today from your grocer or any department store. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Dissolve
For each tub of clothes thoroughly dissolve a half package of Rinso in two quarts of boiling water. Where water is hard or clothes are dirty use more Rinso.

Pour into tub of lukewarm water—mix well. Keep adding the solution until you get a good, rich, soapy suds, even after the clothes have been put in.

Then let your clothes soak—and rinse without any hard rubbing—Soak one hour—overnight—whatever time is convenient. These wonderful, mild suds loosen every particle of dirt. Rinso, to remove the loosened dirt, till the water runs clear.

PERFECT IN WASHING MACHINES
With Rinso you don't have to do any rubbing. Follow regular directions given here. Soak the clothes. Then, before operating the machine, add a fresh Rinso solution, using the same amount of Rinso as you used for soaking. No other product is needed when Rinso is used.

SOUTH CAROLINA MOB SEARCHES GEORGIA JAIL FOR SLAYERS

Armed and Masked Men Fail to Find Prisoners Charged With Killing College Student

By the Associated Press.
AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 11.—A mob of masked men from South Carolina points, estimated at 100 or more, traveling in 25 automobiles, made an attempt to enter the Richmond County Jail and the county stockade between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning to seize C. O. Fox and Jesse Gappins, charged with killing William Brazell, a 19-year-old taxi driver and college student of Columbia. Sheriff Plunkett outwitted the men. Reports of men gathering at various points in South Carolina had figured through the early part of the night and at 10:30 last night the Sheriff placed Fox and Gappins in an automobile and rushed them to a jail at some interior point in Georgia. Later it was reported the two men were lodged in the jail at Savannah.

When the mob reached the jail they found their prey had been spirited away. Arriving at the jail, three men were chosen to the prisoners to make a search of the premises. They entered the jail yard with a flourish of guns. Each of them wore a mask across his face. The jailer acted as pilot. The sixty-odd prisoners stood about in their cells with mouths agape or huddled in frightened groups as the masked men pried into every corner of the premises. Several of the mob wore army uniforms.

REDUCTION SOUGHT IN AUTO LIABILITY INSURANCE RATES

Safety Council Members Told of Effort to Get Out of 10 Per Cent in Charge.

Secretary-Manager Smith announced at a meeting of the Mississippi Valley Division of the National Safety Council at the Riverview Club last night that he had written to the National Workmen's Compensation Service Bureau, asking for permission for representatives to be sent before the automobile rating board at its October meeting to urge a reduction of 10 per cent on automobile liability insurance rates. Smith submitted figures showing that the number of accidents in St. Louis is less than in any other large city in the country, in proportion to population. Since 1913 there has been a constant decrease in the number of accidents and the property damage. In 1918 the property damage was $785,000, in 1919 it was $660,000 and in 1920 it was $528,000. The present rating of St. Louis is the same as that of Chicago and Pittsburgh, where traffic is declared to be much more hazardous. A 10 per cent reduction in liability rates, Smith said, would effect a saving of $150,000 to $200,000 for St. Louis automobile owners.

BOY FOUND IN VACANT HOUSE

Wilson Wiley, 14 years old, of 2322 Franklin avenue, who disappeared from his home July 26, was found sleeping in an unrented house at 3325 Washington boulevard early today, and, after being taken to the station, admitted, the police say, robbing the home of Mrs. Bessie Poarch, 3431 Lucas avenue, two days ago. The jewelry he obtained in the robbery, he said, had been hidden in the vacant house and it had been stolen from him.

The boy also was identified by Benjamin Pollock, grocer, of 3340 Lucas avenue, as the boy caught taking $5 from his trousers hanging in the rear of the store, Aug. 3, whom he released after taking the money from him. Wiley was sent to the House of Detention.

PRISONER MAKES HIS ESCAPE

George Camp of Alton, serving a term in the Edwardsville jail for carrying concealed weapons, was taken to the courthouse yesterday afternoon to clean up the offices. When the work was finished he was missing. The building was searched but he was not found. A guard stayed around until midnight, but Camp did not appear. But he was there all the time.

This morning his jail clothes were found in the lobby. He had broken into Circuit Clerk Mellon's office and taken a suit and shoes from a locker and had broken into the desks and then departed. It is thought he hid on the roof until the search was over.

STATE ASKED FOR REPARATIONS

Nebraska Farmer Says Prairie Chickens Are Eating Up His Wheat.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 11.—Alleging that prairie chickens are eating up his wheat, Ed Langin of Paxton, Neb., has asked the State to make reparation to him for the loss. He claims that the damages have amounted to $5 a day. The State law protects the fowls and imposes a fine of $50 for killing one between November and the first day of October, so Langin cannot shoot them.

PAYS FOR GAS HE INHALES

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—William Larson had gone through his 55 years of life owing no man. So yesterday, before ending his life in the bathroom of his home, he deposited 45 cents beside a note which read: "I always like to pay my debts. This is to pay for the gas I use going to pay the last big debt of all."

Holy War Proclaimed to Aid Turks.
By the Associated Press.
ANGORA, Anatolia, Aug. 11.—A holy war has been proclaimed by the King of the Hedjaz, as a measure for assisting the Turkish nationalists in their fight against the Greeks in Asia Minor. It has been announced here. The monarch in his call appeals for the saving of Islam.

JANITOR SAID TO ADMIT THEFT

Police Claim Negro Confesses Burglary of Employer's Home.

Charles Smith, 36 years old, a negro janitor employed at the home of Emanuel Grossman, 3894 West Pine boulevard, following his arrest last night, confessed, the police say, that he was the burglar who entered the home by a ladder placed to a window, early yesterday, ransacking four rooms occupied by guests. When arrested Smith told of being lured into the burglary by another negro. When the second negro denied any knowledge of the theft, Smith made a second statement, the police say, in which he took the entire responsibility. Three purses, some change and a few minor articles of jewelry were taken in the burglary. He said he spent the money and gave the other articles away.

QUEBEC WELCOMES BARON BYNG OF VIMY

City in Holiday Attire for Arrival of New Governor-General.

By the Associated Press. —Amid the booming of guns from Quebec's ancient citadel, Baron Byng of Vimy, a hero of the great war, today officially assumed his duties as Canada's new Governor-General. He was sworn into office at the provincial legislative building with impressive ceremony.

He landed at King's wharf from the steamship Empress of France on the steamer Lady Gray. Whistles from every craft shrieked a welcome and immense crowds cheered as he stepped ashore and stood at salute as a band played the national anthem. He wore the uniform of a British General.

Premier Arthur Meighen accompanied him. A distinguished assemblage of Dominion officials, headed by Justice Anglin, the acting administrator, officially greeted him. Others in the party were members of the Federal Cabinet and Premier Taschereau and members of the provincial Government.

The popularity of "Byng of Vimy and Cambrai" leader of the Canadian forces during the campaigns of 1916 and 1917, won him one of the warmest welcomes ever extended to an incoming Governor-General.

Lord Byng—then General Sir Jullian Byng—leaped into fame in the spring of 1917, when he led the Canadians in the storming and capture of the supposedly impregnable German position on Vimy Ridge. A short time later, he was made commander of the British Third Army.
Again in November, the world resounded with the name of "Byng of Cambrai" hero of the battle of the tanks. In this engagement Byng's troops, led by squads of battle tanks, drove deep into the German lines before Cambrai, taking thousands of prisoners and threatening the entire German position in France. The Germans struck back vigorously, a few days later, but were unable to regain all the ground Byng had taken.
For this exploit he was promoted to the rank of full General.
Lord Byng is in his fifty-ninth year. He is the seventh son of the Earl of Stafford. He was created a Lord, with the title Baron Byng of Vimy, in recognition of his wartime service, while Mayor of York received a grant of £30,000 by the British parliament.

ST. CHARLES PREPARING FOR CROWD AT THE CENTENNIAL

Archbishop Glennon, Col. Parker and John S. Leahy to Be Among Speakers of Sunday.
St. Charles is preparing to entertain many visitors from St. Louis and vicinity, Sunday at the centennial celebration under the direction of the St. Charles Lodge, Knights of Columbus. The day's program will begin with a procession at Main and Adams street, passing south on Main street to Madison street, where the parade will halt to unveil a historical tablet at the first State Capitol building, 209 South Main street.

The unveiling will be done by Dorothy Emmons, great-granddaughter of the late Benjamin Emmons, member of the first territorial Legislature of Missouri. J. W. Griffin, attorney from St. Louis, will deliver the address, while Mayor May will receive the tablet in the name of the city.

Following the unveiling ceremony the procession will pass to the Sacred Heart Academy on North Second street, where, on the campus, Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis will officiate at a Field Mass. The Knights of Columbus Choral Club of St. Louis will sing during the mass.

From the Sacred Heart Academy,
the parade will pass on to Blanchette Park, where the day's program will be continued. Among the speakers are Col. John H. Parker of Jefferson Barracks, John S. Leahy, past
State deputy Knight of Columbus,
St. Louis, and Floyd Shoemaker, State Historical Society, Columbia, Mo.
J. W. Kelly of St. Charles will be executive chairman of the day and presiding officer of the program.

DEPORTATION CASE IS HEARD
A hearing on the proposed deportation of Steve Unk, former proprietor of an East St. Louis hotel, as an undesirable alien, was held yesterday by James R. Dunn, Chief Inspector of the Immigration Bureau in the St. Louis district. His recommendation, he said, nature of which is not known, will be made to the bureau at Washington.

Unk was convicted in the Federal Court in June, 1918, of conspiracy to violate the Mann act. He recently returned from the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth. The testimony in his trial was repeated before Dunn, and will be forwarded to Washington with Dunn's recommendation.

CLAIM SETTLEMENT CAMPAIGN

Work for Service Men Started Upon Signing of Sweet Bill.

By the Associated Press. —A nation-wide campaign by Government officials, the American Legion and the Red Cross, to effect a sweeping settlement of all Government claims by former service men, was announced Tuesday at a conference of legion officials and Government representatives at national legion headquarters here. The announcement immediately followed the signing of the Sweet bill, making possible immediate adjustment, and the appointment of C. R. Forbes as director of the new Veterans' Bureau.
The campaign will start today. It is expected to continue for at least four months, or until every community in every state has been reached.

Steamer for St. Francis River.

By the Associated Press. —HELENA, Ark., Aug. 11.—Capt.
Jeff Hicks of Pine Bluff, Ark., one of the owners of the steamer Kate Adams, stated here yesterday that his company would place an auxiliary boat in commission for the St.
Francis River by Sept. 15. The boat will go up the St. Francis as far as Madison.

TO HIS FREEDOM ELSEWHERE

Wanted Here in Connection with Death of Another Hurt in Fall From Porch Surrenders.

William Manning, 52 years old, was imprisoned in St. Louis in any of the other places he has visited since he left this city 19 last. He called at Police Headquarters yesterday and surrendered, to answer charges growing out of the death of Michael McEvoy, whom he is charged with having pushed off a second-story porch at 1414 South Fourteenth street.

Manning said he spent some time in Detroit, but left after he found himself in the bread line, and learned that 800 men were out of employment in his trade, cement work.

Manning said he quarreled with McEvoy and his wife, whose rooms in the South Fourteenth street house were next his, and that he pushed both the McEvoy's out of his room. McEvoy fell against the porch railing, broke through, fell to the courtyard and died two days later from a skull fracture. Manning said he left the city at once, and that he did not know that McEvoy had died until he was near St. Louis on his return. Mrs. McEvoy has charged that Manning picked her husband up and threw him from the porch. Manning is more than 6 feet tall and of powerful physique.

Wonder Bear of Wyoming Killed by U. S. Huntsmen

Government Rangers Slay Animal That Had Terrorized Sheep Herders of the Big Region and Had Caused Great Damage.

WASHINGTON.—The sheep herders around Big Piney, in Wyoming, are sleeping nights now. They didn't for a long time.

The epidemic of insomnia was cured by one application of—no, it isn't a patent medicine advertisement. The sheep herders are sleeping because Uncle Sam's hunters sent one big black bear to Kingdom Come before his natural time.

This bear—they never named him, but just spoke of him in awed voices as The Bear—was one of the worst actors that Wyoming or the West has ever known. He was unduly fond of mutton, but that was not the worst. The sheepmen might have boarded him, but he killed a great many sheep that he never touched—scared them to death. That is, he frightened the flocks so terribly that they piled up, and smothered to death by hordes. And still that was not the worst—not for the herders, whatever it may have been for the owners.

Would Wreck the Camps.

The Bear took a delight in destroying camps, tearing the tents into tatters, breaking up the furniture and carrying away the grub. He never got a chance at any of the tents. They stayed awake and watched for him and always managed to be just gone from home when he arrived.

One day not long ago, Del Dearth and H. P. Williams, skilled hunters of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, were stringing out some traps along the east boundary of the Wyoming National Forest. Williams is the hunter who killed the infamous Custer wolf several months ago. And suddenly, while they were fixing up a trap, something came thrashing down the trail at a terrible rate. It was a sheep herder, on the run and panting like a lizard. He did not tarry with the hunters. He just explained that The Bear had chased him out of camp, and threw the word back over his shoulder as he went. "If you happen to see the owners of them sheep, tell 'em they can herd 'em themselves if they want 'em herded."

Williams and Dearth put out as hard as their horses could go, hoping to catch the bear in camp, but they were too late. He had torn the tent in pieces, bent the stove around a nearby tree, scattered the grub and was gone. The hunters took up his trail and followed it till they came to a heap of pine needles and other forest debris. It contained a side of bacon which the bear had taken from the herder's tent and tied for future reference. Believing that the bear was not far away, they took up the trail again—and didn't have far to go. The bear met them, duly incensed at the invasion of his privacy. The meeting took place in a little opening in the woods where the hunters had room to work their guns. One of them placed three bullets under the bear's ear and the other sent one through his spinal column. At that, he lacked only a few yards of reaching them before they brought him down.

CARAVAN OF 1000 AUTOMOBILES TO RUN TO HIGHWAY CONVENTION

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 11.—One of the largest cross-country automobile caravans ever organized will leave this city this morning of Sept. 8 for Cincinnati. The caravan is expected to consist of about 1000 automobiles from points as far south as Miami, Fla.

The pilgrimage to Cincinnati has been organized through the efforts of the Lexington Automobile Club and the Dixie Highway Association and the Cincinnati Dixie Highway Convention Committee. About 30 miles will be covered.

The caravan will be composed largely of cars carrying delegates to the Dixie Highway convention, which will open in Cincinnati Sept. 8 and last three days.

The procession is expected to be from six to seven miles long by the time it reaches Cincinnati. It will leave Lexington after breakfast Sept. 8 and will arrive in Covington several hours later, being met there by representatives of the association.

Brutal Scaled 650 Pounds.

They say he was just about as big as a black bear, and as fierce. His weight was 650 pounds; he was 6 feet 2 inches long, and his hind foot was 11½ inches long by 6 inches wide. But there was something in those woods that was not afraid of him, big and vicious as he was. He was badly battered and sliced and had evidently gotten the worst of it in some Dempsey-Carpenter contest of the jungle. The hunters knew that a huge grizzly had been ranging in that district and they guessed that the two had met and fought to a finish to find out which would be monarch of the Wyoming forest.

But it was the black bear and not the grizzly that had caused consternation among the herders, and all is quiet now. Which proves that, at least for sheep herders in the bear country, the best soothing syrup is a Government hunter's rifle.

SCIENTISTS WALK STREETS OF PETROGRAD IN RAGS

Finn Says Residents Stand and Stare at Anyone Well Dressed and Well Nourished.

Correspondence of the Associated Press, HELSINKI, Finland, July 21.—Well-dressed and well-nourished visitors appearing on the streets of Petrograd are stopped in the streets by many of the inhabitants who look them up and down and ask many questions, just as if they had dropped down from another planet, according to a Finn who was officially permitted to visit Petrograd to distribute food to scientists and literary men.

The Finn described the inhabitants of Petrograd as being like a lot of "mad mendicants" of an "unnaturally hysterical nervous pitch." He saw Kotliarevski, a member of the Academy, "who came like a beggar, with faltering footsteps, to receive his modest share of the supplies." He was without a shirt and was clad in rags. Some of the scientists he found ill with scurvy. Benols, the painter, he said, is "dreaming of a place of chocolate." Maxim Gorky and others are attempting to take care of these scientists.

AUSTRIAN WOMAN, 101, SEEKS FOR A POSITION AS A COOK

Centenarian. Arrested for Vagabondage. Insists She Can Do Better Than Young Girls.

GENEVA.—When Frau Rodmer, 101 years old, was arrested at Brezeng (Austria) on a charge of vagabondage, she strongly denied the accusation, and with reason.

The old woman, who had about $25 in her purse, explained that she was in search of work, and had visited different houses in Brezeng asking for a place as cook, but was refused owing to her great age.

"Yet," she said, "I can cook the best dishes better than all these young girls."

It appears that Frau Rodmer formerly owned a little farm which was destroyed by fire. She was not insured, so she determined to begin life again.

ARGLAR, UNDER FIRE, FLEES WITH TROUSERS Drops From Pocket of Garment as Thief Leaps Through Window.
Chapman of 4594 North street fired two shots from revolver at a burglar caught running his home and in possession of the trousers in his bedroom at 1 today. The burglar jumped through a first-floor screen into the street and escaped. In running he dropped a watch from the trousers, worth 50 cents and six car fobs. The burglar was seen through a window after a screen on the first floor.
Bore Holes in Door, Rob Balcon and Grocery.
Burglars with a brace and bit bored holes in the door of the store of Joseph Grober, 1500 South Main street, stealing $50 worth of groceries and cigarettes. In the next morning, occupied as a grocery by Bokracka and Steve Parke, the burglars removed a window door to get in and, rifling a safe in a rear room, stole $55 and left for it.
The office of David P. Crowder, 11 Pine street, burglars opened that had not been locked and found $10, some papers and $9.50 in cash.
Burglars reported yesterday that in the day burglars had broken into the Government Radio at the Municipal Docks at Market street and had stolen apparatus to the value of $200, equipped with the United States flag on it. The articles stolen included a head piece set and doorknobs.
Other burglaries reported were in home of Edwin Peters, 5055 S. King's highway, where $250 jewelry and clothing was taken; home of John Chorth, 2700 Graveness, where $100 worth of jewelry and clothing was taken; and at 875, and the home of Benjamin Bailey, 8228 Delmar boulevard, clothing and jewelry, $150.

THREE-CORNERED CONTEST FOR HORSESHOE TITLE PLANNED
Bids Being Made to Bring Pitchers Claiming Championship Together in Columbus, O.
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 10.—Efforts soon to be made to bring together the three most expert horseshoe players in the United States in a tournament here to decide the championship of the United States.
The world's championship is now owned by two men, Frank Jackson of Kellerton, Ia., and Charles Hobbs of Lancaster, O. C. O. Davis of Columbus, said by many sport writers who have seen him in action is the equal of either Jackson or Hobbs, wishes to meet both.
Hobbs won a national tournament held at St. Petersburg, Fla., in February under the auspices of the National League of Horseshoe Players, the oldest horseshoe pitching organization in the United States. Jackson also won a national tournament held at Akron, O., last August under the auspices of this league, but failed to participate in a later tournament in Florida. Hobbs, therefore, claims Jackson forfeited the title.
Jackson has since affiliated with the National Association of Horseshoe Pitchers, which was formed last year at Akron. It will hold its first national tournament at Minneapolis next fall.

COURT ASKED TO DECIDE WITH WHOM GIRL SHALL LIVE
Howe, 12 Years Old, Awarded to Father in One State, Given to Mother in Another.
CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Awarded to custody of her father in one state and to her mother in another, a child case is today being asked to decide with whom Hazel Howe, 12 years old, shall live.
The father, William Howe, went to Montana in 1915. Two years later another mother gained a divorce in Pontiac, Ill. The Illinois court granted the mother the custody of the child. Subsequently a Montana court gave the father custody of the child.
The Howe, who remarried, went to Pontiac and obtained the girl from the child's grandparents, being arrested on a charge of kidnapping, according to the evidence in the case.
Now the girl is being held by Cook county authorities until the third court decides with whom she is to

$500,000 NEW BUILDING FOR ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY

Plans for First Unit of New Agriculture Group Approved by Board of Trustees.

By the Associated Press.
URBANA, Ill., Aug. 10.—Preliminary plans for the erection of the first unit of the new group of agriculture buildings of the University of Illinois have been authorized by the board of trustees. The new $500,000 structure will be used for laboratory or class-room purposes and will be a big step toward solving the needs of the college of agriculture.

Dr. David Kinley, president, announced today that under the new provision made by the State Legislature "there is every prospect that the university will open in September under conditions of greatly improved efficiency. The faculty of the university announce they are able to provide for all classes in prospect, to restore their classes to normal size and to improve the teaching. Lateness of the legislation for the university made it more difficult to secure all of the new teachers wanted, yet prompt action has resulted in the securing of about 140 to date."

Two New Departments.
Two new departments were created by the trustees. The astronomy department, formerly a division of the mathematics department, will continue under the direction of Prof. Joel Stebbins. Prof. F. W. Tanner heads the new bacteriology department, which has been divorced from the department of botany.

Prof. J. C. Blair was persuaded by the president to withdraw his resignation and will remain in charge of the department of horticulture. Prof. Edward C. Schmidt, who resigned as head of the railway engineering department in 1917 to become a major of ordinance during the war, has been recalled from Milwaukee, where he is engaged as a mechanical engineer, to take his former position here.

Changes in Teaching Force.
Prof. H. P. Rusk, in the absence of Prof. H. W. Mumford, will be acting head of the animal husbandry department to replace Prof. W. C. Coffey, resigned. Dr. C. F. Hottes, long a member of the botany department and widely known as a plant physiologist, will be consulting plant physiologist for the agronomy department.

The incidental fee has been raised 50 per cent for nonresidents of Illinois, who will now pay $37.50 per semester. Residents of Illinois not holding scholarship will continue to pay $25 a semester as before.

MISSOURI UNIVERSITY WELL REPRESENTED AT CENTENNIAL

Building at Sedalia Serves for Exhibits and Social Headquarters of School's Friends.

By the Associated Press.
SEDALIA, Mo., Aug. 10.—The University of Missouri building at the State Fair and centennial here is serving not only as a place for exhibits, but as the headquarters of the alumni, students and friends of the university. Former students and graduates have been meeting in the building during the fair and it is the scene of many reunions. J. Max McCann, president of the student body at the university, is in charge of the memorial reunion and is keeping a record of all the alumni and former students who visit the building.

The university exhibit includes material from all departments of the College of Agriculture, the School of Engineering and from the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association. One of the features of the exhibit is 150 enlarged photographs of scenes around the university, students at work, farm animals on the university farm and other interesting places about the school.

"College of Agriculture day" at the centennial and fair, Aug. 13, is expected to be a day of unusual activity about the university building. On this day all the former students will assemble at the building for a university luncheon. Gov. Arthur M. Hyde, Dean J. C. Jones, acting president of the university; Dean F. B. Mumford of the College of Agriculture, and George Catts, agricultural commissioner of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, are scheduled to speak at the luncheon. University authorities hope to make this day the big reunion for the university students.

'BETTER POLAND CHINA HOGS IN MISSOURI' MOVEMENT

Organization Effected at Meeting of Interested Persons at the State Fair at Sedalia.

By the Associated Press.
SEDALIA, Mo., Aug. 11.—"Better Poland-China hogs in Missouri" is the purpose of a movement launched here at a meeting of Poland-China breeders and raisers at the swine building at the State Fair. A permanent Poland-China organization was perfected.

"The Poland-China meeting was one of the most important ever held in the State by Poland-China men," according to Keith McCleanse, president of "Better Poland-China," a magazine circulating among hog breeders and farmers.

The purpose of the Poland-China organization is to have a live, virile, organized group in the State composed of those interested in Poland-China hogs. The organization will co-operate its workings with the Poland-China Breed Promotion Committee and the county associations, many of which already have been organized. Other county organizations will be made and the activities will tend to push the Big Turkey Poland-China and eradicate the scrub.

Woman and Child Burned to Death.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
FREDERICK, Ok., Aug. 11.—Mrs. Ida Polk, 25, and her daughter,

Opal, 9, were burned to death yesterday when their farm home near Polk was asleep on the second floor with her four children when the fire broke out. When she was awakened she dropped three children through a window to safety, but was overcome when attempting to save the fourth. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Give the Stay-at-Homes Credit.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I WOULD like to dissent from an explanation printed in a local paper, as to why there was a light vote cast by the women Aug. 2. It was not because some of the leading women of St. Louis were in the North, neither was it because those of us who have stayed at home and took up the burden of caring for the orphans, disabled soldiers, and given the children of the congested districts outings during the warm weather, or that we did not work before and on election day.

I personally have ample time and means to have gone away and left my share of the work undone, but I did mine, because I thought this election one of the most important we have ever had in this State for women. We have held meetings in this ward, and were on the job election day from the time the polls opened until they were closed. I have been down the line in this kind of work, from the organizing of the Suffrage League to the League of Women Voters, acting as chairman of each organization,
until the Federal amendment gave us suffrage, and we became affiliated with the political parties, and in all of these we have been credited for having one of the most efficient organizations in the city. During the registration last fall we registered in most of the precincts more women than men, due to earnest solicitation. The fact that the vote cast all over the State was light shows it was not due to any local conditions in St.
Louis.

All we want is credit given where credit is due.
M. L. M.

It's Quality That Counts.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I NOTICED the letters in your paper about the absence here of pies like mother used to make and want to say that I, and others whom I know, feel the same way. Nine-tenths of the pies one sees in the bakeries and restaurants here are merely paste. Two-thirds of the filling is paste, with little or no fruit, sugar or flavoring. The people responsible for these pies of paste either don't know how to make a real pie or think the people of this city have to eat anything put before them. It would pay them better to make the crusts smaller, cut out the paste filling and put in fruit and custard fillings. People would rather have a good small pie than a bad large pie any time. Quantity without quality is not worth having.
A. FIE JUDGE.

150,000 Arrests.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE Anti-Saloon League prohibition-ists, of which Attorney Wheeler is the chief lobbyist at Washington, must find satisfaction in the fact that 150,000 criminals have been added to the list in the United States during the last year.
This list was probably grown to 1,000,000 criminals in another year according to the records, the crimes for which prohibition is given credit include murder, robbery, counterfeiting, blackmail, arson and the corruption of officers without number. It is a black list.
In the commission of crime they use railroads, steamships, private ships, private ships, private yachts, automobiles from Pierce-Arrows to Fords, and every other device.
As Lenin and Trotsky have ruined Russia and impoverished the people, so these reformers are making criminals in America. When the Anti-Saloon League established prohibition they established the greatest criminal business ever worked out in the name of the law. The bootlegging business has earned fully $300,000,000 during the last year, and it will never be less. It is adding annually 100,000 criminals to our population. Will it keep that up?
J. C. FISHER.

A Menace.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

HASN'T it occurred to St. Louis to offer a liberal reward for the capture of one or both men who committed such a terrible outrage in the apartment on Maryland avenue last Friday night?
Cannot some steps be taken in this matter?
MARYLAND AVENUE RESIDENT.

Present-Day Photographs.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THIS is strictly in confidence, because criticism of this kind is only to be thought, not to be uttered. Pictures are always interesting and we often turn to them to rest the mind; but the photographs of people in our newspapers and magazines are not what they used to be.
One turns with relief to a serious countenance, to a person who is not laughing or smiling and showing the teeth. And they are not the "rows of tiny pearls" that one has read about in novels and at long intervals encounters in these novels yet—to tell it bluntly, most of them are ugly, whether or not the pictures have done them justice.

There would be better pictures if all these posers had their minds on taxes.
There would be more of the serious countenances, and consequently less of the seeming frivolity that one seldom turns to in faith and trust.
BERNARD DEBERTSHAEGER.
Cottleville, Mo.

THE REVENUE REVISION.

The decision of the White House conference on revenue legislation, as announced by the majority of the Ways and Means Committee, will be approved in some particulars, in others censured. In its entirety it will occasion no illusion. Substantial relief from the burden of taxation will not be had and will not be expected.

The sum of the conference's work is the announced reduction of $555,000,000 from the total of the current fiscal year's expenditures as estimated by Secretary Mellon of the Treasury Department. A spacious figure, truly, is that reduction, but even so the cost of government is to exceed four billions. Such a cost means heavy taxes for everyone, however apportioned.

The revision program includes the repeal of the excess profits tax, and items of direct, popular appeal, such as an increase of 100 per cent exemption to heads of families for dependents and the repeal of vexatious taxes on clothing, soda fountain drinks, toilet articles, etc. The retrenchment in expenditures, such as it is,
is to be effected, principally, by reducing the estimates of the War Department by $50,000,000, Navy Department, $100,000,000; Agricultural Department, $25,000,000; Railroad Administration, $50,000,000. The refunding of $150,000,000 of the public debt is mentioned, but that, of course, is a renewal of notes, not a saving.

The promised reduction in expenditures, however,
can hardly be dignified with the term retrenchment.
The curtailment just announced is homeopathic treatment. The case requires a surgeon. The one place where the knife could have been ruthlessly applied was on armament expenditures, provided Congress, at the close of the war, had compelled the nations to join in a cessation of military costs until the world had gotten back to industrial stability and solvency. That opportunity was missed away. Sooner or later, however, relief, through disarmament, must come. Along with it, very likely, must be devised a plan for refunding public indebtedness by which the vast costs of the war will be met, in part, by future generations. Governments must stop squandering the substance of their peoples on preparations for war. If permanent peace is Utopian then they must get together and arrange a long-time truce. In no other way can the oppressive load of taxation be lifted.

The relief afforded by the promised revenue legislation is welcome only on the principle of small favors thankfully received.

THE FALL OF KING SMALL.

The arrest of Gov. Len Small of Illinois shows how defenseless, after all, is the King-Who-Can-Do-No-Harm, sitting in his palace, with the High Sheriff perched on the portcullis puffing a pebeian pettico.
Especially if the King has neglected to provision the royal ladder.

The Sheriff won because there is no executive immunity against the pangs of hunger, which beset King and subject alike about three times a day. The weakness of the Governor's position was that it was not reinforced with the victuals that are vital to a defense against a well-fed Sheriff with a pocketful of cheroots.

The simple fact is that the Governor may be innocent and persecuted, as he says, and his enemies may be as malevolent as he says they are, but the King-Who-Can-Do-No-Harm is subject to the law. And the law is that once in every so often he must eat or be so unhappy that submission to the other law which claims his person is welcome.

It is a relief that the opera bouffe performance which has been going on for three weeks, with the Governor as the buffo, has come to an end. It was not a credible performance. The Governor was illfitted to the role of King. His armor rattled. Whether or not there is merit in the case against him, he has forfeited favorable opinion by claiming a peculiar exemption, particularly since his claim has failed.

A bluff has its uses until it is called. After that it is an absolute disability.

ARCHITECTURE AMUCK.

American ecclesiastical architecture has been dragged from the sepulchral solemnity of the Middle Ages to the fervid currency of the satirical periodical.
The designer of church ornamentation at last has found free of the figures of saints and gargoyles, of holy objects and sacred relics. It has been shown that he may become as free from this frozen medium of pious design as the modern Billy Sunday from the immutable Latin of the early church.

The break has been made by Bertram Goodhue and his partner, F. L. Mayers, architects of St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Fifth avenue, New York City.

So dulled had become the public's expectation of anything original in church architecture that it has taken 10 years for it to discover that Fifth avenue brides these many moons have been passing under a glorified dollar sign, the cynically assumed emblem of their aspirations, without knowing it.

Then, above the main entrance, there are carved historical caricatures of Fifth avenue types, and elsewhere, of more recent installation, are humorous cartoons of prohibition, the two rulers of soviet Russia (depicted as monkeys), capital and labor in conflict and the money bags of "J. P. M."

Such originality in conventional architecture can hardly be expected to endure. For, while the creators of new edifices may never again resemble their pious antecedents of Michael Angelo's day, there is still to be reckoned with the censorious hand of church administration, which, if it does not entirely disapprove the new architectural cartoon, is more than likely to disagree on the issues which it seeks to portray.

THE END OF AN ARGUMENT.

The Capper-Tincher bill, designed to end gambling in grain, and now requiring only the signature of the President before it becomes a law, was put forth by its chief sponsor, Senator Capper, avowedly as a measure to protect the rightful interests of the farmer. The Senator's defense of it on the floor, however, sounds more like an appeal to protect public morals through the prevention of gambling.

As an appeal of the latter nature, Senator Capper made out a strong case. He illustrated his argument by the citation of cases of financial ruin, embezzlement and suicide. He pointed to practices fraudulent both in effect and intent whereby small and honest gamblers are fleeced of hard-earned money. He pointed to the fortunes made by speculators who performed no service to society. Moreover, he described the hardships of the grain grower as a direct consequence of grain-pit gambling.

Here is the link in Capper's case that remains to be proved: Granted grain gambling to be an unmitigated evil, granting to it the cruel effects of any gambling classified as a vice, granting its parasitic status in the dealings of society, is the prevention of it going to help the grain grower? That, we shall presently have an opportunity to observe. The practical functioning of the law-to-be will settle an argument upon which theorists never could agree. If the new law fails perceptibly to protect the farmer from loss, then Senator Capper's cause becomes purely one of anti-gambling effort.

They couldn't arrest a Governor, but they did.

McKELVEY, SON & CO.

Director of Public Safety McKelvey wants to know why, just because his young son is a member of a contracting firm, that firm should not get money out of the city treasury for jobs privately let to that firm
by Director McKelvey.

He answers the question to his own satisfaction by announcing that he is not going to deprive the firm of business just because his son is a member of it.

It would probably be futile to try to explain to Mr.
McKelvey that the situation described, with him in a position to give out jobs without competitive bidding and approve the bills, is tainted with a certain delicacy. He would probably not understand.

The situation as he sees it is that here is a capable contractor who has shown good judgment by taking into the firm as a junior partner the 22-year-old youth who was formerly, by the grace of his father, chief engineer in McKelvey's department. He, as Director of Public Safety, has discretion in giving out work without bids. It stands to reason that a contractor who recognizes the budding ability of Mc-Kelvey's son is likely to do the work a little better than anybody else. And as for the charges, if anybody attempts to put anything over on the father of the junior member, the Director of Public Safety can be depended upon to hold up the bill.

The fact that the Director of Public Safety has given many jobs to Mr. McKelvey's son's firm and the Director of Public Safety has approved the bills proves that no favors are being shown to Mr. McKelvey's son's firm.

One cannot help thinking, though, that, if the Director of Public Safety were a man of finer sensibilities, the situation which works out so agreeably and impeccably for Mr. McKelvey might be slightly embarassing.

It is being cited that the senatorship cost Newberry twice as much as it did Lorimer. But with due allowance for war prices in other lines the actual difference may be easily overestimated.

ODE TO "MO."

MY heart to its native scene,
Missouri of mine, recurs.
(When I say "mine," I mean,
Of course, that I am here.)

To me, of all the earth,
The most important spot:
Since there I had my birth,
Without which I were not.

I dodged that dire disaster
And woke to this world's bounty
In the village of Lancaster,
The seat of Schuyler County.

There first I saw the light
Of my last innocence.
There first I filled the night
With vehemence intense.

All things to thee I owe.
I owe all things to thee.
For had there been no Mo.,
There never had been a Me.

Missouri would be great Without me, I'll allow.
But with no native State,
What a state I'd be in now!

De facto et de jure
A native son true
This lay to old Missouri
(My Mo.) my maw may moo.

RUPERT HUGHES.

If Senator Newberry is innocent, and did not violate the corrupt practices act in his race with Mr. Ford, why doesn't the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, which has just recommended that he be permitted to retain his seat, protest against the terrible injustice to have him put in prison? If the one thing is not true, then the other must be. The committee is either not doing its full duty by the country or by Senator Newberry. It says he is innocent, but it says it so weakly as almost to damn him with the odor of guilt. He is entitled to an apology from the committee; and assuming that it was doing full justice by the country when it pronounced him guiltless, he can scarcely do less than demand it and still expect us to respect the committee's recommendation.

One by one the picturesque things of the city page: Cabanne avenue west of Union boulevard is being improved. Most of the guides who have been taking people through the holes out there are not, fortunately, without prospect of a livelihood. They will merely follow the business over to Hoddiamont avenue, south of Park, where the holes are so big that the tour through one of them is part way made in a boat.

Col. Humphrey did not go on to say that the difference of 3 cents a bushel in favor of wheat going to Liverpool via the barge line goes to the farmers in the St. Louis territory, which is a fact. There isn't anybody in the valley who will not be benefitted by the river when it comes into its own, not even those who are so blind as not to see what it means.

We are obliged to the New York Herald for accrediting Rupert Hughes to Missouri. So much has been said of his youth in Keokuk that except for the Herald's reference to him we had not gone to the trouble to find out that he was born in Lancaster, Mo.

Not knowing whether the grain gamblers really cost the farmers anything or not, the Senate took Senator Capper's word for it and gave the farmers the benefit of the doubt. That is about all the farmers ever get the benefit of in Congress.

An Episcopal rector in New York City who is to wed a woman twice divorced despite the church's abhorrence of divorce was naturally a little pressed for justification to the public, so he mentioned the fact that he and his fiancée find themselves as to most things quite agreed.
We imagine that having a better justification he would not advance this one, since we perhaps love and admire most those with whom we disagree. It is quite true that the average couple does pretty well agree, but so is it true that the average couple amasses prejudices as opposed to thought-out conclusions. Nothing could be more advantageous in marriage than disagreement between husband and wife serving to induce thought and compromise. Had the rector said that he would marry the lady despite the disapproval of his church because he found himself and his fiancée so far disagreed that he felt they would make much of their companionship, he would have stood upon much better ground. We all know the husband and wife who are wholly agreed. They are the echoes of nothing.

The MIRROR OF PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publications, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

OUR RELATIONS WITH MEXICO.

From the Baltimore Sun.
THERE are many factors at work clarifying the relations between the United States and the republic south of the Rio Grande, and not the least of them are the character and intellectual capacity of Alvaro Obregon himself. Obregon recently rode the oil fields of graft and intrigue which does not live up to them will and find years, he will have no trouble about the export taxes he imposes on petroleum. Secretary of State Hughes is not the sort of man to be caught in the interventionist web; he will insist on maintaining American rights, but he is not going to confuse American rights with the sovereignty of Mexico. Mexico today has a great task ahead of her in making interest payments on her foreowned bonds, upon which she has defaulted and for which she is being pressed more insistently than ever. She has few sources of taxation, her people are impoverished, and naturally she turns to her natural wealth for the wherewithal to meet her obligations. It would be suicidal to make these taxes confiscatory, inasmuch as the policy would dry up the very springs from which the revenues of Mexico must come.

BUDGET SAVING.

From the New York Post.
GEN. DAWES certainly has a way with him.
After a little tour of the departments he announces that everybody has agreed to save what he can for Uncle Sam, and that the savings definitely promised aggregate $112,500,000. Gen.
Dawes does not stop with obtaining these promises. He publishes them, so that any department which does not live up to them will find itself faced with the unpleasant necessity of explaining.
With Dawes on the ground watching things, it is safe to say that the departments will exert themselves to the utmost to realize these economies.
Just to give them a mark to shoot at, he will up his first report to the President as Director of the Budget with three principles: That the minimum of expenditure is not necessarily the appropriation but the actual minimum consistent with efficiency; that deficiency appropriations are a thing of the past, and that "executive process" will now be exerted for more efficient and economical administration. These principles constitute a revolution at Washington, but Gen. Dawes has made a vigorous start toward putting them into practice. To complete the job will require persistent pressure until they become the accepted order. This is Gen. Dawes' real task.

SMOKING AND WORKING.

From the Pittsburgh Dispatch.
SOONER or later the "poison squad" made famous during Dr. Wiley's regime as Government chemist were to be expected to get around to tobacco. The Journal of the American Medical Association gravely reports kindred observations attempted to determine the relation, if any, between smoking and working. A number of experiments were made in a bottle-making factory where the subjects. The report is far from reassuring. The best workers were found to be the heaviest smokers and those who did not smoke at all. Chewers and light smokers were the poorest workers. A theory that the chemist absorbed more nicotine which affected their work falls down when the same result is noticed in light smokers who did not chew, leaving the inquiry as much in the air on that point as far as an explanation of why the heaviest smokers are non-smokers should match work. In conclusion the experiments suggest that the better workers may have been a heartier lot of workmen, regardless of their heavy smoking or non-smoking, and so we arrive back at the starting point, not wiser or as little informed as before the test.

American Party Tells of Trip,

Refuses to Discuss Condi-

By the Associated Press.
RIGA, Aug. 11.—Charles R. Crane, former United States Minister to China, arrived here last night from Riga, after completing a 7000-mile journey which took him across Siberia and Soviet Russia. Crane, who was accompanied by four Americans and a Chinese cook, refused to discuss the Russian situation until he had an opportunity to confer with Capt. Evan E. Young, representative of the American State Department here, and Walter L. Brown, European director of the American Relief Administration.

Those who accompanied Crane on his journey from the Far East were his son, John O. Crane; Donald M. Brodie, Crane's secretary; Morgan Palmer of Pittsburgh, N. Y., long in the service of the Chinese railways; Paul M. Dutko, formerly in the United States consular service at Harbin, and Li Shi-Ching, a smiling Chinese.

Crane Describes Trip.
Crane told the story of his trip to a crowd of American reporters waiting at the station to greet him. The party left for Moscow on July 16, and from that time until Aug. 6, when it left Petrograd for Riga, it traveled under a special permit from Nikolai Lenin, Russian Bolshevik Premier. The Americans had an opportunity fully to observe the comedy and tragedy of the everyday life of the Russian people and were given a greater chance to inspect conditions than has been granted any Americans since the outbreak of the Russian revolution in 1917.

Mr. Crane filled a car with packages of pins, needles, toothbrushes, soap and other merchandise, which he planned to use in paying his way in lieu of money. His stock, however, dwindled to a few cases at Chita, capital of the Far Eastern Republic. Mr. Crane believed he would not be permitted to proceed through Russia and have away most of his supplies. He had, in fact, turned back toward Peking, but was overtaken on his return journey by a message giving him permission to cross Siberia and Russia.

Spent 100,000,000 Rubles.
The Americans once more turned their faces to the northward and left Chita for Moscow, on July 2, arriving at their destination on July 11. They stopped at Irkutsk, Novosibirsk, Ekaterinburg, and other prominent towns in Siberia. During the journey Crane spent about 100,000,000 Soviet rubles, or about $3000, besides giving away the remainder of his stock of small merchandise.

As the train would halt here and there along the Transiberian Railway the Americans could get out of their special sleeping car to play baseball or swim in nearby streams. Before their train had left the Far Eastern Republic, it was attached to a hospital train carrying soldiers who had been wounded in fighting against the forces commanded by Gen. Baron Michael Uden-Sternberg, leader of the anti-Bolshevik troops there. The wounded men were badly beaten. When the train reached Moscow the Americans did not leave their car for a hotel, and during the eight days they stayed at the Soviet capital, had no trouble in getting good food. Two days were spent in Petrograd by Crane and his companions.

Crane is the guest of Ernest C. C. Wilson, the British Minister to Latvia, during his sojourn here. They are old friends, having been formerly colleagues at Peking. Later Crane will go to Berlin and thence to Prague, where he will visit his son, Richard Crane, American Minister to Czechoslovakia.

Agreed on by President and Republican Leaders.

TAX REVISION BILL TO BE ACTED ON FIRST

Agricultural Measure Also Will Get Attention—Railroad and Allied Debt Funding Bills Would Go Over.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Speeding-up orders were given in Congress late yesterday under an agreement between President Harding and Republican leaders for a 30-day adjournment of both House and Senate about Aug. 20, providing meantime the agricultural credits measure is enacted and the House passes the tax revision bill.

Under the tentative plan, the railroad debt funding, the allied debt refunding and other bills will go over until September. Enactment of several other important measures before the recess date, however, is contemplated.

The recess and legislative program was arranged more definitely by the President at a luncheon yesterday with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, and Senator Curtis, Kansas, assistant leader, after the President's discussion yesterday with House leaders.

Representations by Senator Lodge and that tariff, tax and railroad funding legislation would actually be expedited by the proposed recess were said to have figured largely in the President's assent to the 30-day vacation. The Senators said that the Senate Finance Committee, by working uninterrupted during the recess period, could make much greater speed on the tariff and tax bills.

The speeding up process, it was pointed out, rests with the House where the tax and agricultural credit bills are pending. The Senate has before it only minor bills and plans a week-end recess beginning today. Before the recess leaders expect to complete enactment of the Capper-Tamm anti-gambling bill, the shipping board deficiency appropriation bill and the Willis-Campbell antitrust measure. The new Republican bill to extend the Fordney emergency tariff law until the permanent bill is enacted, it was indicated, probably will go over until after the recess.

In the effort to secure their vacation the House tomorrow is to take up the shipping board deficiency bill and on Friday the agricultural credit measure, passed recently by the Senate. Both are scheduled for passage before the week-end, leaving the shipping board appropriation bill for Senate action next week, together with the conference reports on the agricultural credit, antitrust and other bills.

Next week is to be devoted primarily by the House to the tax bill. The only Senate action contemplated on the bill before the recess is formal reference to the Finance Committee for work during the recess. In severity. He asks the workers and agriculturists of other countries to come to the aid of Russia as a ready means of aiding the Soviet Republic.

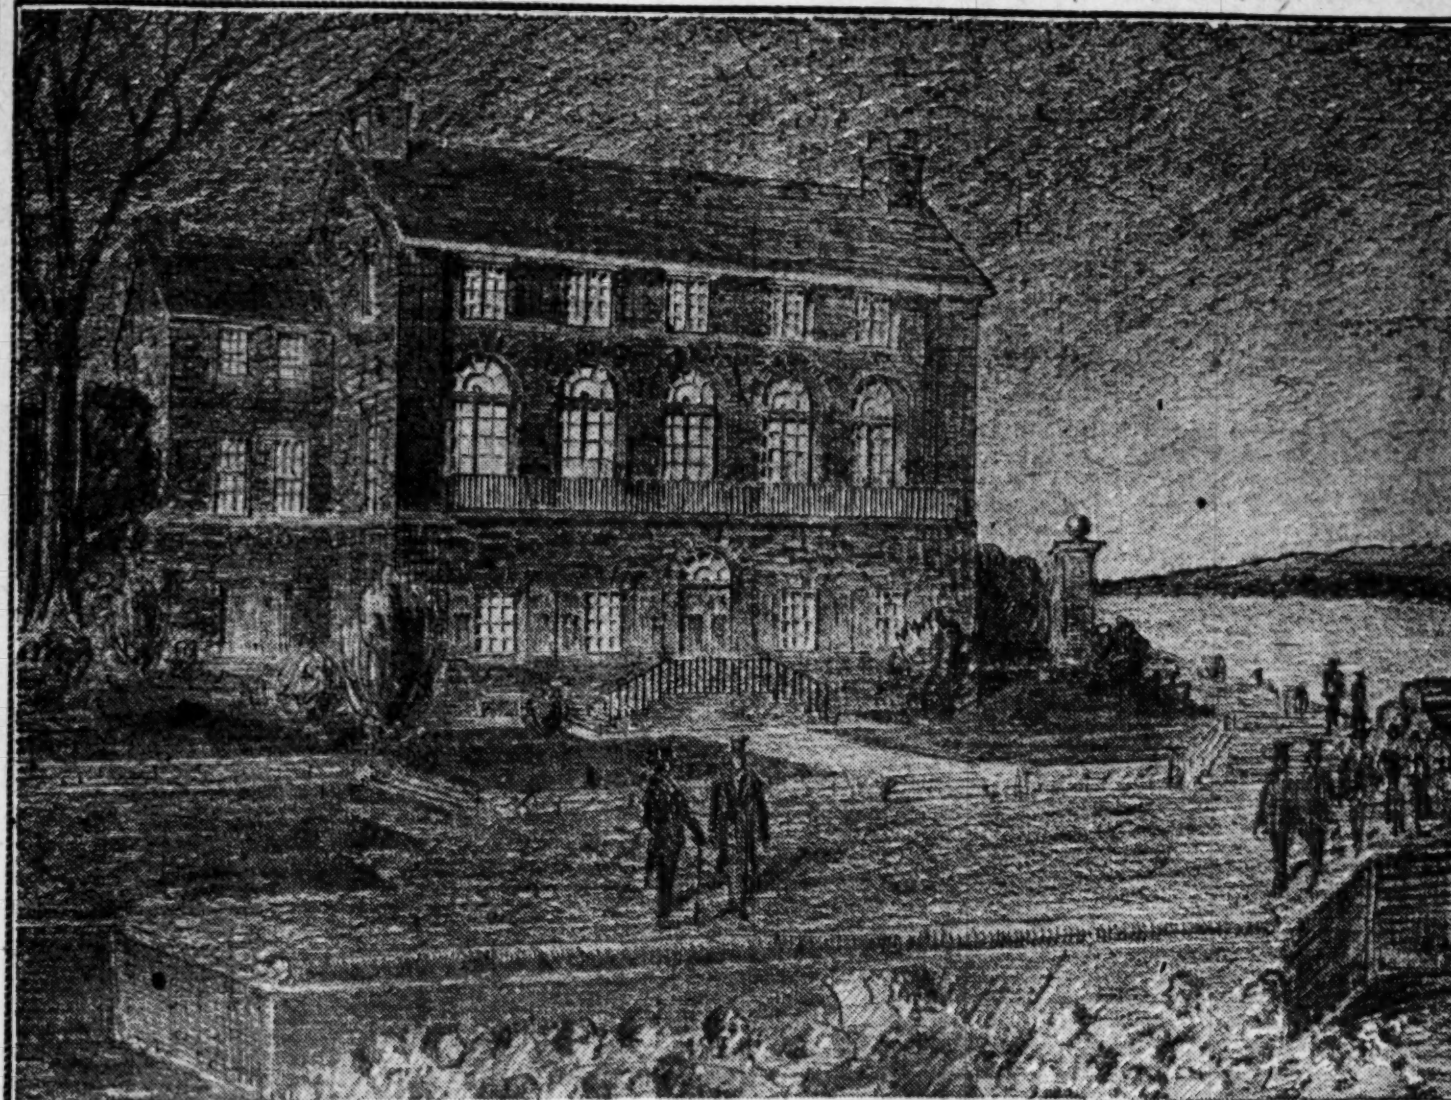

"Several Russian provinces," reads Lenin's appeal, "are afflicted by a famine which apparently will be only slightly less severe than that of 1891. This is a terrible consequence of the backward cultivation of this country and of seven years of imperialistic war and civil war imposed upon the workers and peasants by the land owners and capitalists of all countries. Immediate relief is indispensable."

"The Soviet republic of workers and peasants awaits this help from the workers and the small farmers. Both are themselves oppressed by capitalism and imperialism, but we are convinced that notwithstanding their own miseries, their lack of work and their increased cost of living, they will respond to our appeal."

A Moscow dispatch denies reports that cholera is so widespread in Petrograd that shipping is in danger. It is said there are only six cases in Petrograd.

Reports that Lenin intended to go to Scotland subject to British permission for a holiday are denied by the dispatch.

Two-Level Stage Planned for the Drama 'Missouri' at Coliseum in City's Celebration of State Centennial

The Old Missouri Hotel Around Which the Principal Action of the Historic Drama Will Center.

THE drama "Missouri," to be enacted in the Coliseum in the city's celebration of the Missouri Centennial, Oct. 10 to 15 inclusive, will be performed on a two-level stage, the lower level 6 feet above the Coliseum floor, and the upper level 20 feet above the floor.

Plans for the stage setting have been completed by Louis LaBeaume, who is working with Thomas Wood Stevens, author of the drama. A proscenium 65 feet wide and 40 feet high, without curtain, will frame the stage scene. An apron of the stage will extend toward the audience. For the principal action of the drama, the scene will be the old Missouri Hotel, where was held the legislative session at which conditions of admission of Missouri to the Union were discussed.

The terrace and street in front of the hotel will be the setting of the outdoor scenes, such as the duel between Benton and Lucas. For the indoor scenes, the Lafayette ball and the Legislative session, the upper stage, at the second floor level of the hotel, will be used, and the side of the house will disappear, revealing the action on the elevated stage. In the prologue, this same upper stage level will be shown as a bluff overlooking the Mississippi River, at the right. In the epilogue, following the play, the upper level also will be used for the action of the allegory. The hotel, and other items of the scenery of 1821, will not be visible in the prologue and epilogue.

The upper stage will be about 32 by 16 feet. The hotel building will stand 20 feet back of the main front line of the lower stage. The plans are designed to make it possible for the expected large audiences to get a better view than has been afforded of past spectacles in the Coliseum. The principal displays on the Coliseum stage in recent years have been the annual Valedictory coronation ceremony, the New York Hippodrome show and the Episcopal Church pageant of 1916, held in connection with the general convention of the church.

U. S. TOURISTS LEAVING LESS BEHIND IN EUROPE

Most of Spending by Americans
This Year Has Been to Slake Thirst.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The army of American tourists has now begun to rush homeward, leaving behind but few of the millions of dollars which European shopkeepers, hotel men and dealers in antiques had hoped to gather during the summer invasion. But the tourists have left behind an impression.

The unusual frugality shown by the Americans has aroused the belief in the Old World that the species known as high rollers and spendthrifts is rapidly becoming extinct in the United States. In the days before the war American tourists used to leave in Great Britain alone a vasty higher one for Americans. To circumvent this the Americans have been trying to give a cent the purchasing power of 6 pence.

"All the bars in five capitals," says a London correspondent, "are now there are two prices on the Continent—one price for the natives and a vastly higher one for Americans. To circumvent this the Americans have been trying to give a cent the purchasing power of 6 pence."

Certainly Paris has profited more than London from the Americans. One of the chief arguments for more liquor here and more time in which to consume it, it is that Americans have been making London only a junction for Paris. For weeks past most of the London newspapers have been full of complaints that London, that most of England, in fact, is so dry that Americans have been hurrying on to Paris to spend their money.

Black Egyptian Goddess Dug Up in Hesperides Gardens

Excavators at Bengasi Unearth Block of Marble With Flawless Greek Inscription.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, July 27.—A discovery which, it is claimed, will form one of the fundamental sources for a history of the Roman empire under Augustus has been made recently by Dr. Oliverio, an Italian savant in Cyrene, the ancient Greek colony in Africa, founded in the seventh century.

A Morning Post correspondent, writing from Cyrene, says that excavations at Bengasi—the ancient Berenice which stood in the midst of the Gardens of the Hesperides near the mouth of the river Lethe—have resulted in the unearthing of a block of marble eight feet long, one face of which bears a flawless Greek inscription of over 100 lines; the translation of a letter from Augustus to the Government and administration of Justice in Cyrenaea, giving a wonderful insight into the financial and judicial conditions of the country at that time.

Other interesting finds are a sanctuary dedicated to Eastern divinities, probably of the time of Julian the Apostate, with a remarkably well-preserved black marble statue of an Egyptian goddess. An extensive Ptolemaic cemetery also has been located. At Apollonia a Christian basilica of the fifth century is being excavated, and at Merdi, the ancient Barca, some Coptic inscriptions have been found which are held to be of great importance when the history of the Arab conquest comes to be written.

"PETRIFIED BODY" OF GIGANTIC SIZE FOUND IN TENNESSEE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 11.—Information as to the "petrified body" of gigantic proportions found near Helenwood, in Scott County, Tenn., was received here today. Crates Sexton of Helenwood found the "devil," as he calls it, on July 26, last, while prospecting for coal. The formation was five feet under ground. It weighs something like 500 pounds.

The freak is described as having a head of abnormal size, adorned by horns resembling those of a ruminant. Its mouth is of unusual size, with 24 prominent front teeth. The arms are of unusual length, with enormous hands. A chain resembling an ordinary trace chain circles the neck. Long brownish wings reach from the shoulders almost to the ankles. Imprint of the left hand is plainly visible on the chest. Sexton believes the object may be an image of an old tribe of Indians or cliff dwellers.

17,000,000 BARRELS OF OIL SHIPPED FROM TAMPICO IN JUNE

Increase of 8,418,000 Barrels Over
May Shown—Higher Duty Causes
Rush to Storage.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Petroleum shipments from the Tampico, Mexico, oil fields in June, aggregating 17,000,000 barrels, reached the greatest volume of shipments for any month this year excepting the record month of January, according to a report to the Commerce Department today from Vice Consul Hickerson. June figures, he said, showed an increase of 8,418,000 barrels over May shipments and a decrease of 1,417,000 barrels from those of January.

Because of the increased export duty on Mexican oil, effective July 1, Mr. Hickerson explained, there was a rush to empty all available storage, preparatory to a cessation of shipments after July 1. In the division of shipments he reported the United States received 12,857,000 barrels during June, approximately 8,600,000 more than in May and 75 per cent of the total net shipments.

Last Days of John Reed, Romantic American Figure of Soviet Russia, Described

Died of Overwork, Undernourishment and Typhus When in Midst of Preparing History of Revolution.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The New York World today prints the following:
In Moscow, nearly a year ago, John Reed, a reporter primarily and a communist by a combination of his nature and the rule of time, died an agonizing death, a victim of typhus, overwork and undernourishment. The manner of his going, the events which led up to it, the experiences of this romantic figure in the history of rebellion, have remained since then to Americans a closed book.

Today, however, the World is enabled to outline in more or less detail, and from a source that is beyond question as to authority, the last days of the young American, whose body lies with only five others of the millions who have seen death in Russia since November, 1917, in the hallowed grave acre of the Kremlin, and the only one to whom the writers of personal knowledge of the making of the Russian revolution are able to do honor by the erection of a deathless stone and epitaph.

Regard the communist experiment in Russia as we may, there is in the story of John Reed sufficient of romanticism, of poetry, of idealism, and, above all, of physical courage to warrant a popular interest in his life that will, in the words of Lenin himself, "increase with time and strengthen the hearts of men, and their moving forward or standing still."

As Park Row knew John Reed, he was a reporter. As the World's information of his last year, his last months and his last days would indicate, that is how he would have himself known. For, it is revealed in the story that has come to this newspaper, his very death was indirectly due to his great contribution to the world's knowledge of the history of the Russian revolution that would stand for all time as the authoritative document on the subject. As it was he was out with it, but with it of his work done, and the story of Russia as he would have written it lies, in its material and uncollected shape, in a trunk in a Finnish prison, and in its spiritual form in the Kremlin graveyard.

Left New York for Russia in 1919. He had previously been everywhere a reporter would want to go. In the war he had on all fronts. With Richard Harding Davis he had covered the Serbian retreat and with Davis he had fallen a victim to a kidney plague that brought both to the operating table. Davis soon to die, Reed pulled through. He had previously been with Villa in Mexico.

Where intensive life was Reed went. And that, probably more than communism, took him to Russia. After the revolution of 1917, in that year he saw government after government fall, and finally saw the raising of the new social organization known now as the Soviet form of government. He saw it through the Education Committee of the all-Russian congress of soviets. If Reed knew this he would be happy. It was the first of the six volumes he planned on the phenomena that is Soviet Russia.

When Reed reached Russia on his last trip he was greeted by Lenin and his associates in control of the Government for the heroic and daring figure he was. Lenin set off an apartment for him in the Kremlin—uniform of a revolutionist, of a prisoner in Finland, of a stowaway, of a spirit unimpaired of clothes.

In the winter of 1920, according to the World's informant, Reed was at the height of his career, in a spiritual sense. He had the full confidence of Lenin and Trotsky and was a member of the Executive Committee of the Communist International, a post involving a mass of executive and organizing work and calling for the expenditure of every ounce of energy he possessed—and he was a young man of superlative strength and push, only 32 years old when he died.

He organized sanitary battalions to fight plague and filth. He buried the dead; he wrote daily articles for newspapers and prepared much circular propaganda; and night after night he would go to the Kremlin at Lenin's request and stay until the break of dawn, advising, planning, discussing, ever equal to the occasions that rose in his path. Never once, however, did he deviate from his big main course, the collection of fact and information, the filing of documents, of papers, the making of notes, for the job that was to be the monument to his living days—the history of Russia in revolt and reconstruction.

News of an Indictment.

But in the spring of 1920 he got the news of an indictment, found by a Federal Jury in Chicago, charging him with participation in a Left Wing Socialist convention that was alleged to have been in contravention of certain American laws. He told Lenin and the rest that he was coming home to face the charge and, as he did in previous charges against him, to defeat it. The information reaching the Post-Dispatch is that he was advised by more than one highly placed Soviet official to ignore the indictments and stay in Russia, to which he is quoted as having replied:

"I'll take advice from friends or orders from superiors on anything but cowardice."

And he started home by way of Finland, only to be arrested in Abo on a charge of smuggling—a trunkful of documents, notes and papers by which he was to trace the course of the Russian revolution in book form so that the world might read. He had some valuables, too, some gold and some diamonds, but the Finnish accepted a fine for the possession of these and turned him loose. They refused, however, to give up the trunk full of papers.

He was set out upon the street and walked for two blocks, when he was rearrested on no charge and placed in solitary confinement on raw flesh and water for 12 weeks, during which time, the Post-Dispatch's informant alleges the American Consul refused to intervene, and in which time Reed contracted an illness that was to prove fatal.

At the end of 12 weeks he was released, but was still under guard of his documents and possessions. He besought the Estonian Minister to facilitate his return passage to Russia and succeeded, reaching Russia, to attend the meeting of the Third International, where he said to have electrified the Congress by his eloquence, despite the agencies he endured and despite a body swollen by the poisonous food of the Abo Jail.

Then, against the advice of his doctors, but upon the urgent request of Communist leaders, he went to Bakur to attend the meeting of the Russian and Near Eastern and Middle Eastern representatives where the antagonisms of centuries were to be wiped out, and it is recorded that here his youthful face and spirit, both somewhat restored, were normal, his eyes bright, his bludge and did much toward effecting the rapprochement that holds good between the Russian and the Middle and Near Eastern Governments and peoples today.

Returning to Moscow, Reed fell ill of the typhus and was taken to hospital. His wife, by devoted means, had reached Russia just at this time. There were no nurses; so his wife nursed him. He talked of all he had seen and all he wanted to do. He was particularly interested, next to his history, in a common opera he had written of the republic of Azerbaijan as a result of his visit to that territory.

Satire on New Republic.

He was a poet, Reed, and it meant something that he should have said that the lines in this little satire were among the best he had written. He had written plays, too, and one-sided either, for one of them is said to have been a satire on Socialism that might be presented someday. The Provincial players for a month presented a satire of Reed on the peace conference. Arnold Daly had enthused over another play that has never yet been offered to a producer. But the comic opera, in the Republic of Azerbaijan, had the material for his history of the Russian revolution, is in the trunk at Abo.

Death by typhus is among the worst deaths a man may suffer. It is slow paralysis. The tongue thickens and becomes mute, an arm, then a leg is paralyzed. Reed endured these agonies in complete consciousness. Then for ten hours he

MILLIONS OF TONS OF COAL WASTED IN KANSAS MINES

Industrial Court in Inquiry Finds Condition Due to Methods of Blowing Coal Out With Dynamite.

BLAST SHATTERS IT INTO SMALL PIECES

Many Mines Forced to Close Because of Over-Supplies of Slack Produced by Explosions.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
TOPEKA, Kan.—Millions of tons of Kansas soft coal are being wasted every year by wasteful methods of mining. This was one of the most important of the findings of the Kansas Industrial Court, following its long investigation of the coal-mining business in this State. The court found that thousands of the men working in the mines were not skilled miners, but simply common laborers drawing the high wages of a skilled miner.

The court announced that the operators of the mines, the owners of the coal fields, had taken the line of least resistance, had allowed practices to grow up which they knew were wasting the coal fields and never attempted to stop it. Instead, the operators simply added a little more to the price of the coal to the domestic consumer. In a statement of the findings of the court, Judge John H. Crawford said:

"The miners and operators alike admitted that the present methods of mining were not skilled and that they were the most wasteful methods that could be devised for getting out the coal. For many years it was the custom for the miners to undercut a section of the face of a coal vein. They would cut away the rock, dirt and slag under the coal for a distance of two or three feet. Then they would drill holes into the coal which had been undercut and by inserting a small amount of black powder would blow down the coal which had been cut under and was without support. The next day they would do the same work and would blow down another section of the face of the vein.

Dynamite Does the Work.
"The present method is to do little or no undercutting of the coal. The miner simply drills a hole into the face of the coal vein, puts a stick of dynamite into it and blows out several tons of coal. All he has to do then is to take a shovel and throw it into the cars.

"The testimony of the miners and operators themselves showed that the percentage of slack had practically doubled under the latter method of mining. When the undercutting and black powder were used the slack would run around 30 per cent of the coal mined. Where dynamite is used the amount of slack is between 50 and 60 per cent of all the coal taken out and it is asserted by miners that the heating power of the coal is materially damaged by the use of dynamite. The dynamite blows the coal into much finer pieces and this increases the amount of slack.

"There are many Kansas mines partially shut down now on account of the oversupplies of slack or steam coal. This slack coal cannot be stored successfully and must be sold about as it is mined. When the mines get more steam coal than they have orders for they shut down until the slack is cleaned up. Under the old methods of mining the slack situation was not nearly so serious as at present, when the mines have practically double the amount. The fuel oil situation is causing a large number of industries to turn to that fuel and there are many industries partially shut down, leaving the mines without adequate markets for their slack coal."

Other Facts About Business.
The court found some other interesting facts about the coal business. It found that the average cost per ton to mine coal was higher among the big operators than the small ones. The small operators were able to get out their coal at an average cost of $3.50 a ton or even less, while few of the big fellows were able to mine coal under $4 a ton. There was found to be a variation of $1.50 a ton in the costs of mining coal. The lowest cost was $3.04 a ton, while the highest price was $4.54 a ton.

The coal operators nearly all show profits on the business, most of them a profit of around 50 cents a ton. Only three companies of the 50 in business during the nine months showed any losses. Most of the companies showed profits of 11 to 14 per cent upon their investments in the Kansas fields. One company showed it had $50,000 invested in its properties and that its net profits, after paying income and excess profits taxes and all other taxes, amounted to $48,000.

Out of Work; Tries to End Life.
Charles Kleinschmidt, 51 years old, of 419 Wash street, a clerk, found on a bench in Carondelet Park at 5 p. m. yesterday with his left wrist slashed with a pocketknife, told policemen he had tried to end his life because he couldn't find work. He was taken to the city hospital.

Can a Mother be less thoughtful? Can a Mother try to relieve Baby with a remedy that she would use for herself? Ask yourself; and answer honestly!

Always remember that Baby is just a baby. And remembering this you will remember that Fletcher's Castoria is made especially for Infants and Children.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have placed on the market, have put in your home, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit. Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

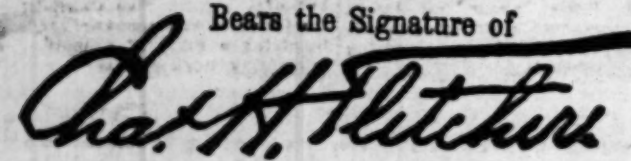

The big splash, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

Mothers everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowingly, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little-ones.

To them: to these true mothers no argument can induce them to set aside their bottle of Castoria, their old friend, that they might try even another and unknown remedy for babies. Then, would YOU think of going to YOUR OWN medicine chest to find relief for Baby's troubles? Can you not separate the false from the true?

ILLINOIS RESIDENT IS JUST AS OLD AS STATE

Stephen White, Living Near Coffee, Was Born in 1818, When Commonwealth Was Admitted.

Illinois has few residents who are as old as the State, but there are some. Four miles south of Coffee, near the Montgomery-Bond county line, Stephen White is living at the age of 103, as old exactly as his native State. "Uncle Steve," as he is colloquially known, was born Feb. 9, 1818, the year Illinois was admitted to the Union, and he still lives near his birthplace.

He is a son of Ambrose White, who came to Montgomery County from Kentucky in 1817 and settled on the east fork of Shoal creek near where it crosses the line between Montgomery and Bond counties.

White at the age of 9 went to work for Newton Coffey, the man who afterward sold the 20 acres upon which the original city of Hillsboro was platted to the County Commissioners for a county seat. He got $50 for the tract. Of this early work White recalls an experience.

"I must have been 10 or 11 years old," he said, "when one morning Coffey loaded up a wagon with bacon and hitching an ox team to the vehicle he started me to Vandalia, 25 miles away, with it. Coffey himself made the journey on horseback.

Wolves Attracted by Odor.
"Of course the ox team was very slow and it was late when I returned. Coffey got drunk at Vandalia and he told me to go on home and he would follow later. As I was returning through a piece of timber not far from home and all alone, I was attacked by a pack of wolves, attracted by the smell the bacon had left on the wagon.

"They circled around the team and wagon, snarling and snapping, and they scared me and the oxen half to death. I fought them off with my ox whip and the oxen broke into a run and when we got within sight of home the wolves slunk away. Coffey did not get home until noon the following day."

"When I got old enough to go courting I was chased home twice by panthers," he added. The senior White, who is the father of Rev. Robert White, a widely known Baptist minister, enlisted in 1846 for the Mexican war, being enrolled in Company E, 3rd Illinois. He was in the battle of Vera Cruz, and on April 18, 1847, was severely injured at the battle of Cerro Gordo."

He narrates his experiences in the Mexican contest.

"One day while my company were drilling in an open space I noticed a corn field nearby full of roasting ears. The sight made me hungry so I slipped out of the ranks and the officers were not looking and began to fill my haversack with the corn. Suddenly five Mexicans appeared on the scene, and carrying what appeared to me to be the biggest and longest swords I ever saw.

Took Along Mess of Corn.
They advanced on me with their swords drawn, but before they got to me I shot and killed one of them, then rushed upon another and ran my bayonet through him. The other three fled, and it is needless to say I turned and burned the wind in the direction of my company, but I took a big mess of green corn with me."

White is quite feeble but is looking forward to rounding out his 104th year. His mind is as bright and clear as ever.

"BILL," OUTLAW ELK AT YELLOWSTONE, ADOPTED BY B. P. O. E.

Members of New York Lodge
Visit Corral, and He Eats Up Membership Application.

By the Associated Press.
YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Aug. 11.—"Bill," the outlaw elk of Yellowstone, has been adopted by members of New York Lodge, B. P. O. E.

Bill had been in disgrace. His crime lay in being too tame. Residents of Mammoth, where park headquarters are located, spoiled Bill by teaching him to eat from their hands. From a pet he became a pest. So tame was he that a person or two that he no longer joined his brothers and sisters in their wanderings about Yellowstone and became an outcast.

Also his tastes degenerated. They became almost grotesque. The day came when no laundry hanging from the backyard clothesline was safe from his appetite. His special taste was for little silken dainties. So they locked Bill up in a corral and there he has remained.

Then came the crowd of New York Elks, visiting the park on their way home from their recent Los Angeles convention. A group of them visited the corral, where a number of calves are also kept.

"Hello, Bill!" cried one to an approaching group. Bill knows his name, and thinking he was being summoned, hurried up for food. The remarkable suite is full of spring edge and all Marshall lower cushion spring construction.

Now Bill has a particular fondness for scraps of paper and many a magazine here and telephone number have disappeared down his throat. A moment later Bill had a membership tucked inside of him.

After that there was nothing left but to bestow some sort of honor on the outcast. Accordingly he was officially appointed western mascot of the lodge. And the arrangement is a success.

How to Know Good Muslin

If you could look at muslin through a microscope, as a scientist would, you could judge the quality almost at a glance.

Coarsely woven muslin is often filled with chalk to make it appear fine and smooth when new. It looks better than it really is, because of this adulteration. But after it is laundered it looks as thin as cheesecloth, because the chalk washes out.

Sometimes the chalk is added so cunningly that washing is the only test.

At other times it is done so crudely that you can make this simple test at the counter: Rump the muslin briskly between your fingers—the fine white powder will fall out.

Try any test with Fruit of the Loom. You can see for yourself that it is muslin of high quality. For it is all cotton. No chalk is used.

Fruit of the Loom Muslin

For three generations Fruit of the Loom has proved its durability and the fact that it keeps its whiteness and fine texture after repeated washings.

Whenever you buy muslin, ask for Fruit of the Loom. You will also find the label in pajamas, sheets, and other articles made up by leading manufacturers.

Almost every good dry goods store in America has Fruit of the Loom.

YOUR Any Three Rooms Pictured Below for CHOICE! Only $398 $3 WEEKLY PAYS FOR IT!

Young Couples Who Have Purchased
This Remarkable Home Outfit Are More Than Pleased—Yes, Proud of It!

You, Too, Will Be Just as Enthusiastic
When You Come and See It!

Indisputable proof that you profit by our policy of "volume of sales and small profit" is this offer of a three-room outfit for $398. The illustration will instantly convince you that the quality of the Furniture involved is NOT $398 quality, but compares favorably with outfits priced at $750. We are satisfied with a small margin of profit, as it is our desire to build up a large volume of business, and we are, therefore, quoting this wonderful home outfit at a price that will make an instant appeal to all young couples contemplating going housekeeping and desirous of effecting substantial savings on their home outfit. This is NOT mediocre quality furniture as one would ordinarily expect to find at so low a price, but furniture of absolutely dependable quality, and is sold with our guarantee to give long, satisfactory service.

You have the privilege of selecting any three of the rooms shown here—kitchen, living room and bedroom—or kitchen, bedroom and davenport suite or overstuffed suite—or kitchen, dining room and living room. The terms we quote on this Home Outfit are just as attractive as this remarkably low price—only $3.00 weekly. And remember, a forty-six-piece silver set FREE.

The Overstuffed Living-Room Suite
Second edition the most luxurious and handsome appearing Suite that has ever been offered you. Its graceful lines, its elegant appearance, will win your instant admiration—constructed to give long satisfactory service. This remarkable Suite is full of spring edge and all Marshall lower cushion spring construction.

The Handsome Davenport Suite
A Davenport Suite answers a twofold purpose—that of a living and a bedroom, as this suite includes a davenport that converts into a full-size, roomy and extremely comfortable bed. Suite is sturdily constructed of genuine oak or rich mahogany finish. Richly upholstered, and consists of davenport, armchair, arm rocker and library table.

The Queen Anne Dining-Room Suite
Handsome Dining-Room Suite in Queen Anne period design—a style that is in the height of popular favor. This suite is superbly finished in rich walnut, and comprising large buffet, six-foot round extension table (or large oblong table can be substituted if you desire), and six full leather-upholstered chairs.

The Elegant Queen Anne Bedroom Suite
This wonderful Suite is indeed a tribute to the furniture craftsmen; just as it is—masterpiece of Queen Anne Bedroom Suite that is fully constructed in America, of solid walnut or mahogany. This exquisite Suite consists of full-size bed and bed, large dresser and chest of drawers which has three large enclosed and two open trunk drawers, as well as two small dresser compartments.

The Modern Kitchen Outfit
As shown here, complete white enamel-lined Kitchen Cabinet with metal floor compartment and silver and large metal bread and cake box with large compartment for pots, pans and tinware—a gas range—a fully constructed kitchen table and three kitchen chairs—also high-grade floor covering in beautiful pattern.

Soldier's Funeral Sunday.
The funeral of Private Louis F. Siedentop, 24 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Siedentop, 1 Company, Seventh Infantry, killed in action at the second battle of the Marne, France, July 15, 1918, will take place Saturday afternoon from the family residence at Weldon Spring, St. Charles County. Private Siedentop entered the service Oct. 5, 1917. St. Charles American Legion Post, No. 112, will have charge of the funeral.

PEN OF 'MONSIEUR X' AGITATES TWO LANDS

Comte de Jehay, Belgian Author of "Strange Lover," Suspected of Writing Anonymous Letters.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—The French and Belgian social worlds are much agitated over the report that the Comte de Jehay, better known as the Belgian author "Vansteen," is facing prosecution for writing anonymous letters involving the reputation of members of prominent families, including a lady of honor to Queen Elisabeth.

The Belgian police have been investigating complaints against a certain anonymous "Monsieur X." for several months without success, but recently the Comte de Jehay published a social novel, "Strange Lover," in which there were many passages resembling strangely the allegations mentioned in the anonymous letters.

Although the volume was published in Paris, the Belgian police have proscribed its entry into Belgium and have ordered that they be notified of the addresses of all persons to whom Comte de Jehay sent private copies.

Comte de Jehay has denied all complicity or intimate knowledge of affairs at the Belgian court, but he is under the severest suspicion, and it is reported he was unable to obtain passports to France. While on occasional trips to Belgian resorts he was constantly under police surveillance.

METROPOLITAN MUSEUM TO GET BREICER'S ART COLLECTION

Rich Group of Paintings, Statuary and Tapestries to Be Kept in Room Bearing His Name.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Michael Breicer has bequeathed his art collection to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, on condition that it be kept in a room or rooms bearing his name for 25 years. The collection is rich in primitive paintings and in choice statuary, tapestries, Gothic figures in polychrome, bronzes, porcelains and etchings.

Among the other notable art objects are a fifteenth century Gothic figure in armor, a ninth century Sasanian stone sculpture, a fourteenth century carved wood group of horses and figures in polychrome, a copper-bronze group of the Virgin and Child, a Champeve enamel, twelfth or thirteenth century, a twelfth century stone sculptured figure of Moses, a carved wood Gothic credence and a thirteenth century enamel reliquary.

There are also a carved wood Gothic cabinet, a fifteenth century primitive Madonna and Child of two figures, "Heads of Two Kings," a twelfth century stone sculpture, Savonarola arm chairs, a Della Robbia Madonna group, a Holy Family by El Greco, an Italian circular painting of the fifteenth century entitled "Tobias and the Angel," a profile head of St. John by Piero di Cosimo, and a Gothic tapestry of "Scene From the Life of Christ." There are 72 objects in his collection.

INCORRECT ADDRESS GIVEN IN ACCOUNT OF MANN ACT ARREST

John J. Ward, Bound Over in East St. Louis, is Not John J. Ward of 4172 DeTonty Street.

In Tuesday's Post-Dispatch it was incorrectly stated that John J. Ward, of 4172 DeTonty street, St. Louis, employed at the plant of the American Car and Foundry Co., at Madison, Ill., had waived preliminary hearing in East St. Louis on a charge of violating the Mann act and furnished bond to await the action of the grand jury.

John J. Ward of the DeTonty street address is not the Ward involved in the case, and is not and has never been employed in the Madison plant. He is president of T. J. Ward Construction Co., of 1519 Olive street and is married. The Federal authorities in East St. Louis had obtained the DeTonty address through direct misunderstanding, and it appeared on their records in the case, but they arrested the John J. Ward wanted in the case in Madison and have ascertained that the DeTonty street address is not the home of the man accused, but that he resided on North Euclid avenue.

MAN ACQUITTED OF ROBBERY

George Brandhorst, 24 years old, of 3142 Shattuck avenue, was acquitted by a jury in the Criminal Court yesterday of robbery in the first degree. He was charged with complicity in the robbery of Charles Kaufman, proprietor of a confectionery at 2501 Mackinac avenue, March 31, of $69 in money and property. His defense was an alibi.

Two men, George Weaver and Joseph Giardina, pleaded guilty in June and were sentenced to five years each. Wesley Woodruff is still to be tried.

Liederkrantz Elects Prof. Miller. Prof. Bernard L. Miller of Belleville was appointed director of the Liederkrantz Society at a meeting held by the Belleville organization yesterday. He succeeds Prof. Max Gundlach of St. Louis. Prof. Miller is organist and choirmaster of St. Peter's Cathedral.

REAL ICE CREAM

Previous to the late European war, the French hardly knew what ice cream was.

What they called ice cream was only shaved ice with liquids poured over it.

But our soldier boys soon taught them how to make real American ice cream.

And now they are as enthusiastic about it as the patrons of the CHILDS restaurants.

Deliciously smooth and creamy. CHILDS ice cream is the dessert de luxe.

WOMAN CONGRESSMAN FIGHTS MATERNITY BILL

Miss Alice M. Robertson Says It Would Establish Autocratic Center of Propaganda.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Expressing opposition to the Sheppard-Towner maternity bill, Miss Alice M. Robertson, Oklahoma, only woman member of the House, declares in a statement that "its salient feature is not tangible help of the kind the general public infers would be given, but the establishment of an autocratic, undefined, practically uncontrolled, yet federally authorized, center of propaganda."

"Statistics presented by the proponents of the maternity bill might find difficulty in passing the Ananias test," says Miss Robertson, adding that without complete statistics, which "are not to be had," the "so-called" claim, which, she says, had been made by Mrs. Florence Kelley, general secretary of the National Consumers' League, that "680 babies die every day" was absurd on the face of it and "quite in keeping with her comparison of Congressmen to Herod."

"Were the pitiless light of real publicity turned upon the methods which have brought the maternity bill thus far toward enactment," Miss Robertson's statement continues, "its most ardent proponents, in my belief, would, in all fairness, be compelled to allow time for the as yet unheard majority of women, who know nothing of the proposed legislation, to learn the facts and to speak for themselves."

The bill, which has been passed by the Senate, is pending before the House Commerce Committee.

RED CROSS PREPARATIONS TO AID IN RUSSIAN RELIEF

Ways and Means Will Be Taken Up at Meeting of International Society.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Aug. 11.—Col. Ernest P. Bicknell, director-general of civilian relief for the American Red Cross, and Dr. Albert R. Hill, director of the American Red Cross in Europe, will proceed to Geneva Saturday to represent the American Red Cross at the conference of the International Red Cross Society, which begins Monday, to study ways and means for relief of the famine-stricken Russian provinces. The part of the American Red Cross in the work will be in complete harmony with the American Relief Association, headed by Herbert Hoover, and in accordance with the wishes and instructions of the State Department at Washington.

It is the present intention of the American Red Cross to devote special attention to surgical supplies, nursing the sick and feeding children, the aged and invalids.

Reports received by the American Red Cross here tend to show the situation in Russia is rapidly growing worse.

ST. LOUIS SHARE OF STATE SCHOOL FUND $801,716.23

Amount Is $242,594.71 Greater Than the Allotment of Last Year.

By the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 11.—The St. Louis share of the State school fund for the coming school year will be $801,716.23, which is $242,594.71 more than the St. Louis allotment last year.

The total amount of school fund disbursements as announced by State School Superintendent Baker is $4,422,114.98. Kansas City, including Jackson County, will get $462,320.75, an increase of $146,654.04 over last year. The school moneys are no longer disbursed on the basis of school population, but upon the average daily attendance of pupils at the public school. On the score of attendance alone, the apportionment is $2,769,723.60. The teachers' quota is $1,418,250. Rural schools will obtain $144,462. Unconditional aid to high schools is $57,506.38, and $2173 is being withheld pending the approval of high schools.

The amount apportioned for the pay of teachers in St. Louis is $273,925.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS CONTINUED DECLINE IN JULY

Country's Trade Still Shows Favorable Balance of $144,000,000.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Exports and imports continued their steady decline during July but the country's trade for the month resulted in a favorable balance of $144,000,000 according to a statement issued last night by the Commerce Department.

Exports for the month aggregated $222,000,000 as compared with $226,000,000 last month and $651,000,000 in July 1920. Imports for July totaled $178,000,000 against $135,000,000 last month and $537,000,000 in July a year ago.

For the seven months ending with July exports amounted to $2,856,000,000 as against $4,597,000,000 during the same months last year, while imports aggregated $1,496,000,000 as compared with $2,481,000,000 during the corresponding period of 1920.

University Adviser on City Planning.

By the Associated Press. LAWRENCE, Kan., Aug. 11.—C. M. Sale of 30,000 Dolls Begins Tomorrow—An August Feature Event of Great Magnitude
This unprecedented event is one of the most impressive instances of value-giving that the August Campaign has brought forth. The collection of Dolls is bewildering in its immensity and variety and with the values surpassing those of pre-war days the sale should interest everyone who has any idea of buying Dolls between now and Christmas. Such a saving opportunity is most unlikely to occur again in many months, take full advantage of it tomorrow.
Sale starts at 8:30 a. m. Friday. Because of tremendous quantities, Main Floor Center Aisle Tables will be devoted to the sale, in addition to large space on Basement Gallery and in Basement Economy Store.

PREACHER, IN ADDRESS, DEFENDS KU KLUX KLAN
Georgian, at Tulsa, Says Crimes by Cowards Have Been Attributed to Klansmen.
By the Associated Press.
TULSA, Ok., Aug. 11.—Many crimes have been committed by the cowardly in the name of the Ku Klux Klan and the order of which he is a member is composed of law-abiding citizens, Dr. Saleh A. Ridley, Atlanta, Ga., minister, declared in an address on the aims and organization of the "invisible empire" here last night.
The purpose of Ku Klux, the speaker said, is three fold, to protect the weak, innocent and defenseless from the outrages of the violent, the lawless and the brutal; to protect and defend the Constitution of the United States, and to aid in the execution of all constitutional law. Insofar as the protection of the weak is concerned, there is no color line drawn, declared Dr. Ridley. The provision of its membership barring negroes, Jews and Catholics has led many people to believe, according to Dr. Ridley, that the Klan is negative and not positive in its aims. While his work has been in many instances provoked by color trouble, its primary aim is not to fight the negro because he is a negro, Dr. Ridley said, and added that if the negro was left alone he would not of himself make trouble and there would be no color problem.
Dr. Ridley, who declared he was an imperial officer in the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, insisted that he was not a paid lecturer of that organization, but was spending his vacation "between Sundays" speaking for it in order to combat "infamous propaganda" which he said had been circulated against it.
The address was at Convention Hall, and in spite of the heat the building was well filled. Most of the auditors were men.
No interruptions marred the address, the large audience remaining quiet and attentive during the speech. No admission fee was charged.
"A white man is a white man, whether he lives in New Jersey, Indiana, Kansas, Illinois, Oklahoma or Georgia," the speaker said, "and a white man's job is to see that civilization comes under the dominion of no inferior race so long as he lives."
ROBERT INGERSOLL MEMORIAL TO BE DEDICATED TOMORROW
Birthplace at Dresden, Ill., to Be Permanent Memorial to Political and Military Man.
By the Associated Press.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 11.—The birthplace of Robert G. Ingersoll, whose military and political career in Illinois marked him as one of the nation's eminent statesmen and soldiers of the period following the outbreak of the Civil War, will be dedicated as a permanent memorial at the village of Dresden, Yates County, on the west shore of Seneca Lake, near here, tomorrow, the eighty-eighth anniversary of his birth. A bronze tablet, erected by his grandson, Robert Ingersoll Brown, now marks the old frame homestead.
Nearby the old homestead, which still is in an excellent state of preservation, is the Reformed Church, a century old, of which Col. Ingersoll's father was minister. At 15 years young Ingersoll was admitted to the practice of law. His success as a barrister was immediate. In 1857 he moved to Peoria, and in 1860 was a Democratic candidate for Congress, but was defeated.
His military career opened at the outbreak of the Civil War with his organization of a cavalry regiment in Peoria, which became the Eleventh Illinois Cavalry, of which he was commissioned Colonel. Raiding and scouting formed the principal part of his service. On Nov. 28, 1862, with his 600 men he attacked a Confederate force which proved to be 10,000 strong, and was captured.
After the war he was elected on the Republican ticket as Attorney-General of Illinois.
At the Republican national convention in 1876 he nominated James G. Blaine for the presidency. According to many people he would have been President in 1880 had it not been for his pronounced agnostic beliefs. He died in New York City, July 21, 1899.
MAN, WIFE AND SUITOR SHE ELOPED WITH, LIVING TOGETHER
Trio Residing on Farm—Indignation Over Elopement Growing Among Neighbors.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Clark Durea and Earl Van Noy, with whom Mrs. Durea eloped from her home at Monticello recently, are apparently all reconciled once more. The strangely mixed trio are living together with Durea's young daughter, Gladys, on a farm of Van Noy's parents, three miles from Monticello.
Durea, ever since his wife left, has received the sympathy of all who know him and all are surprised to learn that he has consented to take up his abode as he has. Indignation is increasing daily among people of the section where the elopement occurred.
Heads New Mexico Farm School.
By the Associated Press.
STATE COLLEGE, N. M., Aug. 11.—Dr. Harry L. Kent, now in charge of the Experiment Station of the Kansas State Agricultural College at Fort Hays, Kan., has been elected president of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts here. He has accepted, the Board of Regents announces.

LAST DAYS OF
SOVIET RUSSIA

held the hand of his wife while he died. They put a new suit on him, then, for he was not to say no, and they laid him in state in the labor temple, and multitudes came, for Reed to Russia was as much a hero as the mightiest of Russians. And everyone knew that Lenin sought his counsel and cherished his friendship.

As the World's Informant yesterday said, "The crime of it is that in Aba are the trunk and the documents, uncollected, and in the Kremlin grave across his great experience."
The tombstone over the grave was unleaved on July 8, 1931. It bears only two words for an epitaph. They are—
"John Reed."

SUIT RECALLS DISAPPEARANCE

Wife Seeks to Collect Insurance on Man Missing at St. Joseph, Mo.
By the Associated Press.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 11.—The disappearance in St. Joseph of William L. Tillotson, a wealthy Denver real estate broker, on Aug. 30, 1929, in the middle of the day, was recalled yesterday when his wife filed suit to collect a life insurance policy of $10,000 which he carried.
Tillotson left the home of a relative ostensibly to purchase railroad tickets for return of himself and wife and daughter to Denver. Several hours later some of his clothing was discovered on the bank of the Missouri River and he has never been seen by his family since. Mrs. Tillotson contends that her husband was robbed and murdered and thrown into the river.

Three of these homers came in the first set-off, and aided the Rickeymen materially in winning a 6-4 victory with a four-run rally in the eighth. Two more round-trippers were made in the second battle, the opener by a husky batting session in the eighth and the Reds took the second because they stole some of the Rickey tapping recipe and staged a three-run uprising in the seventh. Pfeffer outpitched Adolfo Luque in the first, while Fred Combe outlasted three St. Louis servers in the second—Haines, Sherdel and North. Combe aided his own cause by his hitting, his double and single counting greatly in the Cincy scoring. The Cardinals played errorless ball in both games, accepting 77 chances without a slip.

Stock laid down a pretty bunt to Groh, and beat it out. Groh, trying to make the play, threw past first and Smith and Mann tallied. Hornsby planted one in the Knot-Hole Gang and scored Stock ahead of him. Pfeffer held the Reds easily in the ninth.

Long, Rainy Afternoon.

A light rain had fallen spasmodically throughout the first game and continued at intervals in the second. Toward the end of the afternoon it took a man with good eyesight to discern the outfielders in the dim distance, and the shades of night had fallen fast and flat when the last Cardinal was out.

Haines and Combe were the pitching selections for the second war. Haines started like a right heater while Combe was hit safely by the first three Cardinals to face him. Yet Combe was in there at the finish while Jess had passed out of the picture. Les Mann, first up against Combe, hit home run, 4 into the right-field bleachers. Schultz followed with a single, as did Stock, but Hornsby flied out. Fournier fanned and McHenry popped to Groh. Held scoreless by Haines in the first four innings, the Reds counted one in the fifth on a knee of single, and another in the sixth on Rouse's homer, which brought the total of long hits to five. Singles by Stock and Mann and a crashing double to right by Hornsby secured two for the Cardinals in the fifth, after which they called it a day and made but one more safety during the rest of the game.

Shocker Humbles The Senators in Final of Series

Fohl Uses "Diplomacy" to Get His Star Righthander to Ask to Pitch the Game.

From a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—You have to hand it to Lee Fohl. He may not be the best manager in the business, but he knows baseball and he knows the players, and he is pretty shrewd when leveled for a point he wants to gain. He is fully conversant on the "hoodoo" Shocker holds over the Griffins and he wanted the final game here. Urban had worked on Sunday and was not quite due, but he had a scheme to get the great twirler on the rubber yesterday.

He got Davis to tell Shocker that he was going straight home from here and that he wanted company. The result was that Shocker asked Fohl to go home with Davis and he was told that he was needed in the clubhouse here. It might be arranged. Shocker, of course, fell for the little bit of diplomacy and as a result went on the rubber and held the Griffins in the hollow of his hand from start to finish and he had them beaten before the game started. Fohl will deny all this, but it comes pretty straight from one of his players.

"Dixie" Davis was a big man in Washington yesterday. The papers printed his photograph and long accounts of his career in connection with details of his 19-inning victory over the Griffins. It certainly was one of the biggest performances in the records of baseball.

Browns Go to Detroit.

The Browns left Washington last night at 8 o'clock and were due in Detroit about noon today. Today is an open date. Fohl said Vandighe would face the Tigers in the first game Friday and probably Bayne or Burwell on Saturday. They carry the Tigers with them Saturday night to St. Louis. Davis and Shocker should arrive in St. Louis tonight.

The Nationals will leave here Sunday night for St. Louis, stopping off en route at Bloomington, Ill. Griffiths old home town, where an exhibition game will be played Tuesday with the Three-I League team of that place. The proceeds are to go to the family of Joe Leonard, late infielder of the Griffins.

In the final game yesterday the Browns put up a good game to win. The fans of the Griffins showed a slovenly performance, their errors of omission being equal to those of commission. The Senators were the first to score, getting one run in the second inning.

Shanks led off with a single to right and on the hit-and-run reached second while Gerber was throwing out. O'Rourke fouled to Seaver, but Zachary surprised Shocker and the spectators with a clutch single to center, sending Shanks home.

Browns Go Into Lead.

The Browns tied things up in the third. Tobin walked after Shocker had grounded to Judge and reached third on Ellerbe's hit to right. Sliger then hit to Harris and Tobin was headed off at the plate by a good throw to Garhart. A passed ball secured to second and he advanced over the plate on Williams' single to center. Fohl's crew went into the lead in the fourth scoring a run, and were never headed. Seaver singled to center, was sacrificed along by Gerber, and after McManus had skied to Harris, came home on Shocker's nice single to right. Another run was registered in the fifth, the result of Sliger's single and Jacobson's Yummy triple that Brower misjudged. The Browns' fourth tally went up in the sixth, the result of Seaver's walk, two outs and Tobin's bunt toward first which Johnny beat out.

The Nationals got their second and final run in the same inning. Brower had reached third on his single and two outs, when Shanks tripled to left, a mighty wallop. Ellerbe tossed out Garhart, leaving Shanks stranded on third.

After two rounds of ciphers, the Browns made the total five by scoring another run in the ninth, Tobin leading off with a fine double to center, and then home when Milan gloriously muffed Sliger's fly in short center. The three Griffins went out in quick order in rotation in the ninth and the game was over.

SHARPE TO REFEREE AT RIVERVIEW CLUB BOUTS

Matchmaker Roger Cornell of the Riverview Athletic Club, announced yesterday that Harry Sharpe would referee at the club's opening flistic show, to be held at the Riverview Club on the afternoon of Aug. 20.

The matches announced for this occasion are: Eddie Randall vs. Ed Mahoney (San Francisco); Jimmy Kerns vs. Johnny Lucas; Kid Shields vs. Elmer Ferrera; Willie Ramsey vs. Kid Trisco.

Director Cornell announces that a swimming program will precede the bouts and a dinner will follow it.

Yanks Buy Dallas Star.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 11.—The management of the Dallas Baseball Club has announced the sale of Pitcher George Swartz to the New York Yankees for $4000. Swartz will report to New York after the close of the Texas League season. Swartz is a southpaw and came to Dallas this season from the West Canada League.

THE GOAT.

If the pitchers have a slump, Can the manager. Do not blame it on the ump. Can the manager. If the team is on the bum, If the boys are acting dumb, If a felder breaks a thumb, Can the manager.

If they lose a hard-fought game, Can the manager. He's the only one to blame, Can the manager. If he cannot make them play In a pennant-winning way, Separate him from his pay— Can the manager.

When the team begins to slip, Can the manager. If the catcher gets the pip, Can the manager. If a felder muffs a fly When the sun gets in his eye, Do not blame it on the ump. Can the manager.

FIXTURES.

Connie Mack and Johnny McGraw seem to be the only canless managers in captivity.

Connie was mauling the White Elephants in the American League 20 years before the Eighteenth Amendment made the cellar famous.

A Manager who can manage to hold his job 20 years is by way of being some manager, we'll say.

MEN AND METHODS.

Johnny McGraw, runner-up to Connie for continuous managing, has been signing checks for the purchase of Claiborne for 18 years. Johnny is the champion check-book manager, while Connie made his reputation by despoiling cradles of infant prodigies.

Both systems have merit as bringers-home of the bacon, but when the future of a ballplayer hangs on a safety pin, it's taking a long chance.

However, Connie grabbed off Eddie Collins and Stuffy McInnis, while the nurse had her back turned, and thereby laid the foundation for many pennants and world's championships.

But when Connie disposed of his erstwhile infant prodigy, he dugged a pit for himself, going to the cradle to the grave, as it were.

Connie has been knocking at the cellar door for seven years now, while the fans of Philadelphia are eagerly looking forward to his "coming out" party.

"READY TO FIGHT," ALL CHAMPION HAS TO SAY OF HIS BATTLE PLANS

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, arrived in Chicago last night, en route to New York, in response to a telegram from his manager, Jack Kearns. Dempsey said he knew nothing about a proposed match with Jess Willard, and declared emphatically that there was no chance of his making a gold-fight with the champion.

Asked if there was any prospect of a match in the near future, the champion smiled and said: "Boys, I'm ready any time, and I feel fit as a fiddle now."

Tennis Notes

John Longinotti won the first annual singles championship of the Cabanne Tennis Club by defeating L. Longinotti, a cousin, in the final round. The score was 6-3, 7-5.

L. Longinotti, former Illinois University player, reached the final round by defeating J. Paxton, 6-1, 8-6, in one semi-final match, while J. Longinotti defeated Alex. Brown, 6-3, 8-6, in the other. In the playoff for third place honors J. Paxton defeated C. Rivera, 6-3, 6-3. The winner received a gold watch, the runner-up a silver medal, while Paxton was awarded a bronze pin.

Pairings for the challenge matches are as follows: L. Longinotti, silver, vs. J. Longinotti, gold; J. Paxton, bronze, vs. L. Longinotti, silver; S. Suman, challenger, vs. J. Paxton, bronze.

Only one tennis player was yesterday in the Y. M. H. A. tennis tournament. N. Resnikoff advanced to the second round by defeating Nat Silverman. The score was 6-0, 6-1.

Fred Justies and Ted Drexels will oppose Walter Finger and George Finger in a doubles match in the Triquetra Club tournament this afternoon. Drexels and Justies are favored to win.

Wray Brown, captain of the Washington University tennis team, returned from Sioux City, Ia., today. He played in the Interstate event there last week and, with Philbrook Smith of Ames, Ia., won the doubles title. The same team also captured the Nebraska State doubles title the week before.

Brown will play in several Triple A Club matches and then depart for the National doubles event next week.

Missouri Golfers Play Close Match in T.-M. Tourney

J. C. Ward One Up Over Fellow Kansas Cityan After 18 Holes.

By the Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 11.—In a nip and tuck match between two Kansas City stars in the fourth round of the Trans-Mississippi championship tournament, today, J. C. Ward was 1 up on J. C. Stuttle at the end of 18 holes.

L. D. Bromfield of Denver, Colorado champion, was 4 up on J. A. Kennedy of Tulsa, Oklahoma champion. T. B. Cochran of Wichita Falls, Tex., was 5 up on L. G. Palmer of Denver.

George von Elm, of Salt Lake City, Utah, furnished the best golf. He had a 71, one under par, and was seven up on A. H. Warner of Denver. Bromfield and Cochran each had 75s.

Stuttle was one up on Ward at the end of the first nine, but the 19-year-old Kansas City player improved his play during the second nine holes and took the lead. Stuttle had a 76 and Ward a 77, due to Ward's poor showing in the early play.

The second 18 holes of the four-round were played this afternoon. The first matches began at 2 o'clock.

ATHLETES TO STRIVE TO SET NEW WORLD RECORDS AT A. A. U. MEET SATURDAY

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Efforts to smash world's records are to be made in several events Saturday in connection with the Central A. A. U. outdoor track and field championships at Stagg Field.

Joe Ray, who wears the Illinois Athletic Club colors, has announced his intention of trying to smash the world's mile-run record, held by N. S. Taber, who made a mark of 4m. 12.3s. in 1915. He made 4m. 14.4-s. in a recent invitation meet at Pasadena, Cal. Sol Butler, former Duquesne College athlete, who the contest was unattached, will try to establish a new record in the running broad jump. Gordin of Harvard now holds the honor.

A number of other college stars competing under the colors of various athletic clubs will try to approach world's records in the various events.

MLLE. LENGLEN TO MEET STRONG OPPOSITION IN U. S. TITLE TOURNAMENT

Entry for the women's national tennis championship which opens next Monday at Forest Hills, L. I., have closed. The greatest aggregation of women players in the world is in this country will take part, as will Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the French marvel.

It is certain that one new California factor will attract attention. She is Helen Wills, the 15-year-old girl from San Francisco. She has been the sensation of recent tournaments in the East. With her hair still worn in long braids, she nevertheless has a remarkable control of strokes.

The Eastern entry includes such players as Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup, Mrs. Helen Pollock Falk and Mrs. Dorothy Bundy Knickerbocker. Mary K. Browne, Mrs. Bundy, Helen Wills and others. Joseph M. Jennings of Philadelphia will be the referee of the tournament, and the officials will be furnished by the Tennis Umpires' Association.

"WILD BILL" DONOVAN TO SEE BAKER TUESDAY

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 11.—"Wild Bill" Donovan, deposed manager of the Philadelphia National League baseball club, last night said he had received the telegram which President Baker of the Phillies dispatched to him asking for a conference. Donovan has previously accepted the telegram, but had not yet had time to telephone Baker at Garden City, N. Y., and would see him next Tuesday. The deposed manager declared that he had received the telegram, he would have been here for the conference Tuesday.

Donovan's nonappearance Baker gave out a statement in which he said: "Wild Bill" only connection with the club heretofore was to be called twice a month to draw his salary."

UNCOMMON
JOHN BLAKE

Be An Over-Producer

Many people are looking for employment. All of them can do fairly well what many people can do just as well or better.

Photographers, bookkeepers, clerks and many others are all over-producers. They perform among them, more than any other kind of work than the others.

The operation of the law of supply and demand they find themselves in a position where they are over-producers. They are all over-producers. They perform among them, more than any other kind of work than the others.

There is never an over-supply of anything. And it is efficiency which makes work or keep a situation in a position of general unemployment.

It is useless, merely because there are now there are many super-producers. Photographers and bookkeepers are all over-producers. They perform among them, more than any other kind of work than the others.

Treating Is Not to Blame for This Excessive Drinking

A Short Story in Five Daily Installments.

(Copyright, 1921.)

FOURTH INSTALLMENT.

THE question of baggage had puzzled him from the start. Had the girl been possessed of a grip or bundle of any kind at the time of her death that question would have been answered. But there was absolutely nothing of the sort in her room. Her complete lack of baggage had made him doubt, at first, that she was an out-of-town visitor; but following his recent conclusions, he decided now that directly the opposite was true. She had come to Buffalo with nothing but a trunk; otherwise, he would have taken her hand luggage with her to the Main street rooming house. It remained to find that trunk.

This problem threatened even greater difficulties than any hitherto. The girl had come to Buffalo with nothing but a trunk; otherwise, he would have taken her hand luggage with her to the Main street rooming house. It remained to find that trunk.

Like a flash came the recollection of that key stuck to the bottom of the girl's trunk. Ten minutes later Paul was back at the City Hall.

For a second time he was greeted with laughter by the reporter's squad; again he paid no heed.

"Why, you saw those things and pin and scrap of paper. Probably the girl herself had lost it. But country dressmakers are careful, too; they are not given to losing mittens, especially in cold weather. It was reasonable to believe that she had mislaid it among her belongings; inasmuch as those belongings, according to Paul's logic, were doubtless contained in her trunk, and that trunk probably where the missing mitten would be found. But, after all, had she really brought a trunk with her?

Like a flash came the recollection of that key stuck to the bottom of the girl's trunk. Ten minutes later Paul was back at the City Hall.

For a second time he was greeted with laughter by the reporter's squad; again he paid no heed.

But, after all, had she really brought a trunk with her?

in hand. When he tried to do so his conclusions seemed grotesquely fanciful and far-fetched. This delay was all the more annoying because on the morrow the girl was to be buried, and, therefore, the precious hours were slipping away. He tried repeatedly to attain that abstract, subconscious mood in which alone shines the pure light of inductive reasoning.

"Where is that trunk? Where is that trunk? Where is that trunk?" he repeated, tirelessly. Could it be in some other rooming-house? No. If the girl had disappeared from such a place, leaving her trunk behind, the publicity would have uncovered the fact. It might be lying in the baggage room of some hotel, to be sure; but Paul doubted that, for the same reason. The girl had been poor, too; it was unlikely that she would have gone to a high-priced hotel. Well, he couldn't examine all the baggage in all the cheap hotels of the city—that was evident. Somehow he could not picture that girl in a cheap hotel; she was too fine, too particular. No, it was more likely that she had left her trunk in some railroad station. This was a long chance, but Paul took it.

The girl had come from Canada, therefore Anderson went to the Grand Trunk Railway depot and asked for the baggage-master. There were other roads, but this seemed the most likely.

A raw-boned Irish baggage-master emerged from the confusion, and of a sudden Paul realized the necessity of even greater tact here than he had used with the Scotch girl. For he had no authority of any sort behind him by virtue of which he could demand so much as a favor from a baggage-master.

"G'wan! I thought you wanted a baggage-master," the big fellow replied. "Don't kid me, that is important. 'Shure, I am, but I don't want any accident insurance. I took a chance and I'm game."

"Have you any daughters?" "Two of them. But what's it to you?"

"Suppose one of them disappeared?" The baggage-master seized Anderson by the shoulder; his eyes dilated; with a catch in his voice, he cried: "Love o' God, speak out! What are ye drivin' at?"

"Nothing has happened to your girls, but?"

"Then, what in hell?" "Wait! I had to throw a little scare into you so you'd understand what I'm getting at. Suppose one of your girls lay dead and unidentified in the morgue of a strange city and was about to be buried in the Potter's field. You'd want to know about it, wouldn't you?"

Anderson knelt before the little battered trunk and inserted the key. It was the keenest moment he had ever lived. He turned the key; then he was on his feet, cold, calm, his blue eyes glittering.

"Cut those ropes. Quick!" he ordered. "We're right."

The man at his right whipped out a knife and slashed twice. "Good, close all of you," Paul directed. "And remember everything we find. You may have to testify."

He lifted the lid. On the top of the shallow tray lay a little black yarn mitten, the mate to that one in the city morgue.

Anderson smiled into the faces of the men at his side. "That's it," he said, simply.

The tall Irishman laid a hand on his shoulder, saying: "Yer all right, boy. Don't get rattled."

Paul opened the till and found precisely the paraphernalia he had expected: there were forms, hangers, patterns, yardsticks, and a tape measure. In the compartment beneath were some neatly folded clothes, the needlework of which was fine, and in one corner a bundle of letters which Anderson examined with trembling fingers. They were addressed to "Miss Mabel Wilkes, Highland, Ontario, Canada, Care of Captain Wilkes."

The amateur detective replaced the letters carefully, he closed and locked the trunk; then he thanked his companions.

"If I had a dollar in the world," said he, "I'd ask you boys to have a drink, but I'm broke." Then he began to laugh foolishly, hysterically, until the raw-boned man clapped him on the back again.

"Straighten up, lad. Ye've been strained a bit too hard. I'll telephone for the cops."

MAXIMS of a Modern Maid

By Marguerite Moores Marshall

IT is hard to tell which is having the better time just now—the summer widow who tells the handsome young life-guard that her husband doesn't understand her, or the summer widower who makes the analogous confession to his stenographer.

As long as the girl in the business office can maintain her pose of delighted listener to the boss' funny stories she is sure of her job—whoever else may be "laid off."

After insulting, browbeating and bullying his wife for half an hour a man considers himself mortally injured if she allows him to leave the house without an amiable and affectionate farewell.

Feminists urged the modern wife to become economically independent so that she need not be "tied" to an unkind husband. But it hasn't worked out that way, because when a woman no longer needs her husband's money she usually finds that he needs her—and, whatever his faults, she is "tied" faster than ever.

Universal peace is a beautiful dream—and will remain one so long as the average man is ready to fight if he doesn't get syrup on his griddle cakes or if his wife has forgotten to buy a new jar of pickles.

After a woman has asked her husband not to make her any presents during a period of financial stringency, she usually has the pleasure of seeing him squander on the children more money than her self-denial saved him.

Among grounds for divorce—or legal separation, at least—should be included the innocently sympathetic conjugal greeting: "Well, dear, I suppose it was pretty hot downtown today?"

The Housewife's Scrapbook

WHEN window shades get cracked and faded and quite beyond use, take them from roller and soak in warm water until they are thoroughly softened. Put in boiler in strong suds and boil, changing water when it becomes too much colored. Dry in strong sunlight and they will become white and quite suitable for covering ironing boards and to use as dusters.

Moisten stove polish with coffee instead of water to give a better polish. A few drops of glycerine added will help still more.

When hot fat is spilled on kitchen floor, pour cold water over it at once. This will harden the grease and it can easily be removed.

Add a little ammonia to the water in which silver or glassware is washed to brighten it. The ammonia also lessens the task of washing greasy dishes.

THE artistic possibilities that lie in children's clothes is evident in some of the lovely creations seen this summer. Elegant materials and exquisite hand work characterize some, while others achieve distinction through a novel combination of fabrics and colors.

Colors, indeed, were never in greater vogue than in the summer of 1921. There was a time, however, when there for best wear was considered the only appropriate thing, and all little girls a Sunday looked quite alike.

One of the most modish colors this year is yellow, which is remarkably becoming to the fresh complexions of the tots.

Another smart color is apple green, while such vivid hues as orange and red are not uncommon, the former manifesting itself in simple handkerchief linen, smocks, with plain white collar, while the latter forms gay bindings on white or tan or blue morning dresses, and sometimes as entire frocks in sheer dotted Swiss. The development of kiddie frocks which are individual is the aim of every mother, so I am offering a design today suitable for such dainty fabrics as volles, batiste, organdie and dimity.

The elongated waist is trimmed up the front with five rows of narrow insertion and completed at the base with a pointed section that is hand-embroidered in eyelets. Where it drops into the beltline it is met by a broad panel which drops from the neckline and covers the entire back of the waist, being bloused up under the sash. The color of the sash shows through it, however, and down the center back a line of tiny pearl buttons lends richness. The abbreviated skirt is cut in points and trimmed daintily with the narrow insertion and lace edging. The tiny sleeves are completed in the same way. Pale yellow batiste would be pretty for

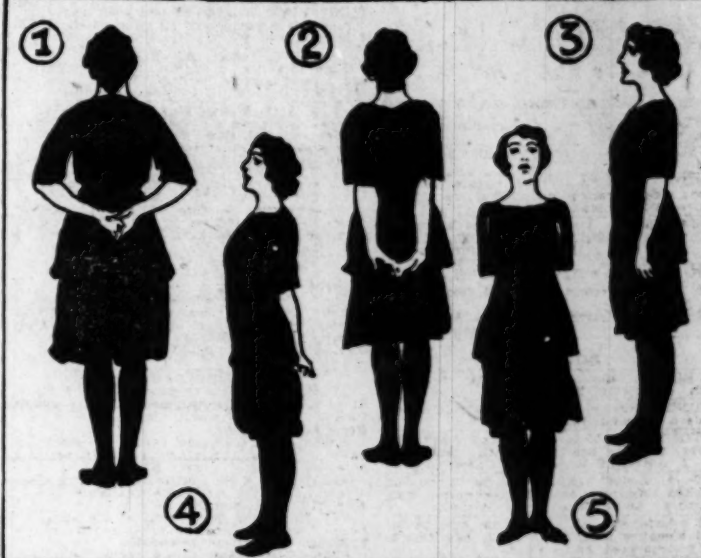

This frock with white embroidery and lace. A sash of yellow and blue Lady Fair ribbon would complete it delightfully.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT IN YOUR HOME

Today's Exercise Draws in the Abdomen, Straightens Round Shoulders and Improves the Carriage.

By DORIS DOSCHER

ONE profound physical distinction between man and the lower animals is the position of the spinal column. Upon its health, flexibility, strength and straightness depends all beauty of form. When once a woman has burdened her back with too much fat she has sacrificed the nimbleness of movement and the flexibility of the cartilage between the vertebrae so that no longer can she twist and bend with the grace and ease that characterize a beautiful woman.

If there is one thing more than another that you must diligently practice, not only in the morning after the trunk twisting exercise, but every spare moment during the day, it is the exercise for the spine which is given in today's lesson. If you find you cannot do it at first that only proves how much fat has accumulated underneath your shoulder blades and down your back, and how much you need this spine drill.

Stand in correct posture. Place your hands behind you as in illustration No. 1, with the back of your hands touching and the fingers interlaced. Twist the hands completely around, thumbs toward the spine, and when you have made the complete revolution with the hands you will be as in illustration No. 2.

All of the exercises that have been given in this column so far have been of the greatest benefit to the stout person, but the exercise I have just described is of equal benefit to man or woman, to young or old, to stout or thin. In fact, it stands alone as the best corrective exercise in any course, it personally has seen results obtained from following this exercise. It cures round shoulders, straightens the spine, develops the chest, pulls back the abdomen and improves the carriage to a greater degree than any other.

Illustration No. 3 shows the body in an incorrectly relaxed standing position. Compare this "slouch," unnatural assumption, with illustration No. 4, which shows your pose after taking the spinal exercise. Note how the body has been pulled up into place and the head has been pulled up and back. The neck seems to have been lengthened, there is a full inch increase in the chest expansion, the sagging muscles of the breast have been pulled up, the diaphragm has been stretched so as to allow for greater deep breathing capacity. The abdomen has been pulled back so as to place all of the internal organs in their proper position.

When you consider all of those benefits gained by one exercise, you will see why I have so urgently requested you to learn to get the full revolution of the hands and shoulders. In illustration No. 5 you have a front view of the person doing this exercise. Look closely again at illustration No. 1 and you will see the round fat back. Now note how that same back has been decreased in illustration No. 2, till it seems almost half its former width.

It doesn't make a bit of difference whether you see the fat woman on the beach, in the ballroom, in a box at the theatre, seated at the banquet table or dancing at a party—one glance at her fleshy back takes away all sense of youthfulness that her costume may have suggested. You know when you see her arms spread out from her sides that as soon as she starts to walk it will be with a swishing carriage. Being fat makes you look so much older than you really are, but the fat back is especially suggestive of age because the spinal column is such an important factor in the human framework.

The slightest derangement of the spinal column upsets the entire nervous system. None of us can be beautiful if our spinal column is not in perfect condition, and you must get rid of the surplus fat on your back if you want your spinal column working perfectly.

Do not permit a round, fat back to mar the contour of what might otherwise be a beautiful, youthful figure.

When the old United States battleship Kearsarge is converted into a floating crane it will become the largest self-propelled piece of hoisting machinery in the world.

Though the quality of the staple is inferior and the yield to the acre small, India ranks next to the United States as a cotton producing country.

China furnishes almost the entire world's supply of aniseed, which is produced in all its southern provinces.

Then very carefully, being as gentle as he could, he released the trap and looked at the injured foot. "That foot has got to be taken care of," said he, "that the one who set this young Heron still wrapped in his coat in such a way that he could breathe but couldn't struggle started for home. With a despairing cry Mrs. Longlegs flew over to the Big River. She had lost all hope, because she didn't understand. But Sammy Jay and Peter Rabbit and Blacky the Crow, who had seen it all, understood and were glad."

And sorrow seems too great to bear.

—Mrs. Heron.

MRS. LONGLEGS the Heron flew but a short distance when Farmer Brown's Boy appeared so unexpectedly just far enough to feel safe. She perched in a tree where she could see all that happened. She felt that she must know what was to become of that young son of hers who was in a cruel trap. She hadn't the smallest doubt that he would be killed. Her experience with these two-legged creatures, like the one now standing looking at the poor young Heron, had been most unpleasant. She had seen many a fine young Duck drop lifeless when one of these creatures had pointed a stick from which sprang fire and smoke. More than once she had seen one pointed at her and had had sharp pains that had made her ill for days afterward. She hated and feared all these two-legged creatures. And when Sammy Jay said that now everything would be all right she didn't believe a word of it.

She saw Farmer Brown's Boy stop and she saw the surprised look on his face as he discovered the young Heron. The truth is Farmer Brown's Boy was surprised. He saw at a glance that that young Heron was practically full grown and he couldn't understand why it hadn't flown when Mrs. Longlegs flew.

He took a step forward. The young Heron spread his broad wings and flapped helplessly in an effort to fly. It ended by falling flat. Instantly Farmer Brown's Boy understood that that Heron was caught by one foot and the look of surprise gave way to one of pity. The young Heron scrambled up and made ready to defend himself. It was quite clear that he intended to fight for his life.

"Stop it, you silly fellow!" cried Sammy Jay. "Farmer Brown's Boy is going to help, not hurt you."

But the young Heron paid no attention. This was one of those terrible two-legged creatures his mother had told him about, worse than Reddy Fox or Old Man Coyote or any other enemy. He was filled with dreadful fear, but he intended to do his best against this enemy. He was no coward.

Farmer Brown's Boy looked at the long, spear-like bill of the young Heron and shook his head. He knew that that bill could be driven with great force by that long neck, and he had no mind to lose an eye. He had heard somewhere that a Heron would strike at the eyes. It might or might not be true, but he didn't intend to take any chances.

He took off his old coat, which, for a wonder, he had with him this morning. He held it in front of him and moved toward the young Heron. The Heron struck once. That was all, just once. Somehow that coat had covered his head so that he was not hurt. Then Farmer Brown's Boy had gathered him, coat and all, under one arm and was looking to see what held that foot.

When he saw that rusty old trap a black scowl darkened the face of Farmer Brown's Boy. "I wish," said he, "that the one who set this was caught in it instead of this poor bird."

Then very carefully, being as gentle as he could, he released the trap and looked at the injured foot. "That foot has got to be taken care of," said he, "that the one who set this young Heron still wrapped in his coat in such a way that he could breathe but couldn't struggle started for home. With a despairing cry Mrs. Longlegs flew over to the Big River. She had lost all hope, because she didn't understand. But Sammy Jay and Peter Rabbit and Blacky the Crow, who had seen it all, understood and were glad."

SOME GOOD CAKES

SPONGE CAKE.

EAT two eggs, add one cup sugar and beat until creamy. Fold in one cup of flour sifted and a teaspoon baking powder and a pinch of salt, a scant half cup boiling water with one teaspoon flavoring. A teaspoon lemon juice or lemon extract is usually used, but some prefer vanilla and sometimes use both lemon and vanilla. Bake in a moderate oven about half hour. The cake will make a nice dessert if cut into square pieces, split and filled with sweetened whipped cream or cream filling. Bake as follows: Boil two cups of milk, mix one cup sugar with half a cup of flour and stir in the milk. Add two well-beaten eggs and stir to taste. Slices of oranges peeled and cut into halves, add a pinch of salt, one teaspoon vanilla and one cup finely chopped nuts.

NUT CAKE.
Cream half a cup of butter, add one cup sugar and beat well, then add two beaten eggs, one cup flour, two and a half cups flour sifted with three teaspoons baking powder and a pinch of salt, one teaspoon vanilla and one cup finely chopped nuts.

MARBLE CAKE.
Use same recipe as given above for cake, omitting the nuts. When mixed take out part of the batter and stir in sufficient cocoa to tint the batter. Then put a layer of white mixture into baking pan and over this spread the dark batter. Bake in a moderate oven about half an hour. Test with broom straw before taking out.

APPLE SAUCE CAKE.
Cream one cup sugar and half a cup of butter. Stir in one cup unsifted apple sauce in which one teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved, a pinch of salt, two cups of flour and half a cup of cocoa. If preferred, spices may be substituted for the cocoa. Take one teaspoon of cinnamon, a half a teaspoon of cloves and a quarter of a teaspoon of nutmeg. Bake in slow oven.

BLUEBERRY SALLY LUNN.
Cream together 3 tablespoonsful of softened shortening and 1/2 cup of sugar and add 2 lightly beaten eggs, 1/2 teaspoonful of salt, 1/2 cup of milk and 2 cups of flour sifted with 4 teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat the mixture until full of bubbles and stir in 1 cup of blueberries. Bake in shallow greased pan in a rather slow oven. Serve cut in squares.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY
By James J. Montague.

THE UNFAILING SYMPTOM.

When you're prone to complain
That the neighbor's small boys
Will drive you insane
With their racket and noise;
When your fortitude fails,
And you grumble and roar
At the nocturnal wails
Of the baby next door,
When you frequently swear
That the world is all wrong,
You'd best have a care:
You are getting along.

When you fume and you fret
And your nerves get unstrung,
When you often forget
That you ever were young;
When you growl at your wife,
And you snarl at the cook,
And the troubles of life
Seem too dreadful to brook,
When you howl when it's hot
And complain when it's cold, Deny it or not—
You've begun to get old.

Last symptom of all—
If you find that your glance
If it happens to fall
On a flapper, by chance, Takes in all the features
Of coiffure and dress,
That causes the preachers
The keenest distress,
And the sight's so upsetting
Your eyes won't believe;
Be warned! you are getting
One foot in the grave!

BANKRUPTCY SUIT IS FILED AGAINST
G. V. HALLIDAY

Stock and Bond Broker Alleged to Be Insolvent and to Have Paid Bills to Preferred Creditors.

CREDITORS OF FIRM TO MEET TOMORROW

Debit Slips for About $75,000 Held by Persons Who Turned Over Money to Concern to Invest.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed this afternoon against George V. Halliday, doing business as G. V. Halliday & Co., 115 Arcade Building, stock and bond broker, whose clients have been demanding an accounting of the firm's business affairs.

The petitioners are Buschart Bros.
Printing Co., for a printing bill of $472.35; F. W. Drosten Jewelry Co., $112.95 for merchandise, and the Finance and Mortgage Corporation, $428.75 for office rent. They are represented by T. J. Hoolan, an attorney in the Central National Bank Building.

It is alleged in the petition that Halliday is insolvent and has paid several bills to preferred creditors, thus committing acts of bankruptcy.

Creditors to Meet Tomorrow.
A meeting of Halliday's creditors will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in rooms 512-15 Arcade Building, with a view to devising ways by which money given to the firm with which to purchase securities may be recovered.

The creditors have only debit slips to show for approximately $75,000 entrusted to the firm for investment in securities that are said not to have been delivered.

Edward Forstet, chairman of a committee of attorneys representing Halliday's clients, said Halliday told him that losses suffered in "bad speculation" were responsible for the firm's troubles, and that he hoped to reimburse the creditors.

The state of Halliday's business affairs was disclosed yesterday when Mrs. L. C. Reilly, 4425 Forest Park boulevard, one of the creditors, went before Assistant Circuit Attorney Garstang and asked for a warrant for Halliday, alleging that between April 1 and June 23 she entrusted the firm with $4000 to invest, for which she has only receipts, signed by a salesman, to show for her investment. At the request of Forstet, who said he had an arrangement with Halliday by which it was hoped he would raise $25,000 for the creditors by Saturday, the warrant was not issued. Mrs. Reilly said she had repeatedly demanded securities for her money, but always was put off with some excuse.

Many Women Creditors.
Forstet said Halliday's method of doing business seemed to be to accept money from clients for the purchase of securities on a commission basis and then to put off delivery of the securities. He said about 10 creditors in St. Louis were holding only debit slips to show for their investments, and a large number of these were women and persons unused to securities investment.

Halliday received a Post-Dispatch reporter in his offices in the Arcade Building yesterday and admitted that he was being pressed by creditors.
He is about 30 years old, and said he had been in the stock and bond brokerage business several years. He recently purchased a home in Webster Groves, which he said was covered with mortgages, and for this reason he got it at a bargain price.

"My affairs are in fairly good shape just now," he explained, "and I am not going out of business. I can make good the losses that resulted from exchanging bonds for stocks that have slumped, and I have a $10,000 equity in a bank that can be realized on if I am granted time to adjust my affairs. There is nothing irreparable in what I have done."

Investigation Committee Named.
At a meeting Thursday in the Arcade Building of about 50 of the firm's clients, including many women, the committee of attorneys was appointed. Most of the investors. It was shown there, had entrusted sums ranging from $500 to $5000 to Halliday for investment in securities.
In most instances, it was stated, the securities had not been delivered.

Following this meeting Forstet, Henry Furth and William Bohnenland, the committee, interviewed Halliday and a plan was evolved by which he was to raise $25,000 in a few days and reimburse his clients further in monthly installments of $1000.

The offices were open for business as usual today. Halliday conferred with his attorneys, Morris G. Levinson, after which Levinson stated that his client would remain in business and by a substantial cash payment and notes over a period of time satisfactory to them.
